KERENSKY LIVES QUIET LIFE NOW

SPENDS MOST DAY IN LITTLE LONDON STUDY

Dictates to Stenographer Who Takes Shorthand in 4 Languages.

BY EDWIN HULLINGER (United Press Staff Correspondent.) LONDON, Dec. 24. By mail—Alexander Kerensky, former dictator of Russia, is living quietly in the home of a friend on Cambridge Square Terrace, by Regent Park, in London.

In his little study, which he occupies a large part of the day he is perusing his memoirs, re-reading and re-studying documents which once represented the destiny of Russia, and dictating to his Russian stenographer, who can write shorthand in four languages.

Kerensky has just finished a book on the Korniloff mutiny.

Plays Piano, Sings.

He seldom goes outside his friend's beautiful, cozy little house. Once every day he walks along through the winding, gravelled paths of Regent Park just across the road.

He likes music, plays the piano fairly well and sings. He knows by heart an enormous volume of Russian vocal music, often he sits at the piano in the little parlor on the second story and sings through one Russian master after another.

Sometimes he stops singing to think of his wife and two little boys, hostages in Moscow, imprisoned by the Bolsheviks soon after the great debacle, and later released from prison when Mrs. Kerensky signed a pledge they would not leave Russia.

It is an exquisite little room, this second-floor parlor, finished in gray, with a monster white polar bear rug on the middle of the floor, several big gray- upholstered cushiony arm-chairs and a wonderful couch into which you sink as into a feather bed when you sit down.

One wall is a bank of French windows, through which creep the gray lights of a London day. A fire in a fireplace at one end gives a homey touch to the scene.

Kerensky a Lawyer.

Kerensky was a lawyer in Russia before the revolution. He is still interested in law and devotes part of his time to legal questions.

He is a man of remarkable personality. He has a smile that wins you at first meeting, a real, friendly-like smile that convinces you right away he is interested in you. He is direct and unaffected. He talks immediately to the point, like an American business man, without flourish.

His face is sensitive and extremely expressive. He can look the most lightly amused "one moment" and the next the most indignantly so. Like most Russian of men, he misses his mind completely upon each separate incident and never allows his perception of the present instant to be clouded by hang-over impressions from the past.

GENERAL PERSHING IS CREATED KNIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The British "Who's Who" copy of the 1919 issue of which has just been received here, lists the Commander in Chief of the American forces in France, General Sir John Joseph Pershing, G. C. B.

On July 17, 1918, King George awarded the grand cross of the Order of the Bath to General Pershing. The award of the grand of the Order of the Bath to a British subject automatically makes a knight of the recipient.

LAZY HUSBANDS OF MONTANA WORKING

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 31.—The lazy husband net has proved most effective in Montana in compelling fathers to support their families, according to J. E. Neville, secretary of the State Bureau of Child and Animal Protection, in his annual report to Governor Sam V. Stewart.

There have been numerous instances in the experience of the board in which fathers were induced to go to work rather than run the risk of trial. Prosecutions have been comparatively few.

The board recommends termination to prevent the marriage of feeble persons and cites an instance where repeated inter-marriage of a number of such families has thrust the fruit of idiot children upon the state for care. There is also a recommendation that the marriage of first cousins be prohibited, in the belief that the issue of such marriages are more likely to be feeble-minded than where consanguinity is not close or non-existent.

PETITION FOR GOVERNMENT LOTS TO BE ON MARKET

TALKEETNA, Alaska, Feb. 1.—Citizens of this place have petitioned the Alaskan Engineering Commission that government township lots in Talkeetna be placed upon the market. The townsite of Talkeetna, which is 125 miles north of Anchorage, on the government railroad, was platted last summer by representatives of the United States land office.

ROAD BILL AS FIRST

Issues would be left entirely to the discretion of the committee. On to take the provisions of the new highway bill have not been changed and will probably remain as the main proposition of the new law.

Representative Woodson of Utah and Morrow counties who had been working so quietly during the early part of the session made four speeches on the floor of the house Thursday, which showed that he not only is a careful legislator but a very forceful speaker.

Proposes New Herd Law.

