What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

ALTA SUNDAY AND MONDAY
ANNA Q. NILSSON IN A
PLAY OF THE YUKON

"The Way of the Strong." Is New Metro Drama to be Shown at the Alta Theatre.

"The Way of the Strong," a story of the great northwest, is a play of tremendous dramatic value which given Anna Q. Nilsson, beautiful star of the production, a dual role.

This play which will be featured at the Alta theatre, is a story of the northlands—showing the forceful passions which rule in the land of open spaces where love and purity hold high value but where narrow conventions are never known. The two roles in which Miss Nilsson appears, vary widely. In the first scene she enacts the character of an unfaithful wife, while later she is seen as the girl who brings ultimate love and happiness to many lives.

Miss Nilsson is surrounded by a cast of clever players among whom are Joe King, Harry S. Northrup, Irene Yeager, Arthur Redden and Rita Harlan. The play is adapted from the novel of the same name by Ridgewell Cullum and is directed by Edwin Carewe.

ARCADE SUNDAY AND MONDAY
GRIFFITH FILMS A STORY
IN HIS BOYHOOD HOME

In the field of the silent drama the name of David Wark Griffith, producer of "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," "Hearts of the World," "The Great Love" and other notable photoplays which have achieved enormous success the world over, is a power second to none. The unrivaled productions bearing his name are household words all over the country.

Is an Authority.

Mr. Griffith is an authority on advanced cinema technique, and every new production of his offers the public delightful surprises in the way of artistry and superb finish, so that it is not surprising that he should be today perhaps the most accomplished producer of gigantic cinema spectacles in the world.

Mr. Griffith was born near Louisville, Ky., his father having been the late Brigadier-General Wark Griffith of the Confederate Army. Mr. Griffith was for two years an actor when the possibilities of the film industry appealed to him so strongly that he associated himself with the Biograph Company. His unusual creative ability soon attracted the attention of the studio executives, and it was not long before he was made a director.

Introduced Close-Ups

In this capacity Mr. Griffith introduced innovations which changed the whole course of the motion picture art such as "close-ups," "cut backs" and the like. Many of the players whom he trained for the screen in the early days are now among the most prominent artists in the field of the silent drama. Chief among these is Mary Pickford, whose Arcraft pictures
