

SOCIAL AND PERSONALS

Many affairs of a social nature have been cancelled by the influenza ban to the disappointment of both old and young, but one event scheduled for yesterday which could not well be postponed was the celebration of the first birthday anniversary of Master Billy Quentin Sawyer. Even the invitations were prepared, in the hope that the ban might be lifted before the day arrived. Billy was going to entertain a few friends informally at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sawyer, 219 West Court street. The occasion was far from overlooked, however, for many gifts arrived, to bring the would-be host congratulations and delight.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lundburg of Stanfield are being congratulated by many Pendleton friends upon the birth of a daughter at St. Anthony's hospital Tuesday. The little maid is to be called Marjorie Berniece. Her mother was formerly Miss Berniece Walker of Pendleton.

Mrs. H. E. Ringo is a guest at the R. H. Wilcox home on Thompson street, she having arrived from her home near Cambridge, Idaho, for a few days' visit with Pendleton friends. Mrs. Ringo is a former Pendleton matron.

G. H. Wirt left today for a business trip to Portland and Seattle. A. H. Brown, W. E. Lynch, and

J. N. Kyler is in the city from Walla Walla today.

MILLION, APPROXIMATE NUMBER ALREADY OUT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Only about 52,000 soldiers in the United States camps now remain to be immediately discharged. The war department declined to give the actual totals of discharged men, but the million mark was approached last Saturday.

65TH LANDS IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—Twenty-one hundred bronzed and hilarious doughboys, veterans of Pershing's forces, arrived today. The 65th coast artillery, almost intact, composed the biggest portion of the soldiers. (The 65th was formerly the "Oregon coast artillery regiment.")

PENDLETON WELCOMES RETURNING SAILOR

A welcome was given Ernest Doherty, local boy who has returned from service in the navy last night when Pendleton people, headed by the band, were at the O-W. R. & N. station. G. Moody, of Boston, who wears two gold stripes for service aboard the U. S. S. Tucker, and who arrived in the city for a short visit, was also honored in the celebration.

Harry Chambers gave a short address in which he declared that the two men should be proud of the branch of service which they represent, and said that they had done a noble work in aiding in the fight for democracy.

HOUSE UNANIMOUS FOR RED FLAG BILL

SALEM, Jan. 29.—The house, by a vote of 43 to 3, today passed the red flag bill without debate. They spent half the day arguing it yesterday. The bill now goes to the senate.

The public lands committee favorably reported on a bill providing for investigation by the state land board and attorney general of the disposition of state lands and the appropriation of $25,000 to execute the program.

The senate passed a stringent anti-trust bill but two dissenting votes, those of Huston and Handley.

Soldiers in America to Be Discharged in Next Fifteen Days

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The demobilization of soldiers in this country booked for immediate discharge will be accomplished in the next fifteen days, according to official information.

LEAGUE HEARS FROM MANY BOYS OVERSEAS

Many letters were received at Patriotic Service League headquarters this morning from overseas. There were 15 letters in all, every one of which carries the same message of cheer to the folks at home and the gladness with which they will return to Pendleton. The letters are from different camps, though many are from former troop D men now in the Battery D, 148 Field artillery. Following are the men writing:

- Corporal Thomas Campbell, Jr., with 251st Ambulance Company, 1st Division. He went from Hermiston.
- Corporal F. Corporan, from Weston, now in Toul, France.
- Sergeant James H. Bowler, Battery D, 148th F. A. He mentions recently seeing Captain Lyman Rice and Frank Dickson, well known Pendleton men.
- Private H. J. Hurd. He mentions George Nolen, of Freewater; F. A. Gage, Pendleton; Painter, of Adams, and Captain A. J. Best, of the medical corps, as all being stationed at the same place.
- Richard Hansen, Corporal Maurice Bettinger, Sergeant Albert L. Bowdley, Corporal F. H. Elbert, James E. K. Hall, Sergeant Lyle Porter, Sergeant Walter Gill, Private Helmer O. Fell, Walter Goom.

with organized heads of organized labor."

SITUATION SERIOUS. About a quarter of a million men are striking. Shipbuilding is completely paralyzed and other industries particularly that of the coal mines, is seriously affected through systematic strikes. Belfast where rioting has already occurred, is completely dominated by the strikers. Business is at a standstill.

Non-Unionists Attacked.

GLASGOW, Jan. 29.—Striking shipbuilders today raided the yards and dragged out several non-unionist workers. A serious clash was narrowly averted.

The strikers issued an ultimatum to Provost Marshall declaring that unless employers consent to bring negotiations by tomorrow they will cut off the city's entire supply of electricity. Many municipal electrical employees are already striking. There remains only enough current for street lights and hospitals.

100,000 Out at Belfast.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—More than 100,000 are striking at Belfast. There is no electricity and intra-city transportation is paralyzed.

Copper Move Underway.

GLASGOW, Jan. 29.—The non-striking unionists who were thrown out of their jobs are planning a movement to counteract the strikers' terrorism. Several union heads are supporting them.

CAPITAL MOURNS FOR DEAD SENATE CHIEF

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—"See" Stanton is dead.

At the "vanity table" in the senate restaurant in the Capitol here, they mourn "See." He waited on that table, which gets its name by reason of the mirrors fronting it. Nobody, not even "See" knew what his real first name was, apparently. As a boy he played around the home of Secretary of War Stanton, member of Lincoln's cabinet. And everybody called him "See."

"See" was endeared to the "vanity table" over which he had presided for many years, by his superlatives. The chief of these had to do with $2-bills. Give "See" one in payment of a luncheon check, and he would at once tear off a corner. Sometimes the same $2 bill was passed from hand to hand and given to "See" half a dozen times in a few minutes, just to see him exercise the evil spirit in it. For to him it was bad luck.

"What make you think a $2 bill is bad luck, See?" somebody asked him. "I don't think it, I know it," said See. "I left Chicago once with a new suit and a roll with $20 in it. Had a lot of them two-spots. I didn't know they was bad luck. I got to Baltimore and right there them two spots got to me. Man, I lost that new suit in a crap game, an' my roll—well, I done walked into Washington."

Even the Smallest Classified "Ad" Is In No Danger of "Getting Lost"—Because CLASSIFICATION Builds a Straight Road to it For Every Reader of This Newspaper!

The shortest name is as easy to find, in the Telephone Directory, as is the longest. CLASSIFICATION DOES IT!

The shortest name is as easy to find, in the Telephone Directory, as is the longest. CLASSIFICATION DOES IT!

Every person looking for a furnished room turns to the Furnished Rooms To Let classification as a matter of course—and, thus, the two or three lines "ad" STANDS OUT CONSPICUOUSLY, provided that it contains facts that appeal to the reader.

Every classification of the small "ads" is subject to the same rule. The reader, to whom it carries a message, finds the little "ad" as readily as the big one. But, when found, it should really convey its message—and in this respect the classified advertiser sometimes makes undue economy of words defeat his purpose. To be brief, and still be explicit, is possible—and yet the aim at brevity often obscures the meaning.

Write your message clearly and deliver it through the classified ad columns of the East Oregonian—and it will reach the very people to whom it is addressed.
