

SOCIAL AND PERSONALS

Miss Katherine Hoak, of the faculty of the Pendleton high school, is convalescing from Spanish influenza and was able to leave St. Anthony's hospital yesterday.

Mrs. E. L. Collins of 300 Aura street, who, with her mother and husband, was injured in an automobile accident several weeks ago, is able to be about on crutches and friends are rejoicing to know that she is convalescing satisfactorily.

Dr. Loretta H. Starba extended delightful hospitality last evening when she invited the other members of her son, Leslie's, Sunday school class to spend the evening in compliance to his twelfth birthday anniversary. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Emily Rhea and Guy Johnson, who teaches the class. Games were enjoyed and followed by a dainty luncheon, of which an attractive birthday cake was a feature.

Two dancing parties which promise to be paramount among the Yuletide festivities of the younger folk are scheduled for December 24 and December 27. On the earlier date the Bachelor club of the high school will entertain with its annual dance in Eagle-Woodman hall, while the same place has been chosen by the Jolly Bachelors for their half the following Friday.

Miss Bula Smith, Miss Margaret Phelps, Miss Vera Temple, Miss Grace King, Miss Thelma Thompson, Miss Catherine Thompson and Miss Helen Nelson have joined the Pendleton girls home from Universities for the Christmas holidays. The girls from Seattle arrived today. Miss Smith, Miss Rugg and Miss Nelson came up from Portland last night, and Miss Temple and Miss Phelps came yesterday.

Miss Beth Smith is expected home Monday from Chicago to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith. Miss Smith is departing the year to the study of kindergarten work, but to enjoy a three weeks' vacation.

Friends of Miss Margaret Coles worthy, one of the Pendleton students at the University of Washington, will regret to learn that she is confined to a Seattle sanitarium by illness. The doctors believe her trouble to be due to overwork following the recent closing of the university. Her brother, Joseph Colesworthy, who is in officers' training in Seattle, preparing for an ensign's commission in the United States navy, is expected Tuesday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Colesworthy, and it is hoped Miss Colesworthy may be able to accompany him home.

The honor roll in the Red Cross garment department was shorter yesterday, only the following women being in attendance: Mrs. A. H. Cox, Mrs. L. Overturn, Mrs. T. J. Tweedy, Mrs. Lee Moorhouse and Mrs. Ida Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Butterfield (Quindaro Wilcox) are expected to arrive Tuesday to be guests at the Wilcox home. Mr. Butterfield has just received his honorable discharge from the army after three months' training at Camp Pike, Arkansas.

Mrs. Pearl Coale will arrive in Pendleton tomorrow morning from Baker to visit during the holidays with her sister, Mrs. H. E. Hendryx.

Miss Helen M. Stillman is in the city today from Spokane.

Miss Margaret Crim, physical training instructor in the Pendleton schools, left today for Yakima to visit relatives during the Christmas holidays.

RUSSIAN BOLSHIEVICK WANTS ALLIANCE WITH GERMANS
BY J. W. T. MASON.
NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Efforts of Russian bolshievik leaders to strengthen themselves at home by forming an effective alliance with German extremists are proving successful. The Germans are adopting some outward forms of the bolshievik governmental system. The administration of Germany by the bolshievik method of local soviets is now in operation. But the essential factor of the bolshievik theory—that the workingmen should possess all political power, abolishing the upper and middle class, has made no marked effect upon the government.

AMERICANS PLAN TRANS-EUROPE RAILROAD

Americans plan a new trans-Europe railroad, to run from Danzig to Trieste. The plan would establish a neutral zone (black line on map above) ten miles wide and build a modern railroad through this strip, on which every nation would be free to transport its products to either sea without duties.

WORKMEN, SOLDIERS ON BANKS OF RHINE MUST QUIT ACTIVITY

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 21.—The British governor of Cologne has ordered the workmen and soldiers' councils to discontinue their activities on both banks of the Rhine, immediately, evacuating all public buildings.

DOUBLE TRACK LINE UNDER CONSTRUCTION

The double tracking of the O.-W. R. & N. system over the Blue mountains, a project which has long been discussed in railroad circles, is now in a fair way of being realized. Some of the grading and track laying of the second track has already been completed between Kamela and Meacham, and the company is now contracting for the installation of a double track from one mile east of Kamela to three and one-half miles west of that point.

It is believed that the improvement at Kamela is but the beginning of a general program of advancement on the O.-W. R. & N., provided the conditions are favorable for such improvement. It is being made at this time to expedite the moving of trains over the mountain summit. On account of the large number of helper engines used it has been found that considerable time is lost in running to sidetracks. The double tracks will be extended both ways from time to time until eventually the entire division will be double tracked.

School Luncheons
To not a few little men and women one of the chief attractions about going to school is the little basket or box luncheon that is part of the morning school equipment. Really there are lots of children who prefer to go some distance to school because that means that they will have a "picnic" luncheon. The superior advantages of a hot luncheon do not hold temptations equal to those of opening every day a nicely packed little luncheon in which there always lurks a "surprise"—for surprise it is even if it is only a piece of milk chocolate.

Dried fruits should be particularly well washed. If they are then put in a warm oven to dry they are likely to absorb the water which clings to them, and thus be softened and improved in taste.

