"Industrial Preparedness"

If a stone wall were built around this county—if it were entirely cut off from intercourse with the rest of the world—the people resident in this favored section would probably find their needs more nearly supplied than if they dwelt in any other locality of the world. We have cheap power, fuel supplies, ideal climatic conditions, unsurpassed transportation, splendid living conditions and varied raw material resources—more so than almost any section.

Now, no one wants to build a wall around this city and decree that all of our trading should be done at home. It would be foolish even if possible. We must sell to all the world and so must buy more or less in other markets. We cannot claim that our city is altogether sufficient unto itself.

But when the home market can do as well for home buyers as any other market no one can blame us for patronizing our own. And this doctrine applies to all communities, large or small.

By spending our money for home made goods we not only help our industries increase their efficiency, lower their costs, enlarge their volume, give work to our working people, but we help our own situations, and plant possibilities for the future of the thousands of young people our schools are training.

We can best prepare for our future industrial security and growth by Buying and Boosting Home Products.
