church, in which a fund of $80,000, of which $40,000,000 is already pledged, is to be raised as a fund for spreading the gospel of the church. On this subject Bishop Stuntz talked of the "World Opportunity for Church Service." He said he is an extensionist and believes in the spreading of the church work over the world, and while there may be a million reasons for failure to do this there could not be a single excuse.

Rev. W. H. Fry spoke of the work of the church in Hawaii, followed by a discussion of "Centenary" plans by Dr. Harry Palmer.

Rev. Doctors C. E. Cline and John Parsons of Portland, were presented to the conference during the morning. They are here in the interest of securing the assistance of the Columbia River conference in preparing an adequate history of the Methodist Episcopal church in the Northwest, from the time of Jason Lee, who established the first mission in the territory in 1824 to the present time. Revs. Frank Spaulding, Harrison, Ida.; G. W. Kennedy, Hood River; Dr. Dr. Harry Brown, ex-presiding elder, Stockton, Wash., were named as a committee to aid in the work.

CAMP LEWIS BAND, 50 PIECES, HERE FOR THE ROUND-UP Definite arrangements have been made for the Camp Lewis military band of 50 pieces to be in Pendleton for the Round-Up. The band will arrive in a special Pullman the day before the opening of the Round-Up. This is the substance of a wire received this morning by W. L. Thompson, county chairman of the Liberty Loan campaign, from Milton Kepper, state manager of speakers for the Liberty Loan.

A reception committee will be appointed and every effort made to make the stay of the band in Pendleton a pleasant one.

The Camp Lewis band is one of the very best musical organizations in the Northwest today. From the fact that the Round-Up this year is being given as a benefit for the Red Cross, and the time will be made a place for advertising the fourth Liberty Loan, a government order permitting the band to come to Pendleton has been made.

PATRIOTIC FEATURE AMONG NEW PLANS FOR HAPPY CANYON
Canoes Will Travel Along Real Stream in Improved Display.

The program at Happy Canyon this year, while retaining some of the features that have proved so popular in other years, will be varied by some numbers entirely new. A patriotic feature, the exact nature of which is not yet to be told, is being planned by Director Roy Raley.

The scenic effects are to be superior even to those of last year. The transformation scene, by which the foreground changes from a rocky hillside to a western street all in the space of a few seconds, will be retained and there will in addition be a real stream of water along, which canoes will travel. Real fir trees will take the place of painted trees and there will be a waterfall, mountain trails and other features to heighten the natural effects.
