The announcement of the proposed formation of a soldiers, sailors and workmen's council was included in the strike committee's statement that demands of the working class would "be made a class" and that "we will put ourselves on record that we demand some of the democracy talked of so glibly during the war, the first principle of which is more money in order to live."

VETERAN WILL BRING ENGLISH BRIDE HERE

Bill Darby, formerly a meat cutter at the Oregon Market, who has seen over two years' service with the Canadian Pioneers in France, and who received several wounds, is bringing an English wife to Pendleton with him. In a letter to Mr. and Mrs. J. Body, he says he expects to be here some time in April, but is now on his way to Germany. Following is the letter: Havre, Belgium, Dec. 21, 1914.

Dear Jim and Nora:
Just a few lines in answer to your most welcome letter which I was so pleased to receive. I got it just before the end of hostilities and I know you would be rather anxious to hear.

Well, I got through all safe, but I really don't know when I will get my discharge. I think about February or March if I have good luck. Well, Jim, old boy, I hope to see you about April. Anyway I will sure have a good time. Well, Jim, if you knew of a good meat cutter's job going anywhere around put in a word for me. I am coming around that part once again. Also a house and a big garden. Wouldn't mind if it was a small farm as long as it was close to town. I guess you know I will be bringing my partner. I think I told you I was married. Well, it's tough but I am but I was just home on leave to England and the misses said the first time I wear or go home the least bit intoxicated she is going to return straight to England. I said to myself, Oh, you Moose club, I wish you a safe return.

Well, I am much different now. I have learned lots of things since I have been in the army but of course a wee drop don't go bad, eh, what? Well, I am longing to see all of you, especially Jimmie and Mary. You asked me if I had a letter from your sister. Well, no, I never got one. I was a month in hospital last July and my mail all seemed to get tangled up. I heard from Miss Kilgore. Tell her I will answer as soon as possible. I may write tonight if I get time. I have another one to write after this and I don't write many letters.

Well, I must wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Hoping to see you all soon, with love to all I remain your loving pal.
BILL.

Mrs. Inley's Letter.
In a recent letter Mrs. D. W. Inley of Litchfield, Ill., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for disorders of the stomach and as a laxative, and have found them a quick and sure relief." "If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation these tablets will do you good."
