

SOCIAL AND PERSONALS

With the resumption of class work in the surgical dressings department of the Red Cross, the appeal for volunteer service is renewed this week. Game folding, each afternoon will be under the supervision of one of the following women, who join in asking cooperation for the completion of the task which has claimed the attention of workers for many months.

Thursday—Mrs. F. E. Hayden.
Friday—Mrs. J. C. Woodworth.

Plans for the winter study were discussed at a meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the home of Mrs. George A. Hartman last evening. Like those of other organizations the program has been delayed but it will be devoted to history. Two office vacancies were filled by the election of Mrs. Charles Tulloch as recording secretary, and Miss Mildred Berkeley as corresponding secretary. The reading of a group of war poems was an interesting feature and several delightful Victrola numbers contributed to the evening's pleasure.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. F. E. Judd, Mrs. Charles Bonner, Mrs. Tulloch, Mrs. R. H. Horne, Mrs. Clara T. Lyle, Mrs. S. A. Lowell, Mrs. Sylvan Cohn, Mrs. Hartman and Miss Berkeley.

Mrs. Dale Slusher's charming home near Noll was yesterday the scene of a prettily appointed 12 o'clock breakfast, for which a group of friends were asked informally. They motored out during the earlier part of the morning and spent several delightful hours. The table was centered by a great cluster of artistically arranged chrysanthemums and covers were laid for Mrs. Mark Moorhouse, Mrs. Richard Mayberry, Mrs. Fred Gulick, Mrs. C. E. Nelson, Mrs. Henry Collins, Mrs. Al Slusher, Mrs. Charles Bond, Mrs. Willard Bond and the hostess.

The arrival of twin daughters to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wodaage of 615 Lewis street, is occasioning many congratulations and messages of flowers which are being sent to the home of Mrs. Lulu G. Smith, 795 Lewis street, where Mrs. Wodaage and the babies are. The little maids and their mother are doing nicely but guests have not yet been permitted to call. The twins were born Monday evening.

H. L. Frasier of Milton has been a visitor in the city today.

Mrs. Wm. Schabel is in Pendleton today from Stanfield.

Sergeant H. C. Green from Camp Pike is spending the day in Pendleton.

J. J. Chisholm returned this morning from a trip to Seattle.

News of Local Boys in the Service; Information for This Department Will be Appreciated.

WANTS ROUND-UP EDITIONS.
Sergeant Perry La Idleman, in France as a member of Engineers R. T. O. A. P. O. No. 221, and a cousin of Dr. L. D. Idleman of this city, wants the East Oregonian Round-Up editions. Verne Boynton, Pendleton boy, in one of his letters, mentions having seen Idleman. Following is the letter in part:

If you have a copy of the "Round-Up" paper would be pleased to receive same, as I have worked for the American Express Co. as cashier and attended one Round-Up. Makes me long to be back in "Old Pendleton," the best little city in the west.

A few days ago I ran across one of the old Troop D boys, Tracey Lane, and today found out that Roy Hittner is located here with the Red Cross and he is going to give me some old papers from Pendleton and I surely will enjoy reading them.

From the news of today, some of us will soon be on our return home as the boche is on the run towards the Rhine, and oh, you Berlin to celebrate Xmas!

Hooping the Round-Up this year equalled the past years, I am a "bon" booster of Dear Old Pendleton and want to return, "tout de suite."

COMFORTS OF SLEEPING IN BOCHIE TRENCH.

Here is another letter from a Troop D boy, Harold Williamson 146th F. A. E. A. E. P. France writing to Ward Hoagland 513 Franklin street tells of life in the front line, showing the former Troop D men from Pendleton had their share of fighting before the fighting stopped. The letter follows:

October 22, 1918.

Dear Friends:
Received your ever welcome letter yesterday and was sure glad to hear from you. Am just fine and dandy, only I have been having a lot of trouble with my teeth. We get so much canned stuff that I guess it has almost ruined them.

I am back now a few miles from the line for the first time since we have been on the front. Something like four months. The dentist won't get his place fixed up for business for a couple of days more so I will get a good rest.

We are not running them back here like we did on the other fronts I have been on. They have lots of troops and lots of guns here but we are surely but slowly pushing them back towards Hunland.

You folks at home have the same spirit that we have over here and no one can crush it. We listen to all their peace talk and meanwhile we keep right on sending them our regards in the shape of six inch shells and about ten to every one they send our way.

