MISS BILLIE BURKE HAS NATION-WIDE FOLLOWING

Charming Paramount Star Soon to Be Seen in "Let's Get a Divorce."

Among the film luminaries now before the public, few have the following won by Billie Burke, the dainty, magnetic Paramount star, who is to be seen here in "Let's Get a Divorce," her latest Paramount vehicle, adapted by John Emerson and Anita Loos from Victorien Sardou's celebrated play, "Divorcee." Miss Burke achieved a triumph in her recent Paramount play, "Eve's Daughter," but it is safe to say that her characterization in "Let's Get a Divorce," that of a convent-bred English girl of a romantic temperament, will rank as one of her best photographs.

In this sterling photo comedy, Miss Burke has the role of Cyprienne Marcey, a girl living in a convent in Southern France, who, to relieve the monotony of her convent life, indulges in numerous harmless flirtations. She meets and loves Henri de Prunelles, a writer, and becomes his wife. When Henri lapses into the humdrum existence of the ordinary husband, her romantic disposition finds relief in a flirtation with Adhemar, an officer of the Forestry service. Believing herself to be madly in love with him she begs her husband to give her a divorce in order that she may become Adhemar's wife. This he apparently consents to do, but with the aid of her sister, Yvonne, he plots to destroy her infatuation for Adhemar and win her more firmly for himself.

This is accomplished in a series of scenes as dramatic as they are charming. "Let's Get a Divorce," will be presented at the Pastime theater Sunday and Monday.

Alta Sunday and Monday; Bathing Suits and Love Theme of "Venus Model."

Another link will be added to the chain of affection which binds Mabel Normand to the hearts of the public when the vivacious little Goldwyn star comes to the Alta theater in "The Venus Model" beginning Sunday.

There is the simplest of all reasons for this. Mabel Normand surpasses all other favorites as a comedienne of a different sort, and in "The Venus Model" she is given the opportunity to do the very things in which she has no equal.

She is Kitty O'Brien, a humble worker in a bathing suit factory, who designs a fetching swimming costume which revolutionizes the bathing business of Bradstock & Company and gives her the position of chief designer. It is "The Venus Model." But with success come troubles. Kitty befriends a little girl whom she protects from her never do-well father and is forced to pay the man money in order to keep the child. Her employer is away for his health as a result of worry over his pleasure-loving son and Kitty wants to awaken the young man to a sense of his responsibilities.

A letter she writes does this. He comes to the office and is given work by Kitty. In ignorance of his identity until she extricates him from a difficulty involving some compromising letters. She makes a business man of him, but refuses to listen when he declares his love. Kitty thinks that she is unworthy. Her realization of the truth comes when Paul attacks the little girl's father when he is bearing the child away. As Paul has wounded Kitty, she loves him.

BRITAIN SPENDING $25,000 A MINUTE TO MAINTAIN WAR

Empire's Debt Increased 12 Times Still is Insolvent.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The war is costing the people of Great Britain $24,000,000 a day, or $1,455,000 every hour, or nearly $25,000 a minute, according to a statement prepared by the imperial authorities.

"After four years of exhausting war, Britain's credit is still unimpaired. Her silver bullets are being turned out by the hundred million, and every one is finding its billet. Her people are cheerfully bearing the ever increasing strain which has been placed upon their shoulders and will spare no efforts in blood or treasure till victory is assured."

"Britain's national debt has increased during the war from $3,225,000,000 to $39,900,000,000, or in excess of twelve times over, and yet she is paying all—and much more than all—her debt charges out of current taxation, while the new taxation raised by Gergany is not enough to pay the interest accumulated upon her debt."

"Before the war the people of Britain paid taxes amounting to approximately $1,000,000,000 a year; today they are paying taxes of $3,170,000,000 annually. In spite of this, Great Britain raised her third war loan of $5,000,000,000—a sum equal to nearly half her entire national income in 1914."

"Great Britain is now spending $9,345,000,000 a year on her army, her navy, her air services and her munitions factories and supplies, but despite this colossal financial burden, she has advanced loans to her allies amounting in the aggregate to $3,160,000,000."

Charge of Long Range Shells Mixed in Flight

PARIS, Aug. 3.—That the brunt of long range shells from the German long-range guns is mixed while the projectiles are in actual flight is the belief of French scientists, according to a technical journal published here.

When the shelling of Paris began it was noticed that the explosion of a shell produced a cloud of black smoke mixed with a little that was white and accompanied by a strong smell of ether. Recently the smoke has been entirely white and very light the ether odor persisting.

No shell that failed to explode has been found, nor even an entire fuse, indicating how delicate and reliable the explosive is. This fact leads experts to suppose that the shell is charged with two liquid explosives, separated by the perforated partition which is known to exist in the center of the projectile.

When the shell is fired at a high angle the liquid in the upper chamber combines with that in the lower chamber, and, churned by the violent rotation, produces at the moment of impact three minutes later, a perfect mixture. This would explain, it is said, the ability of the charge to resist the enormous shock when fired and the remarkable uniformity of the explosions.

KING OF ITALY WILL WELCOME U. S. TROOPS WITH THE ITALIAN ARMIES IN THE FIELD, AUG. 3—King Victor Emmanuel was scheduled to review the American troops today. Gen. Diaz, in a special order of the day, eloquently announced the arrival of the Americans. The population of several towns in Northern Italy gave them an enthusiastic reception.

GERMANY IS TRYING TO CHARTER SHIPS

Long Period Contracts for After War Sought in Norway.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—German interests are attempting to get control of Norwegian ships for a long period after the war. A German firm of shipping brokers recently sent the following offer to Norwegian ship owners:

"For some special friends who are absolutely first class, I want some neutral boats of any size in time charter for long periods, as much as four years after the war, the charterers being willing to pay for prompt steamers 22 marks per ton per month. The owner will be free from all expenses and insurance premiums, a German captain and the crew to be hired by the charterer."

The Norwegian Trade and Shipping Journal takes a decided stand against this practice which, as far as the captain is concerned, is against Norwegian law. The paper thinks German captain and crew provisions are perhaps due to give German sailors employment, so that this class of people shall no decrease before ships lost by Germany during the war can be replaced.

The Journal says "there are offers on the market from other sides for after the war, without odious conditions and good freights are offered. However, it continues, a too extended time charter for a lengthy period after the war would deprive of the right of disposing of ships when they might still be a rare commodity in great demand.

Hun Officers Count Under Ether to Avoid Giving Information

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE AISNE-MARNE FRONT, AUG. 3.—Brought to an American dressing station on the banks of the Oureq, a wounded German captain kept repeating, "One, two, three" monotonously. An inquiry to a nurse elicited this explanation:

"Oh all those German officers do that."

"You see," said the nurse, who was administering ether preliminary to an operation on the German officer, "an average person talks when under the anesthetic. It is like talking in your sleep. The Germans know this and avoid officers who get gone under the ether while counting. The result is, that instead of talking and giving information, they keep right on counting."

SUGAR PRICE TO BE RAISED CENT A POUND

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—An increase to the consumer of 1 cent a pound in the price of sugar is indicated in a statement issued here Tuesday by George M. Rolph, chairman of the international sugar committee, after a conference with representatives of the Cuban government. Sugar authorities of the Cuban and American governments will meet in Washington next week to decide on the 1919 prices.

Mr. Rolph made public a brief prepared by the Cuban government, stating increases in cost of production of the 1919 crop. He said the committee recognized the need of meeting this higher cost.
