What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

"The Cook" Is Superb Arbuckle Comedy.

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, widely known as the commander-in-chief of America's army of screen comedians, is seen at his best in his latest comedy produced for Paramount, "The Cook," which will be shown at the Pastime theater today.

Mr. Arbuckle is the heavyweight cook in a beach cafe and like the waiter, he loves the pretty cashier. They are rivals until a tough guy enters the place and takes a hand in the love game. Arbuckle sets his terrier upon the disturber and a scene of excitement ensues. Many comical situations follow, including a screamingly funny fishing trip, mad eby Arbuckle and his dog, a chase of the tough guy down a roller coaster, the fall of the cashier from the coaster to the ocean, her rescue and the like.

The comedy is clean and wholesome and thoroughly enjoyable. Mr. Arbuckle is supported by Buster Keaton, Al St. John and Alice Lake, not to speak of "Lulu" the dog, whose performance is a revelation of canine aptitude.

ALTA TODAY.

Scenes of "The Bravest Way" Laid in West Coast City.

Although the scenes of "The Bravest Way," the new Paramount Picture starring Sessue Hayakawa, are laid in a west coast city, the situations are peculiarly Japanese and Hayakawa himself is authority for the statement that they truly represent the people of his country.

The story of "The Bravest Way" has to do with two young Japanese friends and shows how one of them, when the other is killed, sacrifices himself to the extent of marrying his dead friend's wife, so that he can take care of her and her children. This he does in spite of the fact that he is in love with another girl. How the young Japanese is finally reunited with his sweetheart makes a well sustained and interesting story.

"The Bravest Way," which will be displayed at the Alta theater today, is an exceptional photoplay, and one of the best in which this popular Japanese star has been seen. Mr. Hayakawa's support includes Florence Vidor, Jane Wolff, Winter Hall, Clarence Geldart, and others.

It Depends on the Rope.

Tom Mix, who has made famous his delineation of western characters, has a reputation for being the most fearless "stunt" performer on the screen. In his latest photodrama "Mr. Logan, U. S. A." which is being shown at the Pastime theater, he shows that this reputation is not altogether unearned. In one of his scenes, Tom Mix was to rescue Kathleen Connors, his leading lady, from a ledge on a mountain side where she had fallen while picking flowers.

Trying his lariat to the pommel of his saddle, Mix let himself down to the ledge, a distance of fifty feet. Here he placed the rope around his waist and taking Miss Connors in his arms he called to his horse, "Old Blue."

Obedient to his order, the horse started to pull and Tom Mix with his leading lady in his arms dangled up the side of the mountain. Before him was a sheer drop of several thousand feet. If Old Blue had stumbled or the rope had frayed as it was dragged over the rocks, this story would have been an obituary to Mr. Mix and Miss Connors, but as usual the Mix brand of luck held good and the two arrived safely at the summit but not without a feeling of relief on the part of the spectators.

D. E. Fuller, P. D. Thompson and A. P. Myrick are a party of farmers here from Ashton, Ida., stopping at the Hotel St. George.
