WOMEN ARE CARELESS

This has been proved over and over again during the war. They overestimate their physical strength and overtax it. Their ambition is commendable, but does not compensate for the hours and days of misery which they suffer from symptoms caused by female ills brought on by overwork. Women who are weak, nervous, despondent, with headaches, backache and dragging-down pains should remember there is one tried and true remedy, that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for such ailments.

"FRAMEUP," SAYS WIFE OF DRUG KING WHO IS DEFENDANT IN DIVORCE SUIT

MRS. DIAMOND BROWN.

Mrs. Brown, noted for her beautiful hair, is defendant in divorce action started in Brooklyn by Dudley P. Brown, 59, drug king. "It's a frameup," says Mrs. Brown, "because I wouldn't live with him." The action was started as the result of a raid on a New York hotel. Mrs. Brown was married at Edwardsville, Ill., in 1903, the bride was 19. Two years ago, when Mrs. Brown sued, their little girl reunited them by leading the father to the mother's side in the courthouse, but the child died a year ago.

J. C. Penney Employs To Form Organization, Hold Regular Meetings

For establishing regular store meetings for the promotion of the general welfare of the J. C. Penney Co., its employees and everybody concerned, J. E. Akey, manager of the Pendleton store, entertained about 35 of the employees and their families Monday evening. After listening to several musical numbers, the guests enjoyed a talk by Mr. Akey on harmony and cooperation in business and following several short talks by employees Mr. Akey was elected temporary chairman to call a meeting for permanent organization in the near future. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Akey after the plans were completed.

NEW CONGRESS FACES MANY GIGANTIC TASKS

BY L. C. MARTIN.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, May 21.—Tasks faced by the 66th congress, meeting in extraordinary session, threaten to match the tremendous duties of the war congress faced. The war congress, in the case of most war measures, had a definite thing to do, and took the shortest cut to the goal.

The incoming congress, however, has problems of peace to solve as momentous as those of the war, but without the urge of making every day count for victory, or the patriotic incentive to unity which the war furnished.

Here are the chief tasks before the new congress:

Adoption of an army and a navy program on a peace basis, and appropriation of the money necessary to carry them into effect.

Resolution of the railroad puzzle by revisiting for the future control of the lines.

Settlement of the amounts to be paid the telephone and telegraph companies for the use of their lines by the government during the emer-

PORTIA OF THE STAGE WINS CASE IN COURT

Miss Jessie Nagle is an actress. But she is a lawyer, too. She is the daughter of an Oklahoma judge and a law graduate of Kansas state university. So when she was playing in a Chicago theater and became interested in the case of a mother with two small wayward children, she doffed the butterfly garments of the stage and donned the garb of a Portia. And so ably did she defend the woman accused of contributing to the delinquency of her children that the mother was put on probation for a year and given a chance to teach the children to mind.

The Paris

Decision as to the future of the merchant marine.

Legislation to aid business in getting back from a war to a peace basis.

Legislation to enforce national prohibition.

Legislation demanded by labor.

Legislation to curb bolshevism.

This list includes only those things which congress cannot escape considering. It does not include passage of many appropriation bills, which promise to be fruitful of much wrangling on the question of economy. Nor does it include self-imposed tasks of which there are many.

Among the latter are revision of the internal revenue and tariff laws; revision of the court martial system; creation of a budget system (which, however may be made an administrative measure and take its place in the category of inevitable tasks); investigation of government officials and agencies blamed by Republicans for war blunders; efforts to amend the constitution or pass laws to prevent, in future, the granting of broad blanket powers to the executive department, either in peace or war time.

In addition there will be efforts to repeal practically all the war measures passed by the last congress, and, according to indications, an unusual number of "freak" reconstruction and readjustment schemes, financial social and economic.

Add to this the fact that the senate must consider and act on the peace treaty and league of nations covenant and the further fact that intense political rivalry will be in evidence in both houses from start to finish, and it will be evident why Capitol hill servers are predicting a long, hot session, a session which, according to some of them, may last until the time
