

BOTH PARTIES IN STRIKE CONCEDE IN SETTLEMENT

British Railway Workers Returning Today Following Agreement Yesterday Ending Greatest Labor Walkout.

WAGES REMAIN SAME UNTIL SEPT. 30, 1920

Government Will Give Arrears in Pay Withheld Due to Contract Breach and Strikers Agree to Wage Level.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—British railway workers are returning to work today following a concession made by both the strikers and government yesterday which ended Britain's greatest labor walkout.

Under terms of the settlement wages will remain at their present level until September 30, 1920, when they will be reviewed in the light of existing circumstances.

The government will pay arrears in wages which were withheld due to the strikers' breach of contract. The government also made the concession of reopening negotiations with the strikers after the premier had refused to participate in further discussion until the men returned to work.

Strikers conceded to readjustment of the wage level in September, 1920 and granted minor concessions regarding minimum wages.

The formation of a citizens guard, instituted by Lloyd George is proceeding despite the strike settlement. Volunteers continue to enroll and it is expected the guard will be maintained for use in future strikes.

Improvement Slow. It is increasingly apparent from the statement of those about the president that his improvement will be a slow process, and that the rebuilding of his nervous strength can only be accomplished by a protracted rest.

John is the last of the Athens doughboys to receive his discharge from overseas service, but by no means the least—for he has taken on bone, muscle and sinew and every tall inch of him looks fit in every sense of the word.

He saw real trench service from the time he landed on French soil until the armistice was signed, and it is one of the few from this section of the county who fought in the very front trenches where steel was met with steel, grenade with grenade, and where the trench mortar and machine gun nowed down waves after wave of the gray-clad hordes.

And he is glad that he is out of it all without receiving a scratch. the trenches with the Third Division and participating in the grand reviews held in foreign capitals and in New York and Washington, as a unit of the splendid picked regiment of sixfooters which accompanied General Pershing home from France.

ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF GUN FATAL TO MRS. GILMAN FOLSOM

The accidental discharge of a gun caused the death of Mrs. Gilman Folsom yesterday when the entire charge from the weapon entered Mrs. Folsom's breast as she leaned against a machine in which the gun was lying.

Allen Folsom, nephew of Mrs. Folsom, Lloyd McInnis of this city, and Lloyd Flint of Worcester, Massachusetts, were in the front seat of the car when they stopped in front of the Folsom ranch near Pendleton. Mrs. Folsom came to the car and after urging the boys to stay for dinner, opened the door in the rear of the car where the gun, with the pheasants the boys shot that morning, was lying. The fatal shot occurred immediately and it is thought that in some way a slight jar caused the release of the safety on the gun.

GRAPPLERS WILL MEET NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

Wrestling will be in the balance Thursday night when Lloyd Ireland, 125 pounds, and Rex Walker, 132 pounds, grapple in the Oregon theater. Walker will arrive from Sacramento Wednesday, and is said to be undefeated at his weight, and as Ireland is a hard man to put on his back, a fast go is predicted. Ireland wrestled during Round-Up in a handicap match and gave a fine exhibition. If the match Thursday night is well supported, he says he will promote wrestling bouts in Pendleton during the winter. The boys will go two falls out of three to a finish.

SHARE OF RULE, PROFITS TALKED IN ROUND TABLE

Industrial Conference Called by President Wilson, Opens Today in Washington; Meeting to Benefit Labor.

HARVARD COLLEGE HEAD PLACES FIRST PROPOSAL

Representatives of Capital and Employes Discuss Means of Eliminating Strike as Weapon; Settle Unrest.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Share in the management and profits of all industry for labor was one of the first proposals placed before the round table industrial conference which opened here today at President Wilson's call. President Emory R. Hoit of Harvard, submitted the proposal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (United Press)—Capital, labor and the farmers to-day sat down to a round table industrial conference to "talk things over."

Out of their talk, President Wilson, who called the conference, hopes will come the means of "bettering the whole relationship between capital and labor and putting the whole question of wages upon another footing."

