Three tanks, one for gasoline, one for distillate and one for oil will be erected. Each of these tanks will have a capacity of 10,000 gallons. From this supply station territory adjacent to the twin cities will be supplied.

The general outlook for the city of Union is better than for a long time according to the Republican. There is scarcely a vacant house in the city, several sales of city property are reported recently, there are inquiries for more, and the tendency of property as to price is upward.

Plans for annual harvest gathering of Morrow county, are gradually taking shape and it is confidently anticipated that the coming Fair will be a most successful one. About the earliest threshing the Weston Leader has heard of on Reed and Hawley mountain took place a few days ago when the small volunteer barley crops of C. L. Pinkerton and Jacob Narhaus were harvested. Mr. Pinkerton had about 115 sacks and Mr. Narhaus 160 sacks—the yield being seven or eight sacks per acre.

Farmers on the Furnish-Coe project were offered $22.50 for alfalfa hay, stack measure f. o. b. Stanfield Thursday. This is said to be the highest price offered in the county according to the standard. Buyers say this high price is owing to the excellent quality of the hay in this section.

The hay market in Hermiston is very good at present the Herald reports, and looks as though it will be for some time, according to one of the leading dealers in this commodity operating in this city. Baled hay is now commanding $12 and loose hay is bringing the ranchers $18, with prospects of a raise.

Henri March, of Freewater, has purchased seven lots, all in bearing fruit trees, from F. K. Noordhoff, the Times says. The property lies south of the O. W. R. & N. depot. Mr. Noordhoff immediately bought the Eva Hagler property on Broadway, consisting of house and two lots.

Plans for the proposed Elks building at Heppner were submitted to the building committee last Saturday evening but were not accepted. Howard says the estimated cost being rather more than the committee cared to assume without further action by the lodge. Mr. Bennes the architect returned to Portland Sunday expecting to return within a week or so with the plans so modified that they can be accepted.

Work on the section of road between Freewater and State Line is progressing rapidly the Milton Eagle says. The crew is now nearing the Washington line. The grading crew is engaged in straightening a dangerous place in the road near State Line eliminating two almost right angle turns. Upon completion of the north end of the highway, work will be directed toward Milton. Within a few weeks the crew will be at work on the streets of Milton.

Resolved to take no more chances of shortage of water, the Associated Ditch companies will add 10 feet to the height of the dam at the foot of Wallawa lake this fall, and will fill the vast reservoir next spring the Enterprise Record Chiefly says. The dam built two years ago never has been used, partly because the irrigation companies were not perfectly sure it would hold.

The complete plans for Heppner's new three-story hotel building were accepted by the Heppner Hotel Association at a meeting Friday evening.
