CONTROL DOUBTFUL

Republican Chairman Hays this morning declared the republicans gained seven senators and 22 representatives. He said this gives the republicans a majority of three in the senate and 55 in the house. Telegrams to Hays said the republicans gained senators in Colorado, Missouri, Idaho, Kansas, Illinois, Delaware and New Hampshire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—An early count indicates the democrats gained one congressman in California. Henry Hawson, democrat, is leading Harbour, republican, in the seventh district.

Socialist Carries Milwaukee. MILWAUKEE, Nov. 6.—Former Socialist Representative Berger is elected from this district by 5000 plurality, defeating Representative Stafford, republican, and Carney, democrat.

Champ Clark Leads. LOUISIANA, Mo., Nov. 6.—Incomplete returns from all counties of the ninth district reflect Champ Clark by 2,500.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 6.—Both democratic congressional candidates took the lead away from the republicans with additional returns today. Senator Walsh, democrat, was 1489 ahead of Landstrum, republican.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6.—The republicans gained one house seat in Maryland. The next delegation from here will be evenly divided between the major parties.

Ford Gaining. DETROIT, Nov. 6.—Henry Ford's big gains around Detroit are rapidly diminishing Newberry's upstate lead. Ford's managers claim Ford's election by 7,000. They say he now leads by 2,000 in their private count. Newberry claims a 25,000 majority.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—Governor Cox's lead has increased to 29,126 over Willis, republican.

Weeks Defeated. BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Complete state returns have given David Walsh, democrat, for senator a plurality of 18,900 over Senator Weeks, republican.

DENVER, Nov. 6.—The race is close for senator between Senator Shafer, democrat, incumbent, and Lawrence Phipps, millionaire philanthropist, republican. Phipps carried Denver by 6000, but Shafer claims that returns from the state will elect him. Oliver Shoup, Colorado Springs millionaire is apparently elected governor. The republicans gained one and probably two seats in congress.

Indiana Republican. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 6.—Indiana republicans gained four congressmen, according to early returns, making a solid congressional delegation.

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 6.—Two hundred and thirty four complete precincts give Doyle, democrat 8545, Frazier, republican non-partisan, 7,760.

SPOKANE, Nov. 6.—The republicans gained one house seat in Washington by electing Stanley Webster over Representative Dill, by a 2,500 majority. All other republican congressmen were elected.

Illinois Shifts. CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Representative McCormick's (republican) victory over Senator Lewis (democrat) proved the only important Illinois shift in the "national" legislative balance. Backed by Wilson's personal endorsement Lewis obtained a handsome majority in Chicago, which McCormick overturned by an unprecedented downstate lead.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 6.—Senator Walsh, Democrat, is this afternoon leading Landstrum, Republican, for the senate by nearly 4000.

JAPAN MAY TALK AT PEACE TABLE

TOKIO, Oct. 31.—(By Mail)—Japan's chief goal at the peace conference should be to obtain an open door for immigration to Australia, India, Canada and the United States, writes E. Ueyhara, member of parliament, in "Japan and the Japanese," a popular fortnightly magazine of Tokio. Ueyhara was a member of the

Good Picking

The youngster's idea of "goodies" made with Kream Krisp is to get his hands on them. Mother's idea is to use nothing but Kream Krisp for shortening and frying. She said so at the last meeting of her cooking club. That the members unanimously adopted her idea is evident by the following endorsements she has received from them:

- "Kream Krisp is the most economical shortening on the market."
- "In all my recipes I use less Kream Krisp than I ever did butter or lard, and get more satisfactory results."
- "I can always depend on my baking being successful because measurements with Kream Krisp are accurate, making the results uniform and sure."
- "I am for Kream Krisp because it doesn't smoke up or leave any odor in my kitchen."
- "I use my Kream Krisp again and again, because no matter what I fry in it, it doesn't absorb the flavor. And after straining it I can put it back into the can as good as new."
- "I don't think I could make creamy, fluffy cakes or rich, flaky pie crust without using Kream Krisp."

Try Kream Krisp today, and your own uses of it will O. K. these endorsements.

parliamentary commission which visited America early this year.

"In England, the League of Nations theory is finding strong support," realized when Britain, which possesses so much of the earth, adopts an exclusive policy in her own territory. Should all the natural resources in British possessions be monopolized permanently by their own nationals, it would be inevitable that the non-British nations would pursue a militaristic aggressive policy against her."

Restoration after the war, Lord Derby thinks should include the rebuilding of roads and commerce, the rejuvenation of mines, factories and agricultural regions.

But he would leave the crumbling, shell-shattered towers and walls of cathedrals and churches just as they are. He would lay no restoring hand on the ruins of homes and castles. He would leave each torn chateau just as it sagged under Hun shells—leave each ruined village a faithful picture of Hun frightfulness.

No very high bids are being made for the crown prince's chances of sitting on the throne of Prussia or wedding his father's club over the German empire.

Average citizens would bear with equanimity the threatened scarcity of soft shells if somebody would put more hen's eggs into circulation.

DON'T REBUILD BELGIUM SAYS BRITISH NOBLE

PARIS, Oct. 30.—Hon-bearded ruins of northern France and Belgium should be left as they are—memorials to the heroic dead.

The suggestion comes from Lord Derby, British ambassador to France.

CRIPPLED MEN EAGER TO WORK

PARIS, Nov. 2.—Soldiers mutilated in the war are child-like in their joy over being able, after long periods of suffering and uselessness, to earn money again.

A refugee from the north of France, mutilated in the second year of the war, was employed in whitewash a Red Cross hut at Privas. Tears were in his eyes as the matron gave him 15 francs.

"Thank you, madame! God bless you! This is the first money I have earned for two years!"

"The small boy wonders if his mother will ever get over being surprised at the illness he does.

If we could just find money as easily as we find fault we would all be millionaires in a short time.