More than this, the president is known to believe, that on the outcome of the conference to-day depends in a great measure the security and happiness of the United States both internally and internationally. First, what the conference does will have an effect on the high cost of living. If capital and labor can reach a basis of harmonious action, the president has made plain, production will increase and this will bring down prices. Furthermore capital will be more ready to undertake new enterprises both at home and abroad.

Second, what decisions the conference reaches will have a determining effect on whether there is to be a constant recurrence of strikes that have followed one another since the signing of the armistice. Unless they do end, well informed officials here believe this country is facing an upheaval that will shake every nation on the globe.

Third, out of the conference, the president hopes, will come the beginnings of the democratization of industry.

COW IS BLAMED FOR ARREST THAT PUZZLES POLICE COURT JUDGE

About a year ago, J. E. Troxel and William Lyday had a slight altercation regarding a cow, so Troxel told Police Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald Saturday afternoon. Lyday is now traffic officer for the city and county and on Friday arrested Troxel for the second time within a fortnight, charged with speeding. "He has it in for me because of that cow affair," Troxel told the judge.

When the farmer with a grievance had finished the cow story, he was asked to plead to the speeding charge and he declared he was not guilty. The judge took the word of the officer, however and pronounced a fine of $10. Troxel gave notice of appeal and posted a $50 bond.

Now what worries Judge Fitz Gerald, is a provision in the city charter which says no case can be appealed where the fine is less than $20. Troxel has retained counsel, however, and is said to be prepared to fight the matter out in circuit court.

RANKS CONFERRED ON HIGH SCHOOL CADETS

With due military ceremony, the lieutenants, sergeants and corporals of the Pendleton high school cadets were formally appointed this morning at the regular drill period. Honorary Commandant H. E. Taylor gave a short, spicy talk to the boys as he handed them the paper conferring their rank. During the ceremony the cadets in the ranks stood at attention. Commandant Earl E. Fleischman also spoke briefly and instructed the companies concerning the officers and their duties.

The companies were also reorganized. Lieutenant Claud Snow was given charge of the first company, Lieutenant Lloyd Austin of the second company, and Lieutenant Donald Woodworth of the third company. Other officers were given their permanent positions.

The first squad of Company I in charge of Corporal Carlton La Dow, will be the color squad during this week. The color squad report in front of the high school building at 8:45 in the morning, and at 4 in the afternoon for the purpose of raising and lowering the flag. The duty is accompanied by a short ceremony.

ELLER HURLS BEAUTIFUL GAME FANNING NINE BATTERS WHILE ALLOWING CHICAGO THREE HITS

Table with columns: At Chicago—, Cincinnati—, Chicago—, Batteries: Eller and Rariden; Williams, Mayer and Schalk, Lynn.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Cast off by the Sox once upon a time because he would not do, Hod Eller, "shine-ball" expert, took revenge in the fifth game of the world series when he shut out the Sox 5 to 0. Eller allowed only three hits and fanned nine.

Thirty thousand Sox fans who came to cheer for Chicago remained to cheer Eller throughout one of the most marvelously pitched games in world series history. Only 31 batsmen faced him in the entire game and never after the first inning was the big pitcher in danger.

As in the first two games at Cincinnati, one inning's attack put the game on ice for the Reds. Eller himself initiated the bruising attack in the sixth that sent Claude Williams to his second defeat of the series, Eller's long fly dropped between Jackson and Felsch for a two base hit and Eller took a long chance, trying to stretch it for a triple. Felsch heaved wildly to third and Eller was safe. Rath singled scoring Eller.

Neither side scored in the first four innings, Williams holding the Reds hitless, while Eller allowed one. Eller struck out all six men who faced him in the second and third innings.

RIGID ENFORCEMENT OF DIMMER RULE ASSURED

Rigid enforcement of the state law with regard to dimming of bright headlights on the state highways is promised by Traffic Officer William Lyday. The law requires that vehicles equipped with electric headlights must use their dimmers or a spotlight when approaching and passing another vehicle. Violators are subject to fine.

