BERT LYTELL IN PLAY OF UNUSUAL BRILLIANCE

"The Spender" by Frederick Orin Hartlett, to be shown at the Alta theatre.

"The Spender," the Metro play which will be the feature at the Alta theatre today, and in which the newest favorite of the screen, Bert Lytell, will be seen, is one of the cleverest, most amusing and entertaining comedies of the season.

The plot, which was adapted from the story of the same name by Frederick Orin Hartlett, published in the Saturday Evening Post, centers around two men—Dick Blase, young and vital to whom life means enjoyment, and the other, "Tightwad" Blase, old and amaranthine. The young man has no money to buy the good things of life while the older one possesses a million but has lost the art of happiness in his greedy search for gold.

Dick, played by Bert Lytell, conceives a plan whereby he can help his uncle, old "Tightwad" back to youth and enjoyment and in return reap some rewards himself—mainly a home for the girl he loves and is going to marry.

How, at Dick's instigation, the old man casts off his age with his old clothes, is cleverly shown as the play progresses and the happiness the younger man is able to teach the elder shows that money is only a source of pleasure when used for the happiness of others.

The play is vital and compelling for its real human power, while its comedy is most delicately and lightly handled, providing surpassing entertainment, while the romance which runs through the story is refreshing in its simplicity and charm. It is a picture which is bound to delight and please all who see it and is classed as one of the real "surprises" of the season both for the original idea of the story and the splendid work of the young star.

The play is directed by Charles Swickard under the personal supervision of George D. Baker, manager of production.

ARCADÉ TODAY

ENRICO CARUSO HAS DUAL ROLES IN "MY COUSIN"

Famous Tenor Seen to Exceptional Advantage in His First Photoplay.

In the photoplay written especially for his cinema debut under Artercraft auspices, Enrico Caruso, the celebrated tenor, plays two roles, one being Cesare Carulli, a singer, and the other Mario Nanni, an artist who makes models for plaster casts. These two characters are the principal figures in the story of "My Cousin" which will be shown at the Arcade theatre next Sunday and Monday.

As Mr. Caruso appears simultaneously as Carulli and Nanni, he plays opposite to himself frequently, multiple photography necessarily was employed for the purpose. It is said that the synchronism of action in these scenes is perfect, and that at times the effect is most startling. The situations of this photoplay are said to be highly dramatic and filled with stirring heart appeal.

Mr. Caruso is supported by an excellent cast of players. Chief among these is Caroline White, an opera singer and actress of signal merit. Miss White is a Boston girl and made her debut in grand opera in Naples in 1910. It is said that she plays the part of Rosa Ventura, a cashier in a restaurant, with splendid artistry. The support generally is of a high order of merit, the result being a most charming picture.

The story of "My Cousin" is one of unusual interest and the situations are said to be highly effective. The photoplay was directed by Edward Jose and the scenario was written especially for Mr. Caruso's debut by Margaret Turnbull.

MAN FORCED OVERBOARD WHEN BOAT LEAKS

Men Draw Cuts to See Who Must Accept Death Sentence.

Huddled in the life-boat they sat, Clara Gove, her sweetheart, Martin Shaw and Captain Shattuck, notorious commander of the ill-fated "Black-bird." The boat, but a few short hours before, had gone to her last rest, a mass of raging flames.

There was a bullet hole below the water-line of the life-boat and the captain's sea plug had failed to work. It was time for stringent measures and one of those in the life-boat must go overboard so that the others might live. With one man out of the boat the bullet hole would be above the water line. "We'll draw cuts for it," was the captain's order, and well Martin Shaw knew who would draw the straw carrying the death sentence.

For since he had slain Jeff Whittlesey in a fight following an insult to Clara he had been pursued by evil luck.

Shaw was right; he drew the death lot. Hungrily his eyes bade a last farewell to the woman he loved and he breathed a silent prayer to the One in whom he had no faith that no harm might befall Clara. She swooned and soon the little craft was out of sight.

This is one of the scenes which makes the new Triangle picture "The Ship of Doom," at the Pastime theatre on Sunday and Monday night a masterpiece of thrilling adventures of the sea. How Martin Shaw's prayers are answered and the punishment which fate has in store for the brutal captain makes a fitting climax for this picture in which Clair McDowell and Monte Blue are featured.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

TAKE TABLESPOONFUL OF SALT IF BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

FRIEND OF BASEBALL

When Governor Smith of New York signed the Sunday baseball bill Magistrate Francis X. McQuade, who also is treasurer of the New York Giants, received hundreds of telegrams of congratulations. It was a great personal victory. For three years—before he was connected with the Giants—he had fought for the bill. It almost passed last year. The privilege of playing Sunday ball in New York is the biggest kind of a boost for baseball. It means many thousands of dollars to both leagues.

UNIVERSAL TRAINING METHODS POINTED OUT

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Congress will be asked to put the nation's security in the keeping of a strong national force and relegate to the national guard, under state control, the maintenance of local order, according to well informed officers at the war department today. Plans have been drafted for the general staff to provide universal military training as the heart of the future army. Army experts expect a quick decision after Secretary Baker returns from France. With thousands of officers enrolled in the reserve corps army men are anxious also to form a reserve for enlisted men. It is pointed that universal training could be obtained through either of two methods, volunteer summer camps or camps made compulsory for youths of certain ages arranged so they will not interfere with schooling.

STANDARD OIL TAKES BIG BOND
SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—The Standard Oil Company of California today announced a two million victory loan subscription. Half is credited to San Francisco and the remainder to several California cities having company agencies.
