Lo, now they call from many murdered lands,
 From many crosses black against the sky!
 See, Lord, again thy day of agony—
 The crowns of thorns, the bleeding feet and hands!
 See where the hosts, unnumbered as the sands
 Of ocean, make each hill a Calvary,
 And hear again thine own last bitter cry
 Arise to Him who hears and understands!

We know He walks alive amidst the slain,
 As in the hour the graves were opened wide;
 Darkness! The temple veil is rent in twain,
 The powers of Hell are vanquished and defied,
 And crucified Mankind looks not its vain
 For freedom to the Man once crucified!

"WITHOUT CAVIL"

POLITICS like the weather is to be taken as it comes. We have seasons of drought and seasons of surplus rain. The wise man accepts the situation and tries to get all the good he can from it, no matter how he feels. The results Tuesday are not gratifying to those who wanted to see President Wilson given a thoroughgoing endorsement. Yet the verdict is not entirely against him. There seems hope of a democratic senate in which case the national election might be considered a mixed verdict with the republicans enjoying the satisfaction of realizing that they made the greater gains.

The Portland Oregonian says the result was due to the President's appeal which roused republicans from apathy and brought out a heavy vote from them with results that are known. If this is the case very well. The damage, however, was not done by the President's appeal but by the false interpretation placed upon that appeal by the opposition press. The Portland Oregonian did its utmost along that line as perhaps good administration papers would have done also had the situation been the reverse. All men are liars though they don't intend to be and the same is true of newspapers.

If the election was swung because of a blunder we will have to wait and see who makes the next mistake. Meanwhile the most pressing question is what we shall do with the kaiser.

TOO MUCH AT ONE TIME

WE had the experience yesterday with the plan of holding municipal elections on the same day as the general election. The result was much confusion for the voter, difficulty in mastering the problems before him, much extra work for the judges and a decided new burden on the press in gathering returns. The new arrangement cannot help but result in neglect of some of the duties faced by the voter. It is hard enough, often for a citizen to form intelligent conclusions with reference to subjects presented by the general election without having to wrestle at the same time with municipal problems. Numerous cases have come to light wherein voters through lack of understanding voted the wrong way on the Standard Oil Co. ordinance referendum. Some who meant to vote no voted yes and vice versa.

Why should it be necessary to hold both elections simultaneously? In private business a man does not attempt to solve all his problems at one fell swoop. He could not do so and exercise the necessary judgment required. Why should the state expect the voter to decide all his city, county, district, state and national issues at one sitting?

HOLD YOUR BONDS

THE wide distribution among millions of American citizens of Liberty loan bonds makes our Liberty loans, according to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo's expressed opinion, the soundest of national financing. That these bonds be kept widely distributed amongst the American people is of great importance to the Nation and to the individual holders of the bonds.

United States government bonds in the past have gone above par, as high as $139 for a $100 4 per cent bond. That Liberty bonds will go well above par when peace comes is very probable. Holding one's Liberty bonds, therefore, is wise as well as patriotic. Every holder of a Liberty

CHILDREN OF FRANCE ARE BROUGHT BACK TO HEALTH.

American doctors and nurses are building up the health of the women and children of France. Non-combatant victims of war, easy prey to illness through undernourishment, are being cared for. The American Red Cross has rescued hundreds in its fight against tuberculosis. The manor house of Hachette, near Paris, has been converted into a hospital for tubercular women. On the grounds barracks have been built accommodating 150 children. The latter are brought from bad living conditions in the city, where undernourishment and tubercular tendencies were sapping their lives, to the outdoor treatment at Hachette. A child can practically be cured in three months. Every afternoon the youngsters are given a bowl of fresh milk. Their cure is mostly play in the open air.

loan bond should heed the caution to hold to his or her bonds, because there are going to be great efforts by shrewd and unscrupulous people to buy or secure at inadequate prices these bonds from holders who are not well informed as to stock and bond values.

Worthless or near-worthless stock or stock of only speculative value—"wildcat stocks" they are called—are going to be offered for Liberty bonds. Some will be urged not to sell or exchange their Liberty bonds but to buy the stock and give the Liberty bonds as security for the purchase price. This is a camouflaged attempt to get Liberty bonds in exchange for the stock of their companies.

If every holder of a Liberty bond will consult a bank before he disposes of it, the get-rich-quick concerns will not prosper, but the individual bondholders will, and the American people as a whole will be benefited.

28 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. WILD returned today from Portland, ME. WILD is employed in the Pendleton depot.

No candidates have yet appeared for mayor. In this case the officer will probably be forced to seek the man.

Dr. H. A. Garfield returned to Pendleton this morning after several years' absence and will probably locate here as a physician. His old friends say they are glad to hear of his determination.
