

DAILY EAST OREGONIAN, PENDLETON, OREGON, FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1919.

GOLDEN WEST CREAMERY HAS HAD WHIRLWIND INCREASE IN BUSINESS SINCE SEPTEMBER

From 5000 Pcu'd Output Last September Output of Plant Has Jumped Above 28,000 Mark.

Five thousand pounds of butter was the output of the Golden West Creamery last September; for May the total output was 27,000 pounds, while prospects for June point to an output of 35,000 pounds. Such is the increase in the business of the local creamery, since increased by the Smythe-Tomorgan company. The company attributes 20 per cent of this increase to a natural increase in demand at this time, but the remaining increase may be taken as being due to new business done by the creamery.

The sale of butter to local firms by the Golden West creamery has doubled since September, not to mention the increase of sales outside of the city. In May 12,000 pounds of this product were shipped to Portland, where it received a premium above the market price for fancy butter. Commission brokers of Portland declared that the Pendleton product was the best on the market at that time and made offers for a carload to be sold as fancy butter.

L. S. Leech, formerly of Carlton, who for three years held the highest scoring in the Willamette valley as a butter maker, has charge of the butter making for the Golden West creamery.

Ice cream is another product for which the creamery is acquiring state-wide reputation. Arlington, Oregon, Pasco and Kennewick, Washington, are some of the out-of-town points where Golden West ice cream is being sold. The quality of the ice cream may be judged after hearing the opinion of E. L. Westover, of O. A. C. and C. P. Hoyt, of Salt Lake dairy experts who recently visited the city. Mr. Hoyt stated that the ice cream was the best he knew of, while Mr. Westover declared it was better than 95 per cent of the ice cream made in Portland, and as good as any made in other parts of the state.

Resides building up the creamery as a county institution and a Pendleton industry, the creamery offers a market for cream from Umatilla

Officers Catch Six Autos Laden With Booze Near Medford

MEDFORD, June 6.—A new whiskey smuggling wrinkle developed Wednesday when a Southern Pacific inspector and a representative of the Fruit & Hosiery Auto Co., examined a freight car loaded with six automobiles consigned to the company from the factory in Oakland, Cal., and discovered therein six gunnysacks containing 100 quarts of whiskey. The car arrived in the city the night before and the door seal was found broken. It is presumed that the whiskey smugglers, after the car was locked and sealed in Oakland, broke the door again en route, put in the whiskey consignment and closed the door again, intending to take the whiskey out when the car stopped in Oregon.

The automobile company turned the whiskey over to county authorities.

county farms. Half of the cream used comes from this county and the remainder from Idaho. The creamery is operating a cream truck which brings cream from Ukiah daily, which goes through the pasteurizer the same day as it arrives here. Cream is also shipped from Weston and other parts of the east end of the county besides being supplied from Pendleton and Pilot Rock.

Continuation of the present business of the creamery will lead to improvements in the plant which is located on Main street. The plan if enlarged, will remain at the old location which is considered a good one because of its facilities as a shipping site.

CITY'S POPULATION REACHES 601,000

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—San Francisco's population today is more than 601,000. Such are the figures given out by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce in its seventh annual statistical report. According to the report, in 1917 San Francisco had a population of 577,000 which increased more than 14,000 in a year's time. These figures are based on the number of telephone calls, electric light and water connections in the city.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, June 6.—When bids for the new engineering laboratory building at the college were opened by the board of regents it was found that they exceeded the estimate of $60,000 by nearly $30,000. The question of letting the contract has been placed in the hands of a committee of the board, consisting of President J. K. Weatherford, M. S. Woodcock, and Dr. W. J. Kerr.

N. Y. Will Award 450 Scholarships to Discharged Men

NEW YORK, June 6.—Honorable discharged soldiers, sailors, marines, will have an opportunity on June 20 to enter into competitive examination throughout New York State for educational scholarships. This offer by the State, fostered and fought through the Assembly by Senator Abraham Kaplan, is one of the most generous gifts which any State has given in recognition of war service.

