HOLLAND SHIPPING IS STILL UNDER CONTROL
 LONDON, Jan. 28.—Importation into Holland still remains under the direction of the Netherlands Society of Exportation which will act in future as a purely administrative organization. During the war the allies kept close check on all imports to Holland and brought from that country goods which they did not want to get into German hands.

DON'T SCOLD. MOTHER! THE CROSS CHILD IS BILIOUS, FEVERISH

LOOK AT TONGUE! IF COATED, CLEAN LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. Hand back with contempt any other fig Syrup.

YOUNGEST PRINCE OF ENGLAND WAS FAVORITE OF ALL

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Prince John, the youngest son of King George, died at Sandringham last week. He had been ill for some time. The prince was possessed of exuberant spirits. He was the prime favorite of all classes, and the idol of the servants and tenants at Windsor. It is said that he was the favorite brother of Princess Mary who loved to romp with him. The prince was born at Sandringham July 12, 1905. An official bulletin says: "Prince John, who since infancy has suffered epileptic fits which lately had become more frequent and severe, passed away in his sleep following an attack at 5:30 p. m. Saturday."

JEWISH POPULATION OF ARCHANGEL GROWS

ARCHANGEL, Jan. 28.—With this city in the hands of the Americans, the number of Jewish residents is increasing as rapidly as these people so oppressed in Russia can make their way here. Before the revolution there were no Jews here. They entertain the Jewish officers in the American force here and express surprise that Jews are permitted to receive commissions in the American army.

BORDER TOWN HAS SPASMODIC LIFE

SWISS FRONTIER HAS MYSTERIOUS OPENING

French Systems Cuts Travel But Questionables Still Pass.

BELLEGARDE, Swiss Border, Dec. 18. (By mail.)—Bellegarde is the city of watchful waiting. It isn't very often anyone compliments this little group of houses and a railroad between mountain peaks straddling the ravine of the Rhone by calling it a city.

Bellegarde is the last stop in France on the way to Switzerland, and everyone going either way is stopped here to be examined. The point was probably picked because you can get out in no way except by railroad, unless you climb Alpine mountain peaks covered with snow. Bellegarde is an ideal jumping off point.

Your papers are examined and your baggage, and you are informed that the frontier is closed. It has been closed since the war began, except for a few hours at a time, or sometimes a day or so, when the frontier is suddenly opened on a few hours notice. Then is the time to rush across.

Orders Mysterious.
 There is no set time for opening the frontier, and no reason for choosing any certain time. There are no suspicious characters to avoid because everyone in Bellegarde is allowed to grab his baggage and clamber on the train for Geneva. No one knows just who opens the border or why—a mysterious order comes from somewhere, and those who have been willing to "stick around and wait" are allowed to proceed to Switzerland.

Bellegarde is alternately filled to the brim with people and emptied to the hotel keepers and a few townspeople. The night before the frontier opens there are people sleeping in the station cars and everywhere, for want of rooms. The night it is opened there are rooms everywhere, bare of occupants. The hotel keepers live for and die by the closing of the frontier.

Questionables Still Cross.
 This peculiar French system has had the desired effect, according to officials of disarming travel to Switzerland, though it has done nothing to keep questionables from crossing. Frequently it has meant serious delays in important business when officials have been held up. Once the frontier remained tight for more than 25 days. There was suffering among the watchful waiters, many of whom had the best of reasons for passing at once. But it made no difference at Bellegarde. Finally, the mysterious word came from a certain French headquarters and pent-up Bellegarde was relieved of its ill-humored population.

20 German Girls Arrested for Talking With Yank Troops

- COBLENZ, Jan. 25.—Twenty German girls at Andernach, near here, have been arrested charged with a violation of General Pershing's order forbidding them to talk with American soldiers.
- These arrests have served to emphasize the determination of the American command not to permit fraternization in occupied regions. Approximately the same number have been proved guilty of violating the order and have been deported to points within the German lines.
- The provost guard or military police are certain to interfere should an officer or soldier attempt to talk to a woman on the street or in a cafe.

Canadian War Hero Admits Story Bunk; Convict, Not Soldier

Hair-raising Stories Spun to Appease Appetites of Friends.

DENVER, Jan. 27.—For almost two months "Sergeant Walter B. Reel of the Canadian overseas forces"—more recently a clerk in the Colorado hotel in Denver—regaled his friends with thrilling, hair-raising, blood curdling stories of battles in which he participated in France. Fearful and ferocious were his tales of death, bloodshed and suffering; of the scream of shells, the crash of cannon, the rattling of rifles, of fights in the air on the ground; of "bunkies" blown to atoms by his side; of his own anatomy seared and gashed by liquid fire and shrapnel.

He showed three wound stripes on his sleeve to prove it. He to show these stripes—and to pose for the picture.

But Saturday morning, behind the bars in a cell in the city jail, "Sergeant Walter B. Reel" confessed, shamefacedly that he was only plain Walter George Riefenburg, escaped convict from the Nebraska state penitentiary, bigamist and monumental faker, that he had never been in France, never had been wounded, never had seen a battle "except in moving pictures."

All Plain Bunk, "Sergeant" Says.
 It was all "just plain bunk" to use the "swearer's" own expression. "I never saw service in France," he said. "I never was wounded by German snipers or any other kind of snipers."

"My story was spun to appease the appetite of friends who wanted to hear about the war with all its bloodshed and suffering and heroic exploits. I gave them all I could until I landed here. And then I was found out. I had talked too much."

The expose of the "war hero" came when Chief of Police Hamilton Armstrong received a letter from Maj. W. N. Wood of the California forces. Men to armory, Winnipeg, Canada.

However, if it affords them any pleasure the wags may still study the mean annual rainfall.
