A GOOD FRIEND.

A good friend stands by you when in need. Pendleton people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test.

G. W. Knight, retired farmer, of 915 E. Court St., Pendleton endorsed Doan's eight years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

"For the past eight or ten years I have been troubled by my back," says Mr. Knight. "Sometimes I had pains across my kidneys and in my loins and sides. At such times my kidneys bothered me and I had to get up often at night to pass the kidney secretions which were highly colored and contained a brickdust like sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the backache and the pains that had annoyed me and cleared up the kidney secretions." (Statement given May 17, 1919.)

On May 15, 1916, Mr. Knight said: "I gladly confirm every word of my former statement concerning my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills and they always do me good." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ex-Soldier Released From Bad Check Charge

PORTLAND, Jan. 30.—Having made good a forged check for $10 which he admitted passing on a local merchant, Otto Frolich, aged 21, who was arrested with W. W. Adams, aged 23, last Saturday, has been released from the county jail.

Both young men were in uniform, having recently been discharged at Fort Worden, Wash. Frolich was believed by Constable Peterson and Deputy Constable Watkins, who made the arrests, to be the tool of the other boy.

Adams is said to have confessed to the amount of $90. He is now awaiting the action of the grand jury, and is willing, according to the constable, to plead guilty.

When Mrs. Mary Miller, a friend of Adams, attempted to cash one of the checks at the same place where she had already passed a similar one which had been returned from the bank, the business house telephoned the constable, resulting in the arrest of the young men.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement; also for the beautiful floral offerings for our loving husband and father.

CITY RECORDER MAKES REPORT FOR YEAR 1918

Pendleton, Ore., Jan. 1, 1919.

To the Ho. Mayor and Common Council of The City of Pendleton.

Gentlemen—

Herewith I submit the annual report of the City Recorder of the City of Pendleton, for the year 1918.

The year, notwithstanding the world war, was a progressive and prosperous one for the city of Pendleton.

In the matter of improvements, there was 1-3 of a mile of streets paved at a cost of $12,259.

There were two sewer laterals constructed and part of one main sewer relaid at a cost of $2245.57.

There was 1100 feet of road leading to Olney cemetery paved at a cost of $1127.50. $1000 was paid by the city, $1427.50 by popular subscription, and $1000 is to be paid by Umatilla county, besides there were other improvements to the cemetery during the year, making the last resting place of our loved ones, one of the beauty spots of the City of Pendleton.

The police department of the city was run on an economical basis during the year which resulted in a saving of the sum of $54.34 over the preceding year without any decreased efficiency of the department.

The office of city recorder effected a saving during the year of the sum of $125.33 over the preceding year.

Lights for the city show an increased cost of $604.74 over the preceding year, which was caused by the installation of the new lighting system, which has given the City of Pendleton the reputation of being the best lighted city in the Northwest.

Street sprinkling cost the city $528.21 more than the preceding year, which is accounted for by increased cost of labor during the year.

Legal services cost the city practically the same as the preceding year, and includes attorney's fees paid in the prosecution of the suit to collect the Jackson street items which resulted in their collection by the city.

The operating expense of the city hall decreased during the past year in the sum of $512.11 showing careful management on the part of the house committee and firemen.

The expenditure for parks increased during the past year in the sum of $298.72 caused by increased cost of labor and purchase of machinery to be used in connection therewith.

Owing to the flu epidemic, the expense of the health department increased from $254.95 in 1917 to $1125.48 in 1918, but owing to the vigorous sanitary measures employed and the energetic action of the city council, the epidemic seems under control, if not eradicated. There were 156 burial permits issued during the year.

Street cleaning cost the city $2109.93 more in 1918 than the year previous, caused principally by increased surface to be cleaned and increased cost of labor caused by the war.

Elections cost the city $769.70 during the year, and I would recommend that the city ask the county court to make the precinct lines coterminous with the boundary lines of the city, when all but a nominal part of the expense will be eliminated, under our present election laws.

The city paid out of the general fund the sum of $2294.33 towards the paving of West Raley street, upon the agreement of the state board to continue the paving to the state hospital when this was done.

There were 220 building permits issued during the year, resulting in the construction or alteration of buildings in the city of Pendleton of the approximate value of $82,317.

Forty-six permits for the construction of sidewalks were issued during the year, which called for the construction of 5394 lineal feet of concrete sidewalk in the city.

There were 192 cases tried in the recorder's court during the year, which resulted in the collection of fines in the sum of $3629.

Repair and construction of the levee was made during the year at a cost of $10.43, and the extension of the levee to protect the property of the city is still proceeding.

There was expended in repair and painting of bridges during the year the sum of $171.15.

The year on the whole has been a remarkable one on account of the prosecution and close of the war, and the necessity for readjustment following its close, and the flu epidemic and the mayor, council and other officers have labored faithfully and earnestly to solve these problems to the best interest of the people of the city of Pendleton and deserve great credit for the work that they have conscientiously performed in their behalf.

Thanking the mayor and members of the common council for the many courtesies and kindnesses extending to this office during the year, I remain appointed city physician; and John Heathman continues in the office of street commissioner. He has now held this place seven years.

Yours respectfully,
THOS. FITZGERALD,
City Recorder.

FitzGerald Succeeds Self.

The city recorder and chief of police are elected by the council and approved by the mayor. The election of Thomas FitzGerald, recorder, was soon accomplished. After this came the deadlock over the chief of police and in the disagreement the appointing of fire chief was overlooked until after adjournment. However, it is understood Chief Ringold will be re-named without question. His work as chief has met the approval of the entire council.

In the meantime the question of who will be chief of police will remain a question to be decided next year. It is understood that it is possible the name of Roberts may again be presented.

Irrigation Project Wins.

BAKER, Jan. 30.—A bonding election for the new Sparta irrigation project took place Monday and carried by a large majority. B. F. Keist, Glen Macy and Ernest Dill were elected district directors.

This election marks the transition of a one time famous mining camp from a region of desert hills to a promising agricultural community.

The plan is to reclaim 12,000 acres by bringing water from Eagle Creek through the Sparta mining ditch, and the estimated cost of the project is $50 per acre to the land reclaimed.

Fugitive Takes Own Life.

THE DALLES, Jan. 29.—F. M. Coe, arrested at Carson City, Nev., and held for return to this city on charge of passing bad checks, committed suicide this afternoon, according to a telegram received from Sheriff Levi Christman, of Wasco county, who went to Carson City to bring Coe back. A telegram received this morning said that Coe was fighting extradition and that the case had gone to the supreme court.

Coe had been a fugitive since 1914 when he came here from Pendleton, representing himself to be proprietor of a round-up troop. He was arrested at that time but escaped.

Banker Leaves $25,000 Estate.

THE DALLES, Or., Jan. 29.—Max A. Vogt, president of the First National Bank, who died here last week, left an estate of $25,000, according to a petition for probate of the estate filed yesterday. Of the estate, $26,000 was personal property and the rest real estate. Mr. Vogt left no will.

Games With Idaho First.

WHITMAN COLLEGE, Jan. 30.—University of Idaho opens the basketball season here with games today and Friday nights against Whitman college, and one against the local crack Y. M. C. A. team. The games promise to be close from the start, as both teams have several letter men back.
