Boys Wear Middies, Girls Don Shirts

OREGON CITY, Feb. 5.—Middy day was observed at the Oregon City High School Tuesday. A large number of boys instead of wearing their usual striped or figured shirts, appeared in middie blouses, and were much admired by the girls of the institution. The girls becoming "wise" that the boys would be adorned in the middie blouses, made their appearance at the school building in flannel shirts, instead of their silk or other waists usually worn during the week. Four of the students having the "spring fever" decided on a hiking trip, forgetting about their studies at school, but are now suffering the consequences and declare they will never play "hookie" again. Instead of hiking, as they intended to do, they

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A Red Cross worker who is still overseas serving with a certain well known division in France which has seen hard fighting, claims he has the prize memo, which is a small, dog-eared book. When the book was blank it was placed by this Red Cross man on the counter of a Red Cross outpost near the fighting-line, soldiers and officers calling for tobacco, cigarettes, chocolate, comfort bags and other commodities, adopted it as a register. When a customer called for anything he would affix his signature in the

Man Reported Dead Home

CENTRALIA, Wash., Feb. 5.—Sources of Centralia were surprised Saturday when Harry Brown, a former member of the Centralia police force, whose death in Oklahoma was recently reported, arrived in the city. Probably the most surprised was Mrs. Brown, who had not been informed that the report of her husband's death was erroneous. Mr. Brown was unconscious for five weeks during a serious illness, which according to a decision by Judge Stur-fleet was probably the foundation for the report of his death. The Utah Construction company is not entitled to recover $6865 franchise taxes paid under protest.