Senator Hines is preparing a new herd law for Utah county by request of a number of the people. The new law will be an amendment to Section 1, Chapter 145 of the Session laws of the state as amended by Chapter 114 of the 1915 session so as to include all of Utah county except that portion allotted as cattle reserves in the Wasatch forest reserve. The bill will be introduced during the coming week as the twenty day limit expires in a few days but may be advanced before passed.

Mr. Marion Jack of Pendleton has been stopping a few days in the Capital city.

E. S. Taylor, formerly with the reservation Service at Heppner, but now with a San Francisco law firm, has been doing some work in the third house for the past few days.

Representative Dodd occupied the speaker's chair for a short time Thursday afternoon while Speaker Jones was getting a breath of fresh air. Some of Mr. Dodd's contemporaries sought to confuse him and have a little fun at his expense but he rose by with the intricacies of parliamentary law in fine style.

RUSSIA'S "LITTLE GRANDMOTHER"

Here is Broshkovskaya, "the little grandmother" of the Russian revolution—but not in any way allied with Bolshevism—in her white woollen cap and shawl, and with her Janet Adams, best known of America's woman social workers, who met her in Chicago and arranged the meetings which the 76-year-old Russian woman addressed there. Forty-six years of her life Broshkovskaya spent in exile in Russia, but it has not lessened her will to bring freedom to her country. It is the Kerensky party, the little Russian woman says, that will save Russia.

CROSSING EQUATOR GREAT DAY FOR LAND LUBBERS IN U. S. N.

The story of the initiation of sailors who for the first time cross the equator is told by M. Rulison, U. S. N., U. S. N., in charge of the navy recruiting office here.

One of the great events in a sailor's career is when he crosses the equator and is initiated into the mysteries of the deep in the domain of "His Majesty, King Neptune Rex." The night before the equator is reached the ship is boarded, amid a great storm of hail and lightning, by King Neptune's messenger.

He notifies the captain that the ship is approaching the domain of King Neptune Rex, ruler of all the seas and all the finny tribes, and that the king will be aboard on the morrow with his royal court to initiate all the land lubbers so that they may associate with sharks, mermaids, pollywogs, and sea serpents.

The captain gives his approval and the messenger departs amid another furious storm.

The next day the crew is called to quarters and King Neptune, accompanied by his royal court, inspects the crew. The captain makes a short address of welcome after which the ceremonies begin.

The land lubbers, who have never crossed the line before, are summoned by one and asked to answer various charges made by the King. Guilty or not guilty, the lubber is compelled to take the treatment. The Royal Doctor is first to operate and gives pills made of dough and "electric knife" is used. The Royal Dentist then gives a hypodermic of tobacco smoke, after which the victim goes to the Royal Barber. He is lathered with oil, graphite, lamp black and rotten eggs or any other ingredient. Lastly, the barber chairs collapses and the lubber plunges head first into a large tub of sea water where he is handled by the Royal Bearer and Mermaids. Now he is a lubber no more.

"Pretty rough? Yes, but no one is ever injured in the least and all are anxious for the time when they can initiate others." Veterans of this ceremony are on display at the recruiting office, room 252, Federal building. M. RULISON, U. S. N., U. S. N.

TWIN SISTERS ARE STAR SWIMMERS

It is not necessary to go to the ocean to find news items. At least that is the opinion of Columbus, Ohio, swimming fans, who witnessed the recent record-breaking feats of Miss Ruth Smith.

Ruth and her twin sister, Eleanor, though but fourteen years old, already are listed among the swimmers who are placing America in the front rank.

It was during the competitions of the Allegheny Mountain A. A. U. that Ruth established her two American records.

In the 150-yard back stroke she made it in 2:18, clipping 8 2-5 seconds from the American record of Miss Dorothy Burns, and 1 2-5 seconds from the world's record of 2:19 2-5 held by Miss Lucy Morton of England.

In the 200-yard breast stroke championship, Ruth, hard pressed by her sister, Eleanor, set a mark of 3:36 4-5, clipping 7 seconds from the American standard set by herself last winter and coming within 2 4-5 seconds of the world's records, also held by Miss Morton.
