HOUSEHOLD

USE FOR EVERY APPLE
Don't let a pile spoil on the ground because there is no one to take care of them. Store a few in the "cellar" are quantities of sugar—real sugar. Why send to Java for it. Sirup made from the clear apple juice is delicious for all sorts of table and cooking uses.

Apple Sirup
Stir into seven gallons of sweet cider five ounces of powdered calcium carbonate—a harmless, low-priced chemical—and boil in a large kettle five minutes. If a large vessel is not available the cider may be boiled in batches. After boiling, pour it into glass jars and allow it to settle until perfectly clear, which requires about seven hours. Return the clear liquid to the preserving kettle, being careful not to pour off any of the sediment. Fill the vessel only about half full as it foams up when boiling. Add a level teaspoonful of the calcium carbonate for the seven gallons of liquid and boil rapidly until a temperature of 200 degrees is reached, or until it is about one-seventh of the original volume and the consistency of maple sirup, when cooled rapidly and poured from a spoon.

To insure clear sirup, the cooling must be done slowly. A good way is to set the jars of sirup in a wash-boiler hot water, and allow the whole to cool. Use this sirup like any other table sirup, and as a flavoring adjunct. Also as sauce for puddings and for making brown bread, fruit-cake and candy.

Sweet Pickled Apples
1 1-2 quarts vinegar.
1 1-2 quarts water.
2 quarts dark sirup.
4 sticks cinnamon.
4 tablespoons allspice.
5 lbs. sweet apples.
1 1/2 tablespoons unground cloves.
1-2 teaspoon salt.
Cook together the vinegar, water, sirup and spices for 5 minutes. Peel and quarter the apples. Slice 2 cloves into each quarter. Drop the apples into the boiling sirup and simmer until tender. Pack in hot jars. Cover with boiling sirup. Partially seal and sterilize for 10 minutes. Seal tightly. Let cool. Label and store.

Apple Catsup
1 quart unseasoned apple sauce.
1 teaspoon ginger.
1 teaspoon cinnamon.
1 teaspoon cloves.
1 teaspoon pepper.
1 teaspoon mustard.
1 teaspoon onion extract.
2 teaspoons salt.
1 pint vinegar.
Simmer slowly until thick, bottle and seal. A similar catsup can be made from plums and grapes, and spiced to taste. Sorghum or molasses may be added if a sweet sauce is liked.

Dried Apples
Pare, core and slice, dropping slices into cold water containing eight teaspoonfuls of salt to the gallon. If a light-colored product is desired, leave them a minute or two in the salt water, well prevent discoloration. (If preferred, core the whole fruit, after peeling and slice into rings, dipping these for a minute or two into cold salted water as described above.) Remove surface moisture. Drying time is 4 to 6 hours.

◆ Preservation of surplus food
◆ More careful selection of food
◆ More careful buying of food
◆ More careful preparation of food.

1—Simplify Your Food Habits
Eat only three meals a day. Do not eat or serve food between meals. Serve very simple meals. Three courses at most. One-dish meals are practical.
Eat only what you need to keep you well and efficient.

2—Select Your Food Wisely
Learn to know the needs of each member of your family. Plan your meals to meet these needs. Let your needs and not your whims govern your food habits. Food selection is a science. Study it.

3—Buy Food Thoughtfully
Learn first what food is needed, then buy in such quantities as may safely be stored or used without loss. Plan ahead to save delivery. Study the market and buy the seasonably abundant foods. Conserve those which are scarce here or abroad. Make a budget and keep accounts.
4—Prepare Your Food with Care
Learn to prepare simple foods well. This means palatable foods with reasonable variations in methods of preparation.
5—Waste No Food
Watch your garbage pail. Serve only in such quantities as may be eaten. Practice the gospel of clean plates. Use all leftovers.
Waste no food through poor or careless cooking or reckless handling.
6—Save Surplus Food for Future Use
Even a small daily surplus of perishable food should be preserved in some simple way. Preserve, dry, can or store any large supplies of surplus foods.

HAVANA implies richness—smoothness—and sometimes, heaviness!

All hint of heaviness, however, is overcome in Robert Burns.

The Havana in Robert Burns' filler is of particularly mild selection. Special care in curing and mellowing gives this Havana a rare quality of mildness.

You will say, when you smoke your first Robert Burns, "This is what I have been looking for—true Havana taste plus true mildness!"

Make that welcome discovery this very day!