W. E. Jones was arrested last evening on the highway for violation of the dimmer provision of the law and others are warned by Lyday that they will be brought to court if found offending. Jones paid a $5 fine in justice court today.

W. J. Burns, charged with having no license for a car he was driving, paid $5 in justice court.

BIRDS MORE PLENTIFUL SAY PHEASANT HUNTERS

Pheasants this year are much more plentiful than last year, say Pendleton sportsmen who found hunting excellent yesterday, the first day of the open season on China pheasants.

During the early hours of the morning the bombardment began and practically all hunters came back with birds. J. J. Hamley, who with four others formed a hunting party yesterday came home with five birds and reports that the rest of his party were just as successful. A party of three of which Henry Taylor of this city was a member, got 13 birds.

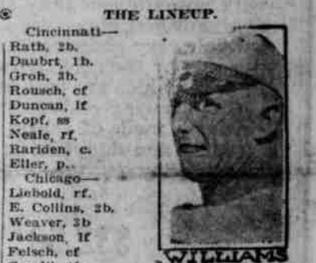

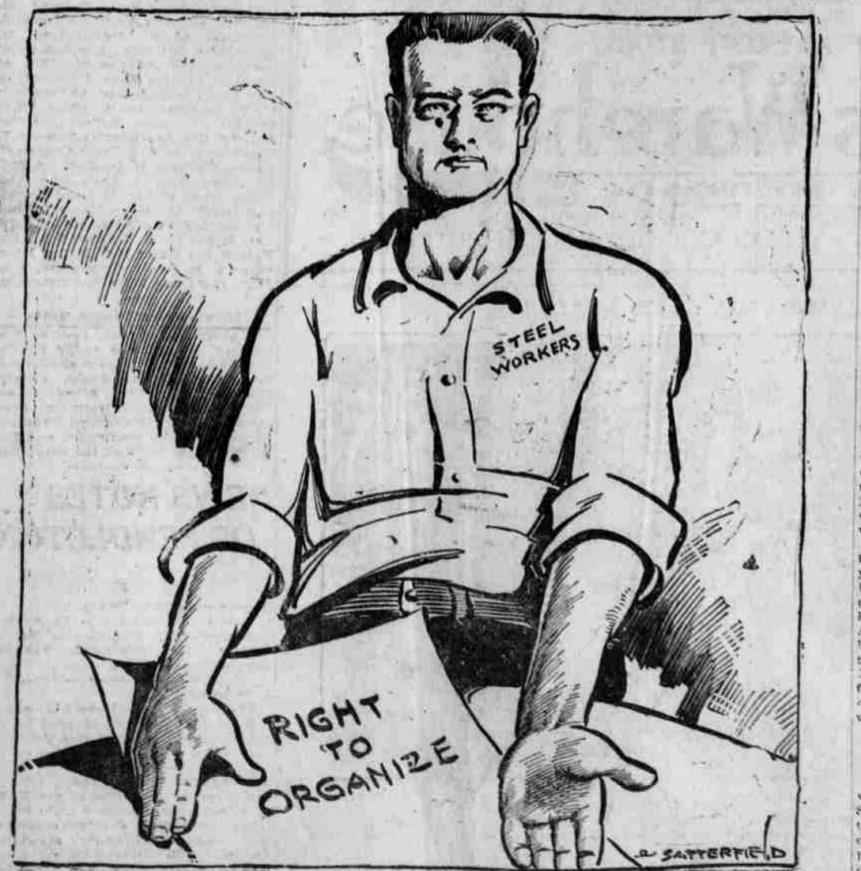

Dr. P. W. Vincent, of this city, who hunted in the west end of the county yesterday, tells a good one on two Portland hunters who arrived equipped with whistles and dogs, for a day's hunting on their father's property. After ordering other hunters off the land they put the dogs and whistles to work but up to the time when last seen by Dr. Vincent the hunters from the city were unsuccessful. Incidentally Dr. Vincent came home with five pheasants.
