German Press Laments Habit of Speaking That Filthy English Language

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 22.—What the newspapers characterize as "the filthy and treacherous" "penitonic habit of speaking English" instead of good, honest, beautiful German" is condemned by the Cologne Volkszeitung, thus:

"Thousands among us would rather tie their tongues into a knot over an 'Irish stew' than use the good German word 'supplisch.' Is it really indispensable that the English should teach us how to eat and drink?"

"In our dwelling houses there are 'stores,' there is a 'diningroom,' we still encumber ourselves with 'shawls,' 'slips,' 'sweaters' and other 'fashionable' things. The German young woman knows exactly what is 'fair' and what is 'shocking.' Her school friend addresses her as 'my dear,' and the honest German 'handtrack' is denuded into 'stake hands.'"

"At parting it sounds so much more distinguished to say 'farewell' than 'Aufewohl,' an on returning it is the correct thing to say 'how do you do,' in answer to which instantly comes the retort, 'very well,' which is supposed to be more cordial than our 'goodnight.'"

"These lamentable lapses could be multiplied into the infinite, for there is not a single department of German life which they have not invaded. German people, pray, oh pray do honor our own glorious German mother tongue and uproot the rapid English from your memory."

"HOBO KING" TO URGE THAT BUMS BE PUT TO WORK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Jeff Davis ("Hobo King") blew into town to interest General Crowder to get work for the country's "bums."

"You see," said Jeff, "the difference between the hobo, tramp and bum is that the first can and does work, the second can and will work if he has to, and the third won't work."

"Now, thirty thousand hoboes are working for their country today. They've gone out of our ranks into the army and navy. This work-or-fight law will even a majority of the tramps, but the bum—the older bird, who frequents the barroom and mistons, a drag on society—we've got to get him."

"I'm going to see General Crowder and try to get him interested in having these bums put at work peeling potatoes and doing jobs around railroads."

"I may free the soldiers from this stuff and let the bums do it."

LALLEY-LIGHT

THE BALL-BEARING ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT

Lalley-Light furnishes two sources of light and power in the one plant.

The machine itself is one; the storage battery is the other. Light used direct from the generator is as steady and strong and brilliant as from the battery.

This is an advantage not usually found.

It is due to the fact that the patented Lalley-Light engine is especially designed and built to drive an electric generator.

It is worth a great deal to the man who must have light and power that are wholly reliable.

We will demonstrate Lalley-Light, free. Call for the book of owners' testimonials.

4 NOTED AMERICANS ON MOTOR JAUNT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Somewhere on the dusty roads of Maryland today a motor caravan is speeding on a jaunting, carrying with it millions of dollars' worth of brains, genius and talent.

The makeup of the party is: Thomas A. Edison, electric wizard; Henry Ford, of Jitney fame; J. Burroughs, naturalist, and Edward N. Hurley, shipping board chairman.

Resting from their war service they have started from Pittsburg, en route for the mountains of Eastern Tennessee. Their caravan carries the comforts of home and a chef who never knew that folks have indigestion.
