

SOCIAL AND PERSONALS

Dr. Loretta Starba is moving her residence from the Laats Apartments where she has been temporarily domiciled since selling her home on East Webb St., to the ground floor apartment of the Wheeler cottage, 629 Johnson St.

Mrs. T. W. Dunlap of Seattle, is being welcomed for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dunlap. The guests arrived in Pendleton Sunday.

The missionary society of the Christian church will meet at the church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. All members are asked to be present and friends also are invited.

Filling the Presbyterian church last evening, friends of music and of the students of Miss Harriet Young listened to a recital which reflected abundant credit on the pupils and their instructor. Twenty-one students took part in an attractive program which comprised selections adapted to the ability of players of varying ages and study. First to appear was Roberta Morrison, who has been studying but six weeks, and she opened the program with two pieces well played. Janis Gherking, who has been studying about three months, is but five years of age and her playing compared well with the delightful work of older and more advanced students giving the program its breadth of interest. Twenty of the pupils are studying with Miss Young and Robert La Dow, who is a student of Miss Sadie Young. Blossoms and foliage which decked the church made an attractive scene for the musicale, tanking the room in abundance.

Mrs. Wade Privett is expected to arrive tonight from Oakland, California. She is called here by the illness of her father, W. N. Matlock, who is convalescing at St. Anthony's hospital after a severe attack of appendicitis.

E. J. Somerville and daughter, Miss Evelyn Somerville, left yesterday for a week's visit in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Schwartzberg and her house guest, Mrs. K. Jeltz of Spokane, have returned from a motor trip to Seattle and a number of Oregon and Washington cities. They have been away nearly a fortnight.

Mrs. Charles Hamilton left today for Portland where she will remain for a month as the guest of Mrs. William R. Ellis.

Miss Margaret Putnam will leave this evening for Salem, where she will spend her vacation visiting her mother.

A number of the pupils of Mr. and Mrs. Bert A. McDonald are to be heard in recital at the Presbyterian church, Friday evening, June 6. The program which promises much interest will be made up of piano and violin numbers, both solo and ensemble. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Five nurses who are being graduated from St. Anthony's hospital were complimented last evening in a delightful way when the sisters of the hospital entertained them with a lawn party. Red, white and blue streamers made the scene an attractive one and nurses of the hospital were asked to be guests. The five graduates are Miss A. Atteberry, Miss M. Kuteenthal, Miss M. Lynde, Miss M. Williams and Miss E. Phillips.

Graduates of St. Joseph's Academy will be honored by Junior and Sophomore students at a lawn fete to be given the latter part of this week or early next on the academy grounds. The affair which is to be held in the early evening hours, will be informal.

A motor party on route from Portland to Pennsylvania stopped for a day in Pendleton yesterday. Three machines are making the trip and some of the travelers met friends here, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harlow, who have visited in Pendleton before, being members of the party. Others were Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Clarke, Miss Madeline Clarke, Clarence Clarke and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scott and family. The entire party is from Portland.

The Lavender Club will meet with Mrs. C. E. Straub, 520 Thompson street, tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Mayme Hale left today for Portland, before her departure for a recent convalescent event was a shower given at the home of Mrs. W. E. L. Davis and shared by a group of friends who presented the honor guest with many charming gifts, her marriage to J. J. Burt, division auditor of the O-W. R. & N. being an event of the near future. Mrs. Davis' home was made most attractive by a profusion of red and white roses and the affair was a delightful one. Mrs. Hale has been in the O-W. R. & N. ticket office in Pendleton.

Dispensing hospitality to guests who are visiting the rose display in Englewoodman hall today, is a group of daily Japanese kowled maids who are assisting Mrs. James S. John in serving tea. They are Miss Mary Johns, Miss Joy Gross, Miss Helen Idleman and Miss Pearl Rankin. A punch bowl in charge of which is Mrs. David B. Hill, is being presided over by Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Lester Hamley.

Bright blue, jade green and copper pink are favorite tones for evening.

5900 IS WANTED FOR SALVATION ARMY

Pendleton Lodge B. P. O. E. Will Raise the County Quota.

The 15900 quota assigned to Umatilla county in the state-wide Salvation Army campaign will be raised through the efforts of Pendleton Lodge No. 288, B. P. O. E., at the request of the state organization of the Elks.

Fred Steiwer, Roy Ritter and Merle Chessman comprise a committee from the local lodge which will meet within the next few days and make arrangements for organizing the county.

