SURRENDER COMPLETE

GERMANY MUST PAY FOR DAMAGES DONE, EVACUATION INCLUDES RHINE'S LEFT BANK

ABANDON VAST GUNS, MATERIAL, TERRITORY, AIR AND SEACRAFT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—President Wilson told congress and world the terms that Germany has accepted with the armistice. The terms pictured Germany surrendering abjectly to Foch in the field her armies beaten, her government overturned and her once master in flight. A small crowd heard the President's burning words but enthusiasm ran riot. The terms follow:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—(10:10 A. M.)—The armistice terms include the evacuation of invaded territory including Alsace-Lorraine and Luxemburg.

- The surrender of a vast amount of guns and equipment.
- The evacuation of the left bank of the Rhine.
- The unconditional surrender of all German forces in east Africa.
- Reparation for damages done.
- The surrender of a score of U-boats and battleships.
- The concentration of aircraft at stipulated points.
- Reparation for all allied and United States vessels destroyed.
- Duration of the armistice 30 days.
- The terms abandonment of Bucharest and Brest treaties, evacuation of all Black sea ports.

The evacuating of Alsace-Lorraine, Luxemburg and the occupied territory must be completed within 14 days. Occupation by allies and the United States forces jointly will keep pace with the evacuation. All inhabitants of evacuated territory must be repatriated within 14 days. The German army must surrender in good condition 5000 guns, heavy and field pieces, 30,000 machine guns, 3000 minewarfer and 2000 airplanes. The evacuated territory on the Rhine's left bank will be administered by the local authorities under allied and United States control. The allies will hold principal crossings of the Rhine and Mayence Coblenz and Cologne with the bridgeheads at these points. The wide strip along the Rhine's right bank becomes a neutral zone. Eleven additional days are allowed for the evacuation of the Rhinelands. The evacuating armies shall not harm or evacuate the territories' inhabitants. All food and livestock to be left behind. Germany must deliver 5000 locomotives, 50,000 wagons, 10,000 motor lorries within 14 days. The Alsace-Lorraine railways are surrendered within the same period. The Germans are responsible for leaving all mines. The allies can requisition from Germany for the upkeep of the allied armies.

FINANCIAL CONDITIONS.

Reparation for damage done. The enemy to remove during the armistice no public securities which can serve as a pledge for the recovery of allied war losses. The immediate restoration of the cash deposit in the Belgian National Bank, the immediate return of all documents, specie, stocks, share, paper money, the restitution of Russian and Rumanian gold yielded to Germany delivered in trust to the allies until peace is signed.

NAVAL CONDITIONS.

The immediate cessation of naval hostilities, definite information of German ship movements, surrender to the associated powers of 100 submarines with their complete armament and equipment. All other submarines to be paid off and completely dismantled and placed under allied supervision. Disarm and intern in neutral ports six battle cruisers, ten battleships, eight light cruisers, fifty most modern destroyers. All other surface warships, including river craft to be concentrated in German naval bases and paid off, completely dismantled and

EXTENSION OF NAVY PROCEEDS FOR POLICING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Secretary Daniels today announced the extension of the American navy will proceed despite the armistice. The United States fleet will bear the heavy burden of policing the world in the future and must be extended accordingly.

KAISER FLEES. IS NOW WITHIN DUTCH BORDER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Kaiser has fled to near Utrecht, Holland, according to a German press report reaching this government this afternoon.

Later the war department announced a dispatch from The Hague saying press reports told of the Kaiser's arrival at Maastricht and adding that he was proceeding to Middachten castle in the town of Destceen, near Utrecht.

Maastricht is just within the Dutch border, 15 miles north of Lege, the famous Belgian town where the first great battle of the world war was fought.

In reaching Maastricht the former Kaiser passed close to Aix-la-Chapelle, where all allied war prisoners are reported to have been liberated.

Utrecht is 23 miles southeast of Amsterdam. It is situated on the old Rhine where it joins the Vecht. It has a population of about 100,000.

BRITISH WARSHIPS ACTIVE IN NORTH

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The United Press is authoritatively informed that since the war's beginning British warships operating off Heligoland in the Baltic sea and in the sea of Manowah, have destroyed two battleships, two armored cruisers, two light cruisers, seven destroyers, five gunboats, 20 submarines, one Zeppelin and five armed auxiliaries.

HOSTILITIES COME TO END AT 11 O'CLOCK, ARMISTICE SIGNED AT 5 A. M., PARIS TIME

(Received at 12:20 A. M.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—(By Robert J. Benjer, Staff Correspondent, United Press)—Germany has surrendered to the terms of Foch. The greatest war of history virtually ended at 5 o'clock Monday morning with the German plenipotentiaries signing the United States-Allied armistice terms, according to an official dispatch made public today. Hostilities cease at 11 o'clock today Paris time. The terms of the allies will not be made public today. The above information was the only news the department will make public before it opens at the regular hour this forenoon, 9 or 9:30. The announcing of the signing was made by Phillip Patchin information chief and assistant to Secretary Lansing who had been in touch with cables day and night since Thursday.

UNITED PRESS GAVE NEWS TO PENDLETON 40 MINUTES AHEAD

First news of the German surrender to the allied armistice terms and the virtual ending of the war was given to Pendleton by the United Press, through the East Oregonian, at 12:20 this morning, the United Press story in full reaching here 40 minutes ahead of any other report.

In accord with a previous plan the fire department was at once notified of the news and upon getting the belated A. P. report nearly three quarters of an hour late the general alarm was given. Before that time, however, celebrators hearing the news from the East Oregonian, had started demonstrations in the business section. Some two hours after the news had been broadcasted by the East Oregonian an extra with the A. P. report

IT'S OVER SOLDIERS FOX TROT ORDERS HALT TROOPS ON 11 O'CLOCK LINE

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Marshal Foch issued the following orders to all allied commanders: "Hostilities will cease November 11 at 11 a. m. along the French front. Allied troops will not until further notice go beyond the line reached at that hour." Cheers rang from column to column. The words "It's over" turned grim men into laughing boys.

SOLDIERS FOX TROT. BY LOWELL MELLETT. (United Press Staff Correspondent.) WITH THE AMERICANS, Nov. 11. As motorcycle couriers sped along the road shouting "It's over, boys," marching columns of tired, mud-spattered soldiers were galvanized into new life. They shouted, laughed and sang. I saw several doughboys under full packs, for shouting.
