

SOCIAL AND PERSONALS

Motoring from Walla Walla for the service in the Episcopal church here, Miss Priscilla Taylor and F. E. Aldrich were married at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They were accompanied by Miss Corleen Brunton and the Rev. B. A. Warren, pastor of the Episcopal church in Walla Walla. The bride, who was an attractive Milton maid, chose a tailored suit of sand color, with hat to match, and she wore a corsage bouquet of violets and roses. Miss Brunton, who attended the bride, wore a gray suit with a hat of white.

Mr. Aldrich is a prominent young farmer of the Walla Walla district and he and his bride will make their home at 212 North Second street, Walla Walla.

Miss Marjorie Williams, local nurse, returned last night from Portland where she took the State Board examination. She was accompanied by Mrs. Rachel Gates of Portland, who will visit at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Ben Burroughs.

Yesterday's honor roll of workers in the garment making department of the Red Cross includes Mrs. T. J. Tweedy, Mrs. Harry McFarland, Mrs. Jacob McNeil, Mrs. Alex Mackenzie, Mrs. Alta Turner and Mrs. Walter Planting.

Mrs. James Hill and Mrs. David Hill dined charmingly yesterday when Mrs. Robert N. Stanfield, who is back for a visit from Portland, was complimented by an afternoon of bridge at the James Hill home on Monroe street. An abundance of cherry blossoms and spring flowers were artistically arranged about the rooms where eight tables were arranged for play. Preceding a luncheon served after the earlier hours at cards, Mrs. W. L. Thompson was awarded a pretty trophy for high score honors.

Mrs. A. T. Allen who spoke at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening interested a large audience with her talk on missionary work in Persia. Mrs. Allen devoted much time to the work and was in Persia with her husband until October. Her interesting talk dealt with conditions in the war-stricken country.

Miss Gladys Flanagan has returned from Portland where she spent a fortnight as the guest of friends.

A regular monthly meeting of the Civic Club will be held in the club room of the library at 3 o'clock tomorrow. The members express great appreciation for the cooperation which they were accorded in the recent civic clean up campaign.

Mrs. J. F. Robinson and Mrs. H. D. Jones were dinner hostesses last evening, a group of friends being asked for 7 o'clock at the Robinson home on Jackson street. A host of good wishes were showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Robinson when the guests learned that the day marked their thirtieth wedding anniversary.

E. T. Avison left today for Seattle where he will join Mrs. Avison who left a few days ago to visit her son and daughter-in-law, Ensign and Mrs. J. Rothwell Avison and tiny Miss Katherine Franklin Avison, who was born last Sunday.

The Royal Neighbors of America met last evening in Moose hall for a regular business session but after a short meeting in which balloting on candidates was an important factor, the party, which represented a good attendance, adjourned to the Delta for a delightfully informal supper.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Mabie on Lewis street a prettily appointed luncheon today honored Glen Storie and Robert Fitzmaurice, of Condon, who arrived on No. 17, after nearly a year's overseas service in the aviation corps of the United States navy. Mrs. Anna Storie, Elmer Storie, of Walla Walla, Roy Ritter and Miss Elsie Fitzmaurice, besides the honor guests were asked to enjoy the homecoming. Mr. Storie and Mr. Fitzmaurice who were college friends at the University of Oregon, have been together since their enlistment a year and a half ago and they have seen service both in France and Ireland.

A cooked food and candy sale will be held by St. Agnes guild of the Church of the Redeemer tomorrow afternoon after 1 o'clock in the grocery department of Alexanders. Miss Genevieve Phelps is chairman of the sale and she is being assisted by guild members.

Miss Barbara Stanfield, who is here from Portland with Mrs. R. N. Stanfield, is sharing honors with her mother during her visit. Mrs. E. P. Tulloch and Mrs. David B. Hill have asked a group of younger folk to the Tulloch home this evening as a compliment to the visiting maid.

Credentials have been received by Mrs. A. J. Owen making her an accredited instructor of music which entitles high school credit to her students, and which gives Pendleton eight such instructors. This is an unusual percentage for Oregon cities. The credentials are awarded or refused by a state board of three. Pendleton's list so far includes Mrs. F. E. Boyden, Miss Harriet Young, Mrs. and Mrs. Bert McDonald, Miss Malen Burnett, Carl Guyatt and Mrs. Owen.