The suggestion is made that crisp rolls can be hollowed out and filled with a quantity of meat or other sandwich filling. Maple sugar sandwiches and jelly and jam sandwiches are suggested as the safest bit for the school luncheon and a fruit and nut confection that is cut up and served like caramels is recommended as having proved quite wholesome in a certain school. Here is the recipe: "One pound of figs, one pound of nut meats, one pound of dried prunes or seedless raisins, confectioners' sugar. Wash, pick over and stem the fruits and put them with the nut meats through a meat chopper, and mix thoroughly. Roll out to a thickness of about one-half inch on a board dredged with confectioners' sugar and cut into small pieces."

LEVIATHAN WAS TOO FAST FOR HUN U-PIRATES

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Thrilling details of the adventures of the giant American transport Leviathan were revealed here today by officers of the vessel.

The Leviathan, one of the fastest ships afloat, became still faster when she passed into the hands of the American government, it was disclosed. Engineers succeeded in getting two knots of speed more than when she was in the hands of German engineers. In fact, she was so speedy that she was sent across each time by herself with four to six destroyers convoying her.

Hun Spies Busy.
This monster ship was the particular prey of German spies. On her first three trips she was chased by submarines and on practically every holiday since the United States placed her in the transport service she was chased. Last Christmas day she was chased; on Washington's birthday she was chased again, and on last Memorial day she was waylaid by six U-boats near Brest.

On the last occasion all of the U-boats but one were too far away to attempt to hit her with torpedoes and opened fire with their guns. The Leviathan's armed guard responded with such effect that the men were officially credited with having sunk two of the attacking craft.

The Leviathan carried more than 100,000 men to France in her ten trips across since she first started on December 17 of last year. On her record trip, last August, she carried 11,000 men.

The Leviathan formerly was the German passenger liner Vaterland.

The Leviathan brought in 9000 American veterans from overseas service. They were wildly cheered by enthusiastic crowds.

MAIMED TOMMIES TO GET NEW LEGS

LIST OF APPROVED LIMBS ESTABLISHED
Surgeons May Choose From Many Kinds, Experiments Continue.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—All British soldiers who came back from the war maimed by loss of an arm or leg are to be provided with artificial limbs by the ministry of pensions. Orthopedic centers have been established in the cities in England, where maimed men are fitted with artificial limbs and then taught to use the members.

Every limb maker in England has been pressed into the service of the ministry of pensions. It has been found that the artificial limb business was in a state of decline before the war, and nearly all factories producing these aids to the crippled were small shops, doing much hand work.

Many Kinds Made.
No attempt has been made by the government to set up big factories, or to centralize the work of the limb makers. It was found that there are many designs of artificial legs and arms and that each shop produces its own special kind of product. The shops have been encouraged to enlarge, and to train more skilled workers, but there has been no attempt to dictate a standardized leg.

The government recognizes that one's leg is a personal matter, so to speak, and that no "official" government leg, however excellent, would be popular with all the people.

List Established.
So the ministry has established a list of approved legs and arms and any limb on this list may be used in government fittings. The surgeons make their selections of type with due regard to the special features of the case, the wishes of the patient and the supply of limbs available.

There is an advisory council on artificial limbs, composed of 17 English, Canadian and American surgeons who have specialized in this kind of practice, four engineers and two limb makers. Sir Charles Kenderdine is chairman of this council and director of artificial limb supplies.

There is an experimental laboratory wherein new ideas concerning artificial limbs are worked out and tested.

TWO MORE ARRESTS FOLLOW LIQUOR FIND

John V. Burg, an express messenger running between Spokane and Pendleton, and Mark Patton, Jr., were placed under bonds of $250 each last night by Justice of the Peace J. H. Parkes. They were arrested by Sheriff T. D. Taylor and Deputy Jake Marin on warrants charging them with the unlawful importation, transportation, possession and delivery of intoxicating liquors.

The arrest of Burk and young Patton is the sequel of the case last week before Judge Parkes, when Mark Patton, father of one of the defendants above pleaded guilty of the unlawful possession of liquor and paid a fine of $250.

The officers charge Burk and Patton with helping the parties who brought the liquor to Pendleton and delivered it to the Patton residence here where it was found by the officers when making the first arrest. It is said that Burk, through his position as express messenger was able to get the stuff on the train and overmanned by loss of an arm or leg are to be provided with artificial limbs by the ministry of pensions. Orthopedic centers have been est-

"Pocket-Money" Doesn't "Just Happen" You Must "Go After It"

Plenty of "loose change" helps your self-respect.

An empty pocket—or a pocket that is empty two days before every pay day, is a melancholy thing and a breeder of self-disesteem.

The average man may always contrive to avoid empty pockets. To have too little "spending money" and to have too many things in cellar or garret—is NOT THRIFT!

The man who finds frequent use for the "For Sale" columns will never be broke. He will find a market for the old wheel, the old piano, the old stove, the old phonograph, the old desk, the old chairs, the old tables, the old silver, the old bookcase, the old shelving—for all the endless list of old things that still have a value. He will learn that while it takes a little pocket to pay for them.
