BILLY SUNDAY MADE HIT WITH BIG CROWD

He tested the platform carefully with a few jumps, runs and dashes; took a deep breath and began. It was Billy Sunday's first talk in Pendleton and a multitude gathered at his feet to hear the voice of an ex-baseball player who, in his own words long ago decided "that God is always on the job. You can't put it over on Him. He always plays ball and he hits the ball every time."

His message was a simple one aimed straight at the average man and woman, and Billy summed it up by saying: "Live a life of service; men will admire you; women will respect you and little children will love you."

The victory of America over Hun was touched upon by the speaker. "We showed those filthy, lying Prussians that they could not continue on their way after wiping their bloody feet upon the naked heart of weeping Belgium. We showed this to a people whose eagle has become a vomiting, rotten turkey buzzard."

"Their Kaiser," he continued, "is so low that he will need an airship to reach Hell. He said he would eat Christmas dinner in Paris; poor fool, he will never eat another dinner in Berlin."

Prohibition never had a stronger ally than Billy. "Thank God that curse that has sent the laborer home with empty pockets is gone," he shouted. "I'm glad the United States is so dry you have to prime a man to make him spit."

The crowd was wild with enthusiasm for the address and Billy made three attempts to close his talk before the thousands who listened would permit him.

He paid a tribute to Pendleton, saying: "Pendleton is the place where there are 14 inches to the foot; 28 inches to the yard, and where they pay $1.02 cents on the dollar."

"I know of no president who has had harder duties to face since Washington and Lincoln than has President Wilson and he has met his duties well," said Billy in one of several bursts of praise for the American war president.

The noted evangelist was introduced by Will M. Peterson, who with Mayor Vaughan occupied the platform during the talk.

The clatter of the feet of many Pendleton children as they ran up and down the roofs of the Happy Canyon buildings, mingled with shouts and general merrymaking, combined to almost outwit the grown-ups who attended the Sunday lecture. Many people declared that in spite of the fact that Billy was hoarse and was speaking in the open air, he would have been plainly audible had the youngsters been curbed by their parents. Ma Sunday made several attempts to stop the noise and finally made a trip to the spot where the hub-hub was at its height in an effort to restore order.

THE WAY OF OYSTERS

"Ah, waiter, tell me, are the oysters good?"

"The ones I ate were, mister, but I don't know how you're going to tell whether or not one oyster is good by eating another."

GENERAL LIGGETT APPROVES GERMAN CHEATER'S SENTENCE

COBLENTZ, July 7.—Sentences imposed upon Julius Mayer and Hugo Oehler, managers of a German steel works near Prun, within the occupied area, were approved by Lieutenant General Hunter Liggett, commander of the Army of Occupation. The men were convicted on charges of failing to deliver to the American forces 200,000 shells and shell forgings. They were sentenced to six months imprisonment and fined 10,000 marks each by a military commission.

Captain Machhauer, assigned by the German army to duty in Coblenz, was fined 1,000 marks today for refusing to salute an American lieutenant. The captain contended the war was over and that, anyhow, the regulations did not call for his saluting an officer of lower rank. This is the first instance of an action of this kind since a definite turn was taken in the peace situation.

COURT STREET MEN ROAST COMMITTEE

Court street businessmen are enraged over what they feel was unfair treatment by the fourth of July committee and today presented the following tropical communication to the committee:

Pendleton, Ore., July 7, 1919.

The Fourth of July Celebration Committee,

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned Court Street Merchants, wish to hereby express our thanks to you for the consideration shown us; the value delivered for our subscriptions to the Celebration Fund; the amusements staged on our street, including the many band concerts; and the general unselfishness displayed in carrying out the well known Pendleton spirit of fair play to every one who puts up his money to help the community interest, such as Fourth of July celebrations and others of a similar nature.

The money collected from Court Street for occasions of this kind, or of other kind, we believe, is as good as the money collected from any other street and we had faith in the committee giving us a fair deal when spending the money.

Now, gentlemen, we have been jobbed this way in the past and said nothing but when it was called to the attention of your members during this last celebration we expected some consideration would be shown us—it was not.

This will serve as a notice to further committees that they need not waste their time soliciting on Court street unless full guarantee is given that our street will receive the same consideration in the placing of bands and other attractions, that any other street receives.

We are Loyal Pendletonians but want Value Received for our money.

Signed:
