VOLUNTEER LOAN PLAN TO EXTEND THROUGH WEEK

Many Requests Indicate Loans to Continue, Nearly $450,000 Yet to Go on Quota

Fritz' Dress Parade Headpieces Arrive

Second of Pendleton's War Widows Subscribes for Victory Bond.

With but $10,000 subscribed to the Victory Loan today, Pendleton returned the smallest total of the campaign thus far. There were quite a number of subscriptions but all were for small amounts. It is believed that there are still a large number of large subscribers yet to be heard from and hope is not yet given up that this week's returns will equal those of the first week.

Satisfied that Pendleton and Umatilla county will continue to turn in Victory loan subscriptions at the same rate as last week, District Chairman George A. Hartman announced Saturday night that the volunteer plan will be extended this week. The decision to continue as at present was reached in a meeting of the executive committee for the loan, held Saturday evening.

"Many from out of town have asked that they be given added line in which to make their subscription voluntary," the chairman said today. "Others who have been hesitating are now convinced that from the investment standpoint alone they can stand to lose only if they do not take their share of bonds, so this week should produce as good results as the first."

EXPECT WILSON TO OPPOSE JAPAN

Washington Friends Say President Will Fight to End Against Secret Treaties

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Wilson is expected by his friends here to speak out in opposition to Japan's peace conference objectives in China. Such action they say, would subject the "secret treaties versus open diplomacy" squarely up to final decision before the peace conference. The president's course in Paris is understood to have undergone one fundamental change. It is stated by his friends he is prepared to remain in Paris and battle to the end for what he believes the right settlement. Instead of being ready to quit the conference if his views do not prevail he will remain on the spot and fight it out, it is believed.

The decision to unite was reached here on Saturday when 24 delegates from Morrow county met with the Oddfellows of the county, at the I. O. O. F. 100th anniversary celebration.

George Webb, pioneer of this county, is the oldest Oddfellow in the local I. O. O. F., having been a member for 60 years. Lot Livermore is next, with a record of 58 years; and following him are R. Alexander, 48 years; T. B. Wells, 45 years; Henry Taylor, 43 years. G. Whitworth, member of the Echo lodge, has been a member for 52 years.

The first Odd Fellows lodge Kenneth Warner ever visited was in Honolulu while enroute to the Philippines with the Second Oregon. Warner had joined the I. O. O. F. in Pendleton a few months prior to that time and in Honolulu he visited a lodge that had been established by New Bedford whalers in 1835—before the gold rush of '49.

German Secret Records to Be Laid Bare Showing Up Spy System Over World

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Wilhelm and his agents must answer to the allies for outrage and violation of international law during the war if the peace conference adopts proposals placed before it at Paris today, the state department announced. Furthermore, all secrets of the German war office must be laid bare to permit the allies to discover those responsible. The proposal to try the ex-kaiser has been pushed by French delegates throughout the conference in the face of reported opposition by the Japanese delegates and the apathy of some of the others.

PLAN ANNOUNCED BY STATE DEPARTMENT

The kaiser would be tried by a court of five judges, one appointed by each of the five great powers. All other persons accused of violating international law would be turned over for trial under the proposed plan. In every case the accused would be entitled to choose his own counsel and the tribunal would be guided by strict terms of international law and international moral principles.

"COME TAKE A RIDE IN MY ORIENTATOR," SAYS UNCLE SAM TO AVIATION STUDENTS

This is an orientator. An orientator gives a fellow who is going to be an aviator all the sensations of flying upside down, looping the loop or doing the barrel roll. The teacher puts him in the body of the thing and whips him every way, then asks him if he's dizzy. If his center of equilibrium, which is in the inner ear, doesn't tell him when he's upside down, he is no good for flying. All the man in the chair has to do is to work the lever. The man in the ear can make the machine do the same stunts after he gets used to it, with a control stick in front of him. William G. Ruggles invented the thing and there's going to be one in every aviation camp in the country.

ITALIANS SHOULD GET OUT SAYS LOCAL BOY AT POLA

If the Italians would get off of Dalmatia and give over to the Czechoslovaks control of Fiume, Pola and other Austrian seaport towns they are now trying to hold, the Czechs would soon restore order and have a satisfactory government set up. Such is the opinion of Samuel H. Oliver, a Pendleton boy who has been at Pola, aboard the United States destroyer, USS Schley and whose letter just reached M. R. Chessman, secretary of the Umatilla County Patriotic Service League, today.

"The Italians here know nothing of 1854, according to Oliver. That great city, he says, is of interest because as result there are numerous small uprisings and people are dying of hunger. The Italians steal everything they can get hold of. The Czechoslovaks are the ones who would really get out here if the Italians would get out."

Oliver, who is the son of Mrs. Birdie Oliver of Pendleton, was among the first to go into service from this region, enlisting in the navy on December 7, 1917. He shipped from San Francisco on the Schley and has been in the Mediterranean for several months. The ship spent Christmas at Algiers, which place he described as exceedingly interesting.

The Schley is the first American warship to enter Constantinople since 1854, according to Oliver.
