"New Cafeteria Opening Mrs. A. H. Cox, Prop. Service Guaranteed (Kensington and Cabaret)"

This delightful function was held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Cox, 514 Italey street, yesterday afternoon when she entertained for the supervisors and substitutes who have assisted her for the past year in her work as chairman of the hospital garments department of Red Cross sewing. The ladies responded to the unique invitation and upon arriving at the Cox home were handed envelopes containing pastebord money, with instructions that they must pay the price of their meals. The ladies, armed with the where-with-all, proceeded to fill their plates from the cafeteria table which was presided over by the hostess. They were then seated at a large table to enjoy their luncheon from the following "bill of fare":

Beefsteak 1 for 15c, 2 for 25c; butter, 7c; chicken, 60c; sweet potatoes, 1 for 15c, 2 for 25c; baked apples, 30c; salad, 45c; pickles, each, 10c; ice cream, 75c, 2 dishes, $1.75; cake, 15c; coffee, 20c, 2 cups, 35c; finger bowl, 1 hand, 50c, 3 hands, 75c.

When the cashier began to collect many of the ladies realized they had "pulled their purse strings" too hard and were obliged to borrow wherever their credit was good, throwing the blame, however, upon exorbitant prices.

Following the luncheon the guests were asked to perform a cabaret stunt and the afternoon was a merry one. The guests who enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Cox were Mrs. Walter, Blanting, Mrs. Harry McFarland, Mrs. C. E. Rude, Mrs. T. J. Tweedy, Mrs. Ida Fowler, Mrs. C. F. Terney, Mrs. Alex. McKenzie, Mrs. E. A. Shifler and Mrs. J. L. Stockman.

An interesting meeting was held yesterday by the Washington Parent-Teachers' association, the members assembling at the school at 2:30 o'clock. The program opened with a song by the fourth grade which was followed by Prof. A. I. O'Reilly, boys and girls club agent of the O. A. C. extension department, who talked on the work of the club. Miss Lorene Parker, county demonstration agent, then talked on the fly campaign and gave a survey of the dairies. She was followed by Mrs. Mae Hagar, who made a delightful solo, preceding a talk by Mrs. M. O. Bennett on the Educational Bureau. Mrs. Hagar and Miss Lily Wattenburger completed the program with an instrumental duet. The next meeting of the association is to be held at the time of the school declamatory contest.

The presence of about 100 members and friends of the Baptist church and Sunday school was last evening a delightful feature of a social affair which filled many rooms of the church. The entire basement was given over to the entertainment of guests between the ages of nine and fourteen under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. G. Miller, assisted by Joe Dorsey and Guy Johnson. A party of young-ster guests made merry in the south room of the church with Mrs. Will Wyrick, Miss Catherine Wilcox and Mrs. George Mason, entertaining them, while in the north room a party of "grown-ups" enjoyed a program which had been arranged by Dr. Lorena Starba and Mrs. Walter Jones, as chairmen, with Mr. Hartshorn, Mrs. Gideon Brown, Mrs. A. F. May, Mrs. W. H. Dale and Fred Broer, assisting. It included the following numbers:

Piano Duet.....Mrs. Mae Hagar, Miss Lily Wattenburger.

Vocal Solo.....Mrs. George Sattion

Reading.....Miss Minta Clark

Piano Solo.....Miss Erva Dale

Vocal Solo.....Mrs. Hagar

Stunt—"Essay on Woman".....Mrs. Gideon Brown

A cafeteria supper concluded the enjoyable affair, the committee responsible for the refreshments including Mrs. Mason, Thompson, Mrs. W. W. Harrah and Mrs. L. P. Laupkin, while the receiving committee was composed of George E. Mason, Miss Minta Clark and Leonard Nichols.

Gay yellow daffodils decked the rooms and in a unique contest in writing verses to Spring, honors fell to Mrs. M. R. Eoff, who was presented with a charming potted hyacinth.

Mrs. Johns extended the hospitality of her home again during the evening hours, Miss Johns, of Bridgeport, water, being honored by a "waffle supper" to which a group of girls were bidden. The pretty table was centered by a cluster of daffodils, low bowls of fragrant violets being stationed at either end. The girls also recited poems written with Miss Johns responsible for the most popular verse and another charming hyacinth was the trophy. Covers were laid for Miss Shanard, Miss Helen Johns, Miss Mildred Berkeley, Miss Claire Bailey, Miss Mary Johns, Miss Elsie Fitzpatrick, Miss Helen Curry (La Grande), Miss Leura Gerard and Mrs. Johns.

