BOSTON, Nov. 21.—With reversion of the war industries board's order fixing the price of shoes, New England dealers believe there will be a slight increase in prices of footwear. DAY OF GLORY HERE PARIS WALLS TELL

PARIS, Nov. 18.—The municipal council of Paris has had the following posted on walls in all parts of the city:

Citizens. Victory is here—triumphant victory. The vanquished enemy lays down his arms. Blood ceases to flow. Let Paris emerge from her ordered reserve. Let us give free course to our joy and enthusiasm and hold back our tears.

Let us testify to our infinite gratitude to our brave soldiers and their incomparable chiefs by festooning our houses in the colors of France and our allies. our dead can sleep in peace. The sublime sacrifice they have made for the future of their race and the salvaton of their country will not be in vain.

The day of glory has come. Long live the republic! Long live immortal France!

PERSHING PRAISES VALOR OF FRENCH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—General Pershing, in receiving French newspaper correspondents on his headquarters train in the field recently, said French valor had become a model for American soldiers, and that "a noble emulation had borne its fruit," according to an official dispatch Thursday from Paris.

"Today our men have shown," said the general, "they are capable of the finest deeds. A noble emulation has borne its fruit. We feel the German, unable to prevent the methodical execution of our plans, giving way under our pressure. The excellent days we have just lived thru are proof of this and they certainly will not fail in hastening the end.

"We Americans feel proud, in the great inter-allied army, to have given our unreserved help and to strike daily blows on the enemy. We will continue to struggle for our common cause until the decision we want shall have been imposed on the enemy."

BULLDOG BEATS WAY ON MYSTIC VISITS

MYSTIC, Conn., Nov. 19.—The cat that came back has nothing on Knight, a bulldog of this village, for the cat when she came back had to hike in the oldfashioned way, while Knight utilizes modern methods.

The family formerly resided in Noank, seven or eight miles from their present home, and there Knight was brought when a puppy. Since the family has moved to Mystic the dog at times evinced homesickness for the old place and a number of times has taken French leave and gone back to see it.

However the wily pup makes a return trip de luxe, going brashly to the station of the Groton and Stonington trolley line, hopping aboard a car, and openly beating his way until the conductor calls "Noank". Then Knight alights without any show of compunction for having evaded his fare, runs madly up the street to his old home and mainfests great delight at finding things there quite as formerly.

He will "visit" with the new tenants of the place until taken back and put aboard the car and sent home. Several times he has been watched but he never displays any interest in his surroundings of the trolley stations until he hears Noank called.

HOOD TO TREAT SOLDIERS

Canteen Committee Solicits Apples for Spruce Division.

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Nov. 21.—The local canteen committee, which has furnished several carloads of fruit to troops on trains passing through Hood River, was reached today by a personal appeal of W. L. Veary, educational Y. M. C. A. secretary at Vancouver Barracks, and the organization has set in motion machinery necessary in getting fruit for the 20,000 soldiers stationed there on Thanksgiving day.

Soliciting committees will visit orchard places and call for apples. Boat companies will donate the transportation of the fruit to Vancouver.

Three young women of the canteen committee will visit the barracks on Thanksgiving to distribute the apples.

Want Ad COST is Less Than Vacant Room Loss!

You can rent your furnished room to a lodger who is "good pay," who will appreciate a good place to live, and who will STAY if the room makes a good home.

The COST per day of a want ad is smaller than the LOSS per day through having the room unrented. And a few days of want ad COST will prevent a great many days of VACANT ROOM LOSS.

SIBERIANS SEEKING HELP FROM ALASKA

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 21.—Siberians across the Bering sea from here, fearing that unsettled conditions in Vladivostok will cut them from their Russian source of supply next summer, have asked Nome's city council to send merchandise from here.

The request was made in a letter received today by the council from the "Peoples' Administration" of Anadyr, a Siberian town on the Gulf of Anadyr, an arm of the Bering sea. The letter was written in Russian and was sent over in a trading boat. Nome responded to the request as far as it could. A committee of councilmen was named to communicate with the Russian municipal officers and render as much assistance as possible.

VILLA IS TRICKY, FOOLING FEDERALS BY FORGED ORDER

CHIHUAHUA, CITY, Mex., Nov. 18.—Francisco Villa and his band again have been on the war path and have left a trail of death, destruction and desolation in their wake. With the departure of General Francisco Murguia, the northeastern zone commander, for Mexico City, Villa resumed his guerilla warfare on the towns and small settlements in Chihuahua state. Making a feint on Chihuahua City to draw in federal troops from outlaying garrisons he then dashed at Parral, was driven off and attacked Jimenez junction.

He held Jimenez for 12 hours during which his men looted stores, killed soldiers and civilians, poisoned one family and hanged another including an eight-year old girl. Driven out by General Joaquin Amaro, the Durango Indian, with his cavalry, Villa attacked Jimenez the second time. Before he could re-enter the plaza General Murguia arrived from the south with reinforcements and drove Villa into the hills.

One of Villa's typical tricks was executed against a federal force garrisoning Parral. The garrison commander received a letter written on government stationery and signed with the name of General Pedro Favela ordering him to proceed to Pilar de Concho to form a junction with Favela's force in pursuit of Villa. A signal fire on the pillar of the Conchos river was to be the signal for the junction of the two forces. The federals marched to the appointed place, the signal fire appeared on the limestone pillar and the Parral commander advanced without advance guards or flankeds. They were ambushed and almost annihilated.

Villa had written the letter on captured federal stationery, had copied Favela's signature from an old order taken from a prisoner and had set the trap for the government force.

Swooping Machines Deal Panic to Fritz

(By United Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(By Mail.)—Two years ago the particular and extremely disconcerting form of warfare which consists of machine gunning troops from low flying airplanes was almost unheard of. Nowadays, it has become an indispensable feature of allied offensive operations.

One of its chief objects, is the demoralization of the German infantry, and in this it is particularly successful. There is nothing so unnerving to men either in the trenches, or in open country, as to see a flight of machines swooping down in a sudden formation dive their machine guns pouring out a hail of death dealing bullets.

One has that curious illusion that the machines are diving straight at one, in a similar way that a machine in a spinning nose dive, at a high altitude appears to be spinning down exactly over one's head although it may be some distance away. The choicest Prussian discipline collapses under these circumstances, and the column of infantry is immediately dispensed in a frantic and chaotic search for cover."

As an example of the panic-striking effect there is the story of the young English pilot who, having finished his job at high altitudes, comes down to within 20 meet of a road, and, seeing a German staff car, chased and fired at it for about half a mile. The driver suddenly lost his nerve and th ecar turned somersault into the hedge while those of the occupants who were not hopelessly crippled, scuttled away in an undignified attempt to find cover at any cost.