Mrs. T. M. Henderson accompanied by Miss Helen Henderson, expect to leave this evening to join her husband at the Henderson summer home in Alberta. Much regret is expressed over their departure as Dr. and Mrs. Henderson contemplate making their future home in Portland. Miss Dorothy Henderson will remain in Pendleton until the close of school.

A number of motor parties are being planned to attend the Commercial Club dance at Echo this evening. Fletcher's jazz orchestra will furnish the music.

Decidedly interesting was the meeting yesterday of the Woman's Presidential Society of Pendleton, when local members were hostesses to those from out of town. Mrs. Bruce Griffin of McMinnville, president of the syndical society, gave a splendid talk on the Jubilee and New Era movement and Mrs. E. T. Allen, missionary returned from Persia, told something of her work with her husband among the 50,000 Armenian refugees there and of the need for homes and the bare necessities of a people whose only shelter is often a hole in the ground. Mrs. Allen recently returned from the Persian city of Amuria.

A luncheon was served at 12 in the reception room of the church where "a host of golden daffodils" decked the tables. Responsible for the luncheon were Mrs. William Blakeley, Mrs. Anna Storie, Mrs. Bert Parlett, Mrs. Jess Hales and Mrs. Frank Baker.

Election of officers was an item of the sessions business and a vote of thanks for efficient and faithful service was tendered Mrs. P. J. Hegeman, retiring president. The new officers are: President, Mrs. B. F. Hopper, of Milton; first vice president, Mrs. P. J. Hegeman; second vice president, Mrs. W. L. Van Noy of Prineville; third vice president, Mrs. Fred Baker, Milton; fourth vice president, Mrs. C. E. Craven of Parkdale; corresponding secretary and treasurer, Mrs. N. K. Nordhoff of Free-water; recording secretary, Mrs. C. S. Terpening; chairman of young people's work, Mrs. H. E. McLean; chairman of mission study, Mrs. Morgan, and secretary of litera-organizations would be asked to contribute $55 a month.

Heads of grain companies, farmers and other employers of labor are signing Mr. Manning's list today to be presented to the county commissioners. This list is intended to show the extent that public sentiment favors the retention of the agency here under conditions proposed.

Astoria, Salem, Eugene, Marshfield and Medford already have been visited by Mr. Manning and have accepted the Red Cross plan. He hopes to meet with the same success here and carry the work to La Grande and Baker.

Mr. Manning understands the needs of the returned soldier and sailor from both sides, having been overseas in England seven months as an enlisted man with the 344th aero squadron before taking up Red Cross work. His headquarters are at Portland.

RAIN SWELLS CHANCE FOR BUMPER CROP

The outlook for an excellent wheat crop this season was never brighter at this season of the year, H. W. Collins, local grain man, said today. The weather of the past several weeks and the rain of last night formed a combination which is highly welcome to growers.

The stand of grain at present is in excellent condition, he said, and some of the more optimistic growers are predicting that this year will see a bumper crop. Good crops have been the rule for several seasons, according to Mr. Collins, but no bumper crop has been experienced in this district in a long time.

June rains will determine the nature of the crop after all, according to Mr. Collins, but with favorable weather in that month, the start now made will combine to make the yield one of the best ever.

onable monthly charge and in such way that they will not have to associate and live with the other inmates, we believe it will be better than they are kept at present.

"In the event this arrangement cannot be made, we recommend that the county court secure or build a suitable place in the city where the patients may be cared for."

The grand jury further suggested that paint be applied to the woodwork on the exterior of the court house.

GRAND JURY RETURNS SEVEN INDICTMENTS

Seven true bills and two not true bills were returned by the grand jury, which completed its labors last night. Three of the cases were disposed of today and four of those indicted are yet to be apprehended.

Harry N. Samuels, charged with second degree murder, for the killing of John Omar Givner near Milton, February 12, was indicted, arraigned and pleaded guilty this afternoon.

George Smith, colored, charged with larceny in the dwelling of T. B. Swearingen, pleaded guilty after waiting time for plea, and was given an indefinite sentence of from one to seven years. Isaac Craig, indicted for robbery from the McCook and Bentley store on February 28, pleaded not guilty and will be tried shortly.

No true bills returned were in the cases of R. L. Blackburn, charged with non-support, and Wm. A. White, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. Wilkie was released.

The jury which returned the indictments and disposed of the two not true bills consisted of F. B. Swayze, foreman; W. L. Rayburn, clerk; Harry C. Rogers, M. W. Hansell, T. L. Higgins, Herbert Thompson and C. H. Olcott.
