ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20.—Milton Hackney, negro, 45 1/2, South Ewing avenue, employed at the national stock yards in East St. Louis, rode a stockyard horse home from work yesterday because of the East Side street car strike. The horse seemingly was not accustomed to seeing automobiles, but Hackney managed to get him as far as Jefferson and Lawton avenues, where the animal shied at an automobile and began prancing about.

He pranced right up to the sidewalk in front of the Douglas Hotel, 2845 Lawton avenue, and into the open door. Hackney staying on his back. Well, Anyway, She Wont Have to Stand For Mother In Law

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 20.—Youth's dauntlessness had another demonstration, and an impressive one, too, in northeast Baltimore this afternoon when a girl of sixteen automatically assumed responsibility in triple degree and at the same time sternness of nine infants. These additions to her relationship seemed through the common law right of marital possession because of her marriage to a man more than four times her age.

The bride, Miss Elsie Walker, the benedict is William H. Rosenberger. No secret was made of the fact that his children were not at all crazy about the marriage, and it was remarked: "You bet none of them will be at the ceremony."

All details of the wedding were arranged by the bride. Just before the wedding the bridegroom said: "I'm sixty-seven years old, but many a person tells me I don't look a day over forty."

Rosenberger has two sons, one a lawyer in West Virginia, the other in politics in Pennsylvania.

Japan Open to New Ideas

TOKYO, Aug. 20.—Japan is all in readiness to welcome the new ideas of the world developed by the war. Japanese opposition to introduction of the ideas that changed world conditions have created would take the country back into feudal days, according to M. Nakaguchi, minister of education.

"The propagation of democratic ideas which has been brought in by this war has an impetus to the new ideas in Japan, where freedom of thought has long been subject to regulations. This is a satisfactory sign of the times."

"It must be remembered, however, that as well as good ideas are apt to find their way here. As the constitutional ideas of the people are still undeveloped, there is danger of their becoming contaminated with radical ideas."

"In my opinion the so-called new ideas are prevalent only in a restricted section of society and are not so dangerous as some fear. If influx of all foreign ideas is prohibited, owing to their possible harmful nature, that will mean reversion to the feudal days when Japan was isolated from foreign intercourse and the import of all foreign ideas was zealously guarded."

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—With the aid of 25 suits of clothes, a chauffeur and a touring car, and a "convenient" way with business men, Herman J. Blumson, president of the Star Cereal and Milling Co., and president of the Jewish Educational Alliance, is accused of defrauding five of the largest banks in Chicago and Milwaukee of $300,000, and to build two mills here costing more than $275,000, according to police information.

The police believe he has fled to Europe or South Africa.

At the time Blumson owned the unusual number of suits to live in a $5-a-week room, the landlady of his rooming house said. Blumson came here recently from South Africa, and he bought and completed a mill costing $100,000 with no securities except his ability to convince business men that he "had a number of government contracts," it is alleged. Later he built a new mill at a cost of about $275,000.

According to published reports of his activities, Blumson received letters that he "had a number of government contracts," it is alleged. Later he built a new mill at a cost of about $275,000.

Brown Is In Marked Favor For Fall Says Paris Style Display

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Paris' first real display of style since the war began is being attended by about 300 American buyers, who, however, are showing themselves to be more independent of the dictates of French dressmakers than ever before.

Brown, according to the new models, is again in marked favor. Soft materials are used generally, and flounces, puffs and the design of the new models tend toward the strictly feminine appearance. There is not the slightest suggestion of the masculine, tailor-made effects of the past.

Paris is doing a brisk business, hanging seven to eight inches from the ground, American buyers, the dressmakers say, are ridiculing the shortness of the gown, although frankly admitting American skirts have been too long.

It is said to be likely American women will be offered a compromise in lengths. One prominent American buyer laughed at a dressmaker's suggestion that Americans want long skirts because American women do not have pretty ankles.

Brown the buyers say, is shown in scores of shades. Scores of beautiful models do not wear corsets and make every effort to preserve the soft contour of their figures. The styles generally show a slight fullness on the hips in the form of soft panniers, with pleats and accordion pleats.

Collars are high in many cases, with embroidered, flat paillettes and metallic ribbons of a leather-like texture form the trimmings for afternoon frocks, the majority of which are made with coats to match.

All materials are soft. Velvet, soft serge, velour de laine, chiffon and such are used with great effectiveness in gowns and costumes.

Coats with afternoon costume come just below the hips and follow Dick Turpin lines, by means of a girdle or braiding. Skirts are narrower at the feet, giving a peg top suggestion. Fur collars reach to the eyes.

American buyers say they are having almost a battle with Parisian dressmakers over the backless evening gowns offered, which the Americans are insisting on having filled in with lace, black and gold, raven blue, mole and cinnamon and the prevailing tones for evening gowns.