Wasted Sympathy.
A woman well known for her philanthropy used to take a great interest in various asylums. During a visit to one a certain old man roused her special compassion.

"How long have you been here?" she asked him.

"Twelve years," was the reply.

After asking him a few more questions she passed on.

Turning to her guide, she noticed a smile on his face. On asking him the reason she heard, to her consternation that the old man was no less than the medical superintendent. In great haste she rushed back to make her apologies.

"I'm so sorry, doctor," she said: "This has taught me a lesson. I'll never judge by appearances again!"

Woman Not Insane Because She Talked

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 22.—W. F. Klesaw is a mail carrier who asked Superior Judge Cabanias to annul his marriage on the grounds that Mrs. Klesaw is insane.

But when the employe of Uncle Sam told the judge his reason for considering his spouse of unsound mind, the court couldn't see it that way.

"On what do you base your opinion on your wife's insanity?" asked Judge Cabanias.

"Because she talks too much," "Why, man, on that basis, 99 per cent of the women of San Francisco would be insane," replied the court, who ruled Mrs. Klesaw to be sane, denying her husband's petition.

FROM THE PEOPLE

STRAIN PROPOSES MEMORIAL.
Pendleton, Or., March 22. Editor East Oregonian: Those friends presenting me with the Ford car and all others approving the gift may be interested in learning that it represents greater money value than all other gifts combined, including inheritances, which have come to me. Yet it was the generous spirit which prompted the giving that I prize most.

So that I may take advantage of a new model of the Ford which is to have a built-in starter and which is expected soon to be on the market, I sold the gift car and will re-invest in the new one in order to escape the danger to my sound arm of cranking it.

I feel reluctant, however, to allow the material evidence of their gratitude for my trifling service to perish from the short life of an automobile. Its value might be omitted with other gifts and passed on into the future beyond the span of their lives and mine in some fitting form of enduring memorial to the young manhood of this county for their services on the waters. It brought five hundred ninety dollars. That would be a nice start. Or I might pass on a considerable share of this sum, and by willing awhile, secure a new Ford with the remainder; for it is intimated that such a car costing less than four hundred dollars is to appear.

Any form of memorial which will satisfy the discriminating taste and fulfill the aspirations of the big heart of Umatilla county's citizenship is good enough for me. If it be desired to choose something calculated to benefit the soldiers while they live and to inform posterity after they are gone of their achievements in the world war of 1914-1918 in which they enabled the republic with their clean bodies, their exalted ideals and their unselfish devotion to humanity, it may be suggested that a section of a hospital to be built in this city might be dedicated to them. If we are to accept the scriptural promise of sowing what we reap, then it follows that to those who rescued the stricken peoples of Europe from the powers of oppression here is due a haven of rest and healing in the home land to restore them in the days of illness which come to all.

Many have found in their experience that the most sorely needed, the sweetest, and most helpful ministrations which can come to us outside the home, attend us in modern hospitals through their scientific accommodations and the watchful care of their gracious nurses.

A gift made in recognition of a public service is not entirely at the disposition of the recipient. A sense of propriety should govern. The money value of my Ford will be held until I can satisfy myself what use of it would be most agreeable to the donors and to the public who approved, eight to one, the measure which was the subject of the work that occasioned the gift.

CAR STRIKE HITS 1,000,000 PEOPLE

More than 1,000,000 trolley riders are affected by a strike of 4500 employes of the Public Service Railway Company of New Jersey—and a greater area, perhaps, than has been involved by any other strike in America. All northern New Jersey, including 140 villages is without adequate service. This is a picture of strikers and sympathizers holding up a car in Newark. They're so good-natured it looks more like a picnic than a strike.

CRAWFORD & HEDGES

Welworth $2.50 Waists

Just as the name indicates, the Waists are, when judged by every prevailing standard measurement of Waists worth over $2.50. However, as so many folks know we have the inside prices on Waists of all kinds, due to our very friendly intimate co-operation with the foremost Blouse makers of America. Just as you can get a better Waist here—far better—than can be found elsewhere at $2.50 for the self-same reasons you can get incomparably better values at all other prices.

We illustrate one of the new models in these Waists which have just been received. They are just as good as they are good looking, and are warranted to give entirely satisfactory wear.
