G. A. R. POST BACKS LEGION IN FIGHT ON UNFRIENDLY ALIENS

Unqualified Support Voted
Clatsop Post in Resolution
Adopted at Meeting Yesterday;
Deportation Sanctioned

ASTORIA, Sept. 16.—Cushing Post, No. 14, Grand Army of the Republic, unqualifiedly supports Clatsop post, American legion, in its campaign against slackers and unfriendly alien newspapers. At its meeting yesterday a resolution signed by Robert N. Abbott, commander, and A. D. Craig, acting past adjutant, was adopted as follows:

"Resolved, That we fully and unreservedly indorse the action of Clatsop Post, No. 12, Oregon branch, American Legion of America, in its efforts to raise the standard of American citizenship and to make United States a fit place for clean American manhood and womanhood, and to preserve our government for Americans only.

"That we condemn all slackers, draft evaders, unfriendly alien newspapers, whether printed in English or in an alien language; that we believe that the men who have gone forth to battle for the preservation of our glorious republic, and to keep our flag unsullied should have first consideration in matter of employment.

"Resolved further, That Cushing post is in full accord with Clatsop post, American legion, in its efforts to have all slackers, I. W. W., unfriendly aliens and their sympathizers ousted from all places of profit or employment under national, state, county, city or private control, and that where it can be legally done they be deported and their places filled with men and women who bore the brunt of the battle."

DOLLAR WORTH 27 CENTS IS TESTIMONY, COST HAS INCREASED 73 PER CENT

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—The American dollar is worth but 27 cents today. Professor William Ogburn of Columbia university placed this valuation on the American dollar today while testifying for the stockyards employees at the wage hearing before Federal Judge Aleschuler.

"Since before the war the cost of living in the United States has increased 73 per cent," Professor Ogburn testified. "I base my estimate on careful investigation."

"From June 1, 1918, to the latter part of August, 1919, the cost of living went up 9 per cent. During the same period of time I found that wholesale prices went up 6 per cent.

"There is now considerable slow starvation in the United States resulting from under nourishment," Professor Ogburn declared.

GOLD AND SILVER MINES BY SUMPTER WILL SOON OPEN

Eureka and Excelsior Properties Leased by Oregon-Idaho Investment Company of Baker; Claims Leased.

BAKER, Sept. 16.—Announcement has been made that the Eureka and Excelsior mine properties near Sumpter, recognized as one of the best gold and silver holdings in Oregon, have been leased from the Bourne Mining company, owners, by the Oregon-Idaho investment company of Baker, and will be operated under the management of John Arthur, as soon as preparations for reopening the workings can be completed. Work upon renovating the plant has already started, but eight or nine months will be required to rebuild the plant and install new machinery. Claims adjacent to the E. & E. properties have also been leased, and the new holders expect to extend their operations to these ore sources as soon as circumstances permit.

Clark Tabor and George Jannic located the E. & E. in 1873, later selling to a San Francisco party for $12,000, when the E. & E. company was organized and a $200,000 plant installed. After being operated at small profit for four years, the mine was shut down until 1886, when it was reopened for 6 months by the Powder River Mining company.

Litigation caused another period of inactivity until 1914, when J. H. Longmaid & Son of Montana took the properties over and mined them for three and a half years and are reported to have extracted more than 250,000 in profits during that time. They were refused a lease renewal, and matters remained in unsettled condition until 1905, when the Bourne Gold Mining company in which ex-Senator Jonathan Bourne owned a controlling interest, bought the E. & E. mines at public auction. Previous to 1899 the total yield of precious metals from these holdings was reported at nearly $1,500,000. Estimates of tonnage booked out placed a valuation of about $1,000,000 on the mine at that time.

John Thomas was placed in charge of the workings later, and operated them for the Bourne company with varying success until 12 years ago, when operations ceased. Mr. Thomas says that present developments show an unbroken ore shoot 1800 feet long and four feet wide, ranging in value from $11 to $22 a ton. He believes the E. & E. to have the largest ore reserve of any mine in Oregon.

The Oregon-Idaho Investment Co. is planning the installation of a water power and electrically driven plant, including modern hammer drills, with tube mills for fine grinding. The flotation process will be used in concentration. It is believed that the tonnage in sight will maintain the mill for a great length of time. Necessary water and ditch rights are insured.

VEHICLE ACCIDENTS SHOULD BE REPORTED

Persons who have accidents with their vehicles and fail to report their troubles to the police are arousing the ire of the police committee of the city council. The state law and city ordinances require that accidents involving vehicles or vehicles and persons be reported to the police.

Last Thursday night a man was struck by a vehicle and his arm broken, according to the police committee. The newspapers were not notified nor were the police. As a result neither the victim nor the persons inflicting the injury are officially known to the police.

It is a matter of protection to both parties that the accidents should be reported. The committee points out. In case of legal action, a report to the police, names of witnesses, time of day, circumstances, etc., might be of inestimable help. Especially is this true of an accident which results in heavy damage or in fatalities.

Not all blame for faulty is placed upon individuals by the police committee, for there have been cases in which police were not alive to their duty in such matters.

Persons whose cars collide with another or injure pedestrians should go at once to police headquarters and tell their story, if not to the police, then to the recorder. An attempt is to be made to check up on accidents not reported hereafter, the police committee says, and deal with offenders.

SALEM, Sept. 16.—There is but a hairline's difference between those aliens who renounced their American citizenship in order to escape the draft and a traitor, in the opinion of Fred J. Williams of the public service commission. The occasion for Williams' declaration of opinion on this particular subject is a reply to a circular recently sent out by the Liberty Temple, American legion, at Portland, in which he says:

Replying to your circular of the 6th current, relative to the employment of persons who renounced their citizenship to fighting the late war, will say I was connected with many occasions to advance on such difficulties.

Without reservation, I indorse every suggestion made in your letter and will unhesitatingly undertake to enforce every letter of your request.

There is but a hairline's difference between these birds and traitors, and that in theory only. I am not sure, therefore, that Uncle Sam would be so solicitous about returning such individuals to their native countries. Just take them out on one of the ocean highways and turn them loose on a raft so they can hunt an island and use their own judgment about future affiliations, thereby granting them the privilege of taking out naturalization in some South Sea island without any further incumbrance. Give them a choice of oceans, then enact a provision of this character as a part of the League of Nations.

As a state official of Oregon, I will be glad to help you in every way and be grateful of the opportunity.

Assuring you that my very greatest concern is in the penalty, for guilt and the intentions of such enemies is self evident. I beg to remain always 100 per cent plus American.

DANCING MONKEY LURES LITTLE GIRL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—Josephine Paton, 4 years old, a daughter of Mrs. Julia Paton, 951 Eddy street, yesterday followed an Italian organ grinder and his dancing monkey so far from home she became lost. Apparent to the police an hour later, she was found in a vacant lot, and returned home by her mother.

Assured in leaving musician, organ monkey and itinerant audience of one little girl at Clay and Broderick streets.

As a strengthening tonic for love that has become weak there is nothing better than a little indifference.

FEMININE STYLES TO BE "MUCH DIFFERENT" FASHION-MAKERS SAY

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Feminine styles for the coming fall will be much different than those now in vogue, fashion-makers say. Skirts will be longer, much wider, and more conservative. This is the news coming from the Fashion Art League in convention here today.

SENTIMENT SURGING TO BOSTON STRIKERS

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—Sentiment favoring a general strike in sympathy with striking police is growing today. The United Hebrew trades with a membership of 30,000 voted to walk out if the central labor union calls a general strike. Other unions voting on the strike question gave unmistakable signs that they are in favor of such action.
