

NEWS NOTES OF PENDLETON

County Court Meets Wednesday.
The county commissioners will meet Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the court house to act on bills to be paid, road petitions and the usual routine business.

Anderson Home in Two Weeks.
County Commissioner Barney Anderson expects to be in Pendleton in two weeks from today, according to word received by Judge C. H. Marsh today. The California recuperation treatment has added eight pounds to Mr. Anderson and he says he is feeling fine. He has been absent for more than six months.

Ernest Boylen Returns.
Ernest Boylen, Pendleton boy who has been in the service as a member of a hospital unit of the navy, returned today from Bremerton, where he received an honorable discharge. Boylen, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Boylen of this city, recently returned from Brest. He will resume his studies at the University of Oregon this fall.

Monthly Meeting on Wednesday.
Owing to Tuesday's being election day, the regular monthly meeting of the Pendleton Commercial Association will be held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the association's rooms in the Elks' building. The submission of the report on the McKay creek reservoir project is one of the important matters to come up. There are numerous communications to be heard and acted upon, as well.

Mrs. Nash Has Summer School.
Mrs. Gertrude Nash, who during the past school year, was a teacher in the Hawthorne school, opened a summer school today at her home at 322 Cobble street, for the purpose of giving instruction to grammar school pupils who were forced to be absent from school because of the influenza epidemic. The registration for the summer school contains a considerable number of students.

Dewey Gervais to Graduate.
Dewey Gervais, Pendleton high school boy who enlisted two years ago in the United States Marines, will graduate June 15 from the Marine Officers' Training school at Quantico, Virginia. Before entering the training school, Gervais spent some time in Cuba, guarding the sugar fields. While a student in the local school, Gervais supported himself as well as a younger brother.

Lieutenant Ben Dorris Cited.
Lieutenant Benjamin Dorris, who will be remembered as one of the speakers who was here with the trophy train and who had had part of his jaw blown off and most of his teeth knocked out, has received a citation from General Pershing for gallantry in action. Lieutenant Dorris was also awarded the Belgian cross de guerre for bravery in action. He is now on his way to hospital No. 49, in St. Louis, where he will receive further treatment.

Band Concert Today.
The overseas band of the Alamo shows gave a free band concert today on Pendleton streets. The concert is a forerunner of the opening of the shows tonight at the carnival grounds on east Alta street.

Paul V. Robbins Here.
Paul V. Robbins, forest ranger who has the Pilot Rock section as his territory, is in Pendleton for a few days' detail work in the office of W. W. Cryder, district forest supervisor.

125 Families Served by Home Service.
One hundred twenty five families were served during the past month by the Home Service section of the Red Cross, according to a report just filed by Miss Virginia Todd, secretary. The sum of $165 was loaned for financial assistance.

New Wolf Skin for Office Chair.
A gray wolf skin, beautifully marked, seven feet and three inches in length, has been added as a part of the office equipment at the United States Biological Survey, and is used as a robe for a chair. The wolf was killed by William Cozens in Idaho, and is one of a pack of seven he killed.

Miss Dunning Member of Omicron Nu.
Miss Marilla Dunning, of Stanfield, upper class woman who is attending O. A. C., was admitted as a member of a chapter of Omicron Nu, national home economics honorary sorority Saturday after the establishment of the chapter at the college. The organization, while a new one on the O. A. C. campus, has chapters in several large institutions, and is limited to the same branch of home economics. Miss Dunning will teach at McMinnville during the coming school year.

Floyd Hall Lands in Philadelphia.
Floyd Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hall, who left Pendleton as a member of Troop D, landed today in Philadelphia, according to a telegram received by his father. Hall was with the army of occupation as a member of the 148th Field Artillery. In January he was taken ill with Spanish influenza which developed into pneumonia, and was placed in Base Hospital No. 2, at Coblenz, Germany. One of Hall's experiences while overseas was a furlough spent in Italy.

Hermiston Farmers Have Creamery.
The farmers on the Hermiston irrigation project have organized a cooperative creamery company and have purchased from S. R. Oldaker the creamery formerly operated by him in Hermiston. There are nearly 600 dairy cows on the project and the new company has the united support of all the dairymen. The officers and directors are: George A. Crossy, president; William Hannan, vice president; Henry Somerer, secretary; J. A. Reid and T. P. Sullivan, directors.

Native of Pendleton Shown in Movies.
Last night's illustrated weekly at the Alta theater showed Lieutenant Berkeley Cox, a native of Pendleton, receiving a medal from the war department at the Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., for conspicuous bravery in action. Lieutenant Cox, who was severely wounded and who is convalescing at the hospital, is the son of the late Lewis Berkeley Cox at one time editor of the East Oregonian. Mr. Cox is a cousin of Norman Berkeley of this city, and after leaving here became the law partner of Joseph N. Teal of Portland, in the law firm of Teal & Cox. Lieutenant Berkeley, when a small child, left here with his parents.

Fishing Sunday Not Good.
Despite a large number of anglers out Sunday, few trout were taken from the waters according to returning anglers. Catches of three to six were the limit of a number of anglers and only three or four men got good baskets. The Umattila above and below Gibbon and Meacham creeks were fished by dozens but trout were lazy and only the experts could lure them to strike hard. Bob Wheeler got a full basket in the Umattila above Gibbon and Dan Bowman had fair luck in Meacham creek. Fishermen who went up the creek as far as Huron met with only fair success. Several baskets returned home empty.

County Farm to Be Kept.
For the present, at least, the county farm will be continued, county commissioners said today when asked whether further action on the farm is likely this month. The report filed by J. A. Horn, retiring superintendent, showed that the proceeds of the farm, coupled with the budget allowed by the county, kept the place operating without loss. The suggestion that it be abandoned and the patients kept at the state hospital was shown to be unnecessary. The average monthly cost per patient at the farm for five years was but $11.41, which is said to be about $5 less a month than the cost at the state institution.

Would Retain Bonds Control.
Literature from the departure of agriculture, arguing against the change in control of federal highways from that department to a commission to be created for that purpose, was received today by the Pendleton Commercial Association. The pamphlet contains a long argument by Secretary Houston against the proposed change. His contention being that the highway program is now in good working order, there are $200,000,000 available for roads and many federal and state cooperations are now in good working order. At the request of the National Highway Association several weeks ago the local association went on record as endorsing the creation of a federal highways commission to take over the work now handled by the department of Agriculture.
