ITS APPEARANCE BESPEAKS ITS SOUND CHARACTER

The handsome, staunch express body typifies the construction of the entire truck. In it are used only the finest obtainable materials. These are so well balanced and reinforced at all points of strain that there can be no question of long continued serviceability.

This body provides considerably greater loading space than is usual in trucks of this type. Finished in maroon, with aluminum striping, with black chassis, fenders and hood, and equipped with the distinctive Oldsmobile radiator, the Economy Truck is very attractive—and that means a great deal to truck owners whose delivery equipment should serve as a constant advertisement.

The pupils of Weston high school celebrated April's Fool Day by taking an outing. Everyone, including the teachers, walked up to the dam, leaving all thoughts of study behind them. The afternoon was spent in taking pictures and rambling over the hillsides to pick flowers. About 4 o'clock a bonfire was built over which "wienies" were roasted and marshmallows toasted. There were plenty of other goodies, and the hungry athletes showed that they very much enjoyed the campfire meal. After everything was devoured, everyone started on the return walk, and about 6 o'clock some very tired pupils came limping into town.