We never knew what war was until we came to this front. At Chateau Thierry it was more like a football race than anything else. At St. Mihiel it was a clutch. But here they are putting up a good, lively fight, and the weather is in their favor. For you can't do much when the roads are in bad shape. It is raining all the time. We go around in hip boots and slickers night and day.

The other night I had my bed made in an old German trench. I picked it out for a sleeping place because we just got out of our other sleeping place about an hour before, by boche shells. I got my bed fixed up and crawled in shoes and all. I had just got to sleep when all the gas-gones in the country started to rattle. I grabbed that instrument of torture and put it on and laid back down for a while. Then it started to pour down more of that damn rain and down the trench came a whole river of it. It sure was a fright. You know in the daylight you can't see any too well out of them gas masks and that night it was as dark as a bunch of virgin niggers. My blankets all got soaked and I got wet through but I won the "battle" any way.

"Uncle" is sure putting lots of airplanes on the different fronts now. I saw the prettiest sight the other night I ever saw. There were one hundred and eighty machines in one bunch. They flew right towards the boche lines in battle formation. You have seen a big bunch of ducks flying. Well that's just the way they go into battle. The leader is out in front and the rest make a V-shape behind him.

They flew right over the Hun lines just as if they were on a joy ride. Then they unloaded their bombs and came right straight back and away behind them came one lonely Dutchman, pumping his machine gun for all he was worth. The Huns don't come out much, only at night. Then they sneak over and bomb a hospital or something that nobody but a German could do. Their day is coming and I think it is very near and for the things they have done every man in Germany should be made to pay dearly.

So little Joe Despain is still alive and after them. Good for him, and may he be there at the finish. I understand that he is a hand grenade thrower. That is about as dangerous a sport as there is in any of it. You hold that little thing in your hand and push in a spring, then throw it. You want to get rid of it when you push that spring, if you don't it means good night. The other day a shell hit right in among a bunch of them right behind our gun. It would have done you good to see me tear over the hill. I lost my tin hat and tore down about half the camouflage around the gun getting out of there.

So they had a good crowd at the Round-Up this year. I heard that all the money they took in went to the Red Cross. That's fine and dandy. The Red Cross is sure a great thing. You sure did do fine off the Round-up and I hope you have the same success every year. Ward is working in the mill. Does he think he will ever do any more teaming? I sure would like to see all of you. Somehow every time I think of Pendleton I always think of you people, who have been so good to me and some day I am coming back there and I will have some wonderful things to tell you. I expect I had better quit for this time for Fritz is liable to be

Cuticura Heals Itching Eczema

On Chest and Arm in Form of Rash. So Bad Could Not Keep From Scratching.

Could Not Sleep. Used Half a Box Cuticura Ointment With the Soap.

"I had a breaking out on my chest and on my right arm, and I was told it was eczema. It was in the form of a rash and it itched so badly I could not keep from scratching it, and I could not sleep well. I had seen an advertisement telling how good Cuticura was so I sent for a free sample. I bought more and only used half a box of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap when I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. John Yokish, R. 3, Box 34, Bellingham, Washington, June 6, 1917.

Improve your complexion by using Cuticura Soap daily and Cuticura Ointment as needed to prevent pimples, blackheads or other eruptions. Sample Each Free by Mail. Address postcard: "Cuticura, Dept. R., Boston." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 15c and 50c.

"MY SOLDIER GIRL"

A Military Spectacle.

"My Soldier Girl," the brilliant military musical comedy, coming to the Oregon theater tonight is the cleverest, brightest, wildest entertainment ever seen on any stage. It sparkles with humor, color, melody, spirit and a score that holds the auditor with its swinging luring airs, the book by J. Lorch Rader, who has contributed to many successes in the past, offers in this latest success, comedy that induces tired people to forget their troubles. You never have time to sit back and rest, so contagious is the humor and so persistent is the merry revelling. One of the striking features of "My Soldier Girl" is the remarkable ballet, so clever do these girls render their big dance numbers and novel drills that the audience are spellbound. With encore after encore, the cast includes several New York musical comedy artists and theater-goers may be assured of a rare treat in music, comedy, dancing, scenery and a wonderful ballet all combined to make "My Soldier Girl" the remarkable success it really is. There are nearly twenty big songs, including "My Soldier Girl," "Hello, Everybody," "Jasper's Ragtime Band," "Take Me Home With You," "Won't You Be My Beauty," "Just For You," "Let's Keep the Glow in Old Glory" and a score of other hits.
