A Bill of Lading

is a receipt given by a transportation company for goods to be shipped from one point to another. Such a bill forms the basis of bank credit, and the shipper can make immediate use of this credit by drawing a draft for the value of the goods and attaching B-L to same. In other words, the shipper does not need to wait for returns until the goods have arrived at point of destination, which may be several days, oftentimes several months, as in overseas trips.

The American National accepts and collects such exchange and through its wide interstate banking connections valuable service to its customers.

MRS. SANFORD'S MESSAGE TO WORKING WOMEN

Laurel, Miss. — "Eight years ago I was suffering with pains and weakness caused by a female trouble. I had headaches, chills and fevers, and was unable to do my work part of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me and I took twelve bottles of it, and my health has been good ever since. I am able to run the machine and do dressmaking besides my housework. You are at liberty to publish my letter if it will help some poor suffering woman."

—Mrs. J. C. SANFORD, 1237 Second Ave., Laurel, Miss.
Thousands of women drag along from day to day in just such a miserable condition as was Mrs. Sanford, or suffering from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, headache, nervousness, or "the blues."

Such women should profit by Mrs. Sanford's experience and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and find relief from their sufferings as she did. For special suggestions in regard to your ailment write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their long experience is at your service.

Pat, who had been given a job by a farmer, was much annoyed to see his master watching him so closely. This surveillance seemed insulting to Pat, and after a little while he could stand it no longer.

"I say, boss," he asked, "is watching me all you have to do all day?"
"Yes," answered the farmer, curtly.
"Well then," said Pat as he flung down his spade, "you'll be idle tomorrow; you can have a holiday."

Some federal officers in the civil war once sought shelter for the night in an old, tumble-down hut. About 2 o'clock a polecat announced its presence. A German sat up and looked hopelessly about him. The others were all sleeping peacefully. "Mein gracious!" he exclaimed in tones of despair. "All the rest asleep and I've got to smell it all!"