Hats for fall and winter are both large and small, but in all cases will frame the face. Velvet is the most popular fabric for hats, and trimmings will be of ostrich feathers, ostrich and monkey fur.

Leviathan Leaves on Last Transport Trip From U. S. to Europe

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Sailing on her last voyage as a transport, the Leviathan left Hoboken yesterday for Brest. She is expected to bring Gen. Pershing and part of the First Division home and arrive here September 10.

The ship will be placed in dry dock and refitted for passenger and commercial service.

While no announcement has been made by the government as to her disposition, it is understood that the shipping board will operate her between here and two European ports, one in England and one in France. These may be Southampton and Cherbourg. The Imperator will sail in September on her last voyage as a transport. She may be turned over to the British government under the loss of tonnage paid. The Hamburg-American line still owns her and the government had paid for her charter in food sent to Germany, the German government in turn reimbursing her owners.

BRITAIN'S WAR WORK SHOWS ITS EFFECTS

LONDON, Aug. 21.—War work and life in the trenches have left marked effects upon many women and men now in civilian life. Declare physicians and other acute observers, while they have increased the cost of living.

Expert dressmakers say many women profited by the war, because their figures were greatly improved and their curves were rounded by much exercise in the open air. But shoe-makers declare the feet of these war-cultured Venuses, especially of those who were employed on land, increased in size, because they wore much roomier shoes than those to which they had been accustomed.

Thousands of fighting men have acquired the habit of smoking not fewer than fifty cigarettes a day, and this now adds nearly $5 to a man's weekly expenses, even if he puffs cheap cigarettes. Steel helmets are considered responsible for the epidemic of baldness.

GET KEYS OF LONDON IN U. S. OFFICERS KIT

BOSTON, Aug. 21.—Two ancient keys to the Lord Mayor's mansions in London, found at Camp Devens in the baggage of an American army officer, are in the hands of the intelligence department here. Each is about 10 inches long, and they were found in the officer's bedding roll. The officer has not been at Camp Devens and it is thought his baggage was sent there by mistake.

How the keys came into his possession was not made known here. Army officials at the northeastern department declined to comment on a report that the keys had been handed to Gen. Pershing on his visit to London as a symbol of the granting of the freedom of the city, and were missing when the time came for returning them to the Lord Mayor.

GERMANY FEARS LONG RANGE GUN

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—Conscription of various classes of men, up to 35 years of age, will be decreed soon, according to information given the correspondent today. Authority in this direction, it is expected, will be given the government by the national assembly soon, and it is understood that Gustave Noske, mentioned for the post of national defense, will adopt measures to reestablish the army.

Recruiting of volunteers has failed. The contemplated emergency action has been hastened by the increasing menace of Poland and more urgent need for forestalling an expected bolshevik invasion.

The present chaos in Germany's military organization, due to demobilization and disorganization of all authority and discipline, which is being accentuated by the dominating rule of the revolutionary soldiers' councils, has brought the nation to a point, it was stated, where it is now incapable of hastily mobilizing an equipped force of even the modest dimensions required for such an apparently small task as defending the German Polish frontier.

The bolsheviks are now near enough to the German frontier to be able to bombard Luck, Bydtkuhen, Tilsit, Memel and other points with average long range guns.

In addition to the military activities of the Poles, who are reported to be becoming bolder every day, Germany also is forced to reckon with Saxons. Both these fronts are long projecting into German territory.

Texas Democrats Are Not Far Apart the Politicians Declare

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 21.—Plans for organizing the "American Party," organized here yesterday by a group of dissatisfied Texas Democrats, will be put into effect upon appointment of a special committee for that purpose, it was stated today.

Meanwhile the other faction of Democrats, pledged to a plan of reconstruction within the party, went ahead with plans for a line of attack under the leadership of former Senator Joseph W. Bailey.

Political observers declare the factions simply are divided as to the means to attain a common end and find significance in the following utterances of Mr. Bailey:

"We intend to follow the principles adopted yesterday wherever they may lead us. If the Democratic party, state and national, comes to these principles, then we are with the Democratic party. If not, in any way, we will follow these principles wherever they may lead us."

A Texas convention of the new party will be called by the executive committee at a date not yet decided upon.

YOU NEED NOT SUFFER FROM CATARRH

But You Must Drive It Out of Your Blood.

Catarrh is annoying enough when it chokes up your nostrils and air passages, causing difficult breathing and other discomforts. Real danger comes when it reaches down into your lungs.

This is why you should at once realize the importance of the proper treatment, and lose no time experimenting with worthless remedies which touch only the surface. To be rid of Catarrh, you must drive the disease germs out of your blood.

Splendid results have been reported from the use of S. S. S., which acts on the catarrh germs in the blood.
