ENEMY STAND ON LYS RIVER OVERWHELMED

BRITISH CROSS ALONG WHOLE FRONT, ESTABLISH BRIDGEHEADS, AND PUSH HUNS FROM BORDER

Troops Approaching Stmand and Scheldt Defense Line, Take 3,000 Yesterday, 6,200 in Week.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Haig today reported the British are approaching Stmand, eight miles northwest of Valenciennes. Contact with the enemy is being maintained. The British are also nearing the Scheldt line above Tournai. He said the British took over 3,000 prisoners yesterday above Le Cateau.

RESISTANCE STIFF. Haig reported, "The number of prisoners taken in operation yesterday above Le Cateau now exceeds 3,000. Enemy positions on the Selle river were of great natural strength and were held resolutely. Our attack was launched by English, Scottish and Welsh troops, at 2 in the morning under the most unfavorable weather conditions, continuous rain rendering the advance most difficult. Fighting was heavy all day, the enemy offering strong resistance in villages along the railway. Tanks gave great assistance in overcoming this resistance. They succeeded in fording to the river's east bank early despite its flooded condition. Bridges were rapidly constructed under heavy fire from hostile ar-

GERMAN REPLY MOMENTARILY AWAITED, UNOFFICIAL TEXT IN HANDS OF WILSON, LANSING

Reported Answer Assumes Evacuation Means Armistice, Protests Against Allied Reprach for Inhumanities.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The German reply will be here soon. The state department was thus reliably informed today. The Swiss legation has not yet communicated with the department. The news has come reliably through other channels.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(Received 2:15 o'clock.) It is authoritatively stated that the German answer "appears" to be an awkward acceptance of Wilson's decision, and that it "appears" to raise no controversial points. It was declared emphatically, however, that Wilson emphasized the point that he could not pass on a T-ton proposal to the allies until occupied territory is evacuated. This still is the most important point.

Safeguards "Honor." The German government suggests to the President that an opportunity be brought about for fixing the details of an armistice. "The German government trusts the President will approve of no demand which should be irreconcilable with the honor of the

LESLIE GIBBS PARTICIPATES IN THRILLING SEA ADVENTURE

Leslie Gibbs, Pendleton boy who is chief yeoman of the U. S. S. Natchon, writes to Miss Thelma Thompson, of this city, the thrilling story of a near wreck during a heavy gale on the Pacific ocean, and of how his ship, sent out to rescue a steamer in a storm, almost went under. Another letter to his mother, Mrs. Florence Spere, of this city, told that he reached San Diego Oct. 12, after being found by a submarine chaser. Following are extracts from his letter to Miss Thompson, written in the cove where the boat finally found shelter.

"We received word that a ship was in distress 200 miles away and it took us 24 hours to reach her. But when we arrived there was nothing left of the ship but the bow; there was no sign of life or wreckage. It was a gruesome sight and I could have cried to think of the people who went down.

"The sea at this time was a raging torrent; we tried to make anchor but there were no ports close. At 10 o'clock on the night of the 15th the wind was blowing 150 miles an hour and every life boat was washed away. Everyone had a life preserver but it

FOURTH LOAN CAMPAIGN OVER; MOST SUCCESSFUL IN UMATILLA COUNTY

The last man in order to reach the quota. The system employed sacrificed speed and publicity to equity and efficiency. The state committee at the outset was informed that this county would make no effort to be the first or the first over the top. We sounded all depths and shoals of such honest early in the war and found them not worth the price. In the Second Liberty Loan this county went three quarters of a million dollars beyond the quota and there was no semblance of equity in the distribution of the subscriptions. Shortly before the Third Loan the Patriotic Service League was organized and in the campaign there was at least a beginning made upon a systematic and thorough campaign. The system has been developed since then and bore fruit in the campaign just closed.

LESLIE O. TOOZE KILLED BY SNIPER

Lieutenant Leslie Tooze, one of the Tooze twins, well known throughout the state and a visitor several times in this city, was killed by a German sniper September 28, according to a cablegram received by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Tooze of Salem, sent by his twin brother, Lieutenant Lamar Tooze who is also seeing active service in France. Leslie Tooze will be remembered here in Pendleton as the manager of the University of Oregon glee club, and the winner of the junior cup at the university. At the conclusion of his studies at Oregon in 1916, he went to Harvard and won the Real prize for the best first year law student. He received his commission at the front, while his brother was made lieutenant at the same time at the first Plattsburg camp. Both were promoted to first lieutenants after joining each other at Camp Lewis. An older brother, Captain Walter L. Tooze, Jr., is also in army service. The cable message stated that Lieutenant Tooze showed conspicuous gallantry in the battle in which he lost his life. The young man was 23 years of age. He was accorded a military funeral in France.