When the bill was introduced in the Legislature last January it was widely discussed, and as a result of entanglements encountered before it finally became a law and conflicting reports made concerning it, confusion resulted and in the heavy mail being received by Senator Kaplan in his office at No. 149 Broadway it is evident that few persons, and particularly the soldiers, know the exact conditions and provisions of the law.

Under the law 450 scholarships will be awarded to honorably discharged men throughout the State. The examinations to determine an eligible candidate will be held in the various high schools in connection with the work in the East. A committee on June 20. Candidates are directed to make application to the principal of the high school where they wish to take the examination and also to notify the State Department of Education.

Wherein Patrol Wagon Becomes Dressing room

SPOKANE, June 6.—Because the river bank is no place for a pretty girl to be garbed in only filmy lingerie, the cops approached the scene, accompanying her to the patrol wagon.

Denying that she contemplated suicide, and asked for an explanation, the girl explained to the officers as follows:

"My escort and I were admiring the view when I fell into the water and ruined my dress. So my escort took it up to the cleaner's. He's been gone an hour, and goodness knows how I'm going to get back to the hotel."

Officer Joseph Scott offered his coat to the despondent girl sitting on the river bank. But it didn't suit her, only developing her bosom. "My undershirt only comes to my knees," she complained. Joe considered offering her the rest of his uniform, reconsidered and ordered, "Come along as you are; it isn't far to the wagon."

But as the patrol wagon started away, the escort appeared on the scene with the cleaned dress. So the patrol wagon became a dressing room while the cops and reporters admired the river view.

SUGAR SHORTAGE PERPLEXES HUNS

BERLIN, June 6.—The sugar famine from which Germany is now suffering is a mystery perplexing German housewives, as sugar, owing to the beetroot industry, has been scarce since the war. Because of the sugar shortage, the nation's supply of marmalade seems to be completely exhausted.

Political and industrial disturbances are blamed for the restricted output of beet sugar. The factories have been shut down altogether or are running on short hours.

Large quantities of sugar are said to have disappeared mysteriously or to have been confiscated by local soldiers and workmen's councils.

Choirboys Object to Working on Sunday; Strike, Play Marbles

- PARIS, June 6.—The choirboys of a chapel in the suburbs of Orleans went on strike several Sundays ago. Just before a high mass they left in a body and played marbles on the chapel steps. The choirmaster severely admonished them, but this produced no effect, and he resorted to cajolery.
- Some of the boys explained that they objected to the length of the sermon. Others objected to working on Sunday, and wanted work-ends off. The idea of transferring the sabbath to midweek so staggered the choir-master that he broke off the strike negotiations and re-entered their game.
- It is supposed that the choirboys had been demoralized by reading about the peace congress labor charter.

Field Marshal Haig Sells Whiskey Firm

LONDON, June 6.—The famous name of Haig may no longer appear on British bottles, and three famous soldiers will draw no more dividends from the sale of whiskey. Chief owners of that business of John Haig & Co., were Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, Lieut. Col. Oliver Haig and Major John Haig. They will receive more than $500,000 for their interest.

CAPT. STAFRIN MADE ADJUTANT GENERAL

SALEM, Or., June 6.—Captain Conrad Staffrin of Dallas, today was appointed adjutant general of the national guard of Oregon to succeed Colonel John L. May, who resigned recently to return to his service with the Southern Pacific company, Governor Olcott announced today.

Simultaneously with this announcement the executive let it be known that the office of the adjutant-general will be removed from Portland to Salem in the near future and that arrangements as well near a state of perfection to that end. The removal of the office from Portland to Salem is in line with recommendations made by Adjutant-General May, when he was retiring, by a preceding adjutant-general in his report for 1914, and is approved by the incoming adjutant-general, Captain Staffrin.