The present plan is to raise the funds through personal solicitation. The assumption of the responsibility in aiding the Salvation Army is not new to the Elks, for all during the war the B. P. O. E. of the nation stood back of the organization and contributed outright a large part of the funds which the Salvation Army carried on its front line work.

The committee is confident that there will be no difficulty in raising the sum in this county because of the war record of the Salvation Army.

NEW TEXTBOOKS FOR SCHOOLS ADOPTED

Drawing, geography, writing, stenography, typewriting, English literature, algebra and higher arithmetic textbooks for use during the past six years in the schools of Oregon were not changed at the recent adoption of books by the state board of text book commissioners, according to an official list received today at Frasier's bookstore. Dictionaries now in use were also readopted.

SHOW SET FOR OCT. 22 AT HERMISTON

Hermiston will be the scene of the Umatilla county fair this fall, the fair board today having selected October 22, 23 and 24 for the hog and dairy show to be held there. An appropriation will also be asked from the county court to have exhibits from the boys and girls industrial school work. Exhibits of stock and irrigation products will be included in the show.

The county fair board held its annual meeting this morning at the office of Major Lee Moorhouse, secretary and treasurer, to take first steps toward the fair. E. P. Dodd of Hermiston and Louis Hodgen of Umatilla, W. W. Green of Pendleton, president, were present.

County fairs have been held in Pendleton and in the county towns for close to 15 years and before the days of the Round-Up were in the nature of an autumn jubilee as well as an exhibit of stock and farm products. The board plans to make this year's event a big one for the west end and will work hard to get a liberal appropriation for exhibits and prizes.

Hedges Funeral Tomorrow at 10.

The funeral of George W. Hedges, who died yesterday, at the age of 71 years, will be held from the Brown chapel tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Alfred Lockwood of the Church of the Redeemer, will conduct the services.

President's Plan Fought.

RICHMOND, Ind., June 3.—Timothy Nicholson, for many years president of the Anti-Saloon League of Indiana, said that the organization would fight President Wilson's recommendation concerning the making and selling of beer and light wines to a finish.

"Not only will the Anti-Saloon League resist the measure but it will be fought by all temperance advocates," he said. "It is not true that the laboring class is wholly 'wet.' Laborers have stood by the league and the 'dry' forces in many parts of the country."

Some men call women angels—but then you can't believe a word some men say.

(SPORT SUIT IS FIFTY) FIFTY

The silk sport suit is in particular favor this season, as evidenced by the successful model in plaid Kumei-Kumei silk, with blouse and skirt, cuffs, vestee and flap pockets of figured fabric. The wide hat is of the same material with a pleated edged mesh of deep rose and a rose and black silk scarf as a final touch.

ALL ENGLAND CELEBRATES.

som were almost impassable for the vast throngs, all making for the famous "Downs."

King George arrived just before the first race and the royal standard was hoisted on a racetrack for the first time in four years, amid tremendous enthusiasm.

Popular choices were W. K. Vanderbilt's French-bred colt McKinley, of whom the American trainer, D. Duke, thought a lot; Major Waldorf Astor's Buchan; Lionel Robinson's grey Stefan the Great (son of the "spotted wonder," The Tetrarch); Sir Alec Blake's The Panther; the French Duc Decazes, Rapidan; and Sir William Nelson's Tankier.

The race was for three-year-olds, colts carrying 126 lbs., and fillies 123 lbs., and was run over the famous mile and a half course, which until the war had been the scene of over 125 Derbys without a break. Substitute races were run at Newmarket during the war, but they never appeared like the real thing, and the "real Derby" was that of 1914, which was won by the American owner, H. B. Duryea's French-bred Durbar II. Today's race as worth about $20,000 to the owner of the winner, but the intrinsic value of the race is far greater, as "Derby winner" generally fetches an enormous sum, and earns undying fame, for stud purposes. The 1902 winner, Ard Patrick, sold for $200,000, while C. Hoyer Ismay's Craganore, who was just beaten by the sensational 1901 to 1 chance, Aboyer, in 1912, fetched $250,000.

Vast sums of money changed hands over today's result, in the numerous seepstakes, organized by practically every club in the British Empire, a "Derby sweep" being a tremendous attraction to people who ordinarily would not dream of risking a cent on a horse-race.

Robbers' Strategy Seen.

MARTINEZ, Cal., June 3.—Although Morris Halpin was handcuffed to a telegraph pole, along with David Damore, a Sacramento jeweler, by three men, who, they said, held up their automobile near here yesterday, Halpin, driver of the car, was arrested as an accomplice to the robbery upon Damore's request here today.
