The Ford Sedan, with electric starting and lighting system, demountable rims with 3 1/4-inch tires all around, is the ideal family car because of its general utility and refined and comfortable equipment. Finely upholstered. Plate glass windows. An open car in the spring, summer, and early fall. A closed car in inclement weather and winter. Rain-proof, dust-proof. What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

ARCADE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

"THE MONEY CORRAL"
AN OLD TIME RODEO;
"BILL" HART IS HERO

Years ago the rodeo was the biggest thing in the West. It was the occasion when all the wild riders, broncho busters and sure shots of the West assembled to display their prowess. Such a scene is revived in "The Money Corral," a new Aftersight picture starring William S. Hart which will be shown at the Arcade Theatre next Sunday and Monday. It was written by Mr. Hart and Lambert Hillier and they also collaborated in its direction. John Novak is the leading woman, handling an excellent supporting cast. The rodeo scene of this picture was expensive and took lots of time, but it justified the effort for it gives a touch of realism that could not otherwise have been secured. Many punchers, Indians, Mexicans, cowboys and others came to Hollywood to make the rodeo scenes and over a thousand persons appeared therein. "The Money Corral" is said to be the most exciting film that has been produced in months.

PASTIME SUNDAY AND MONDAY

"CAPTAIN COURTESY"
IS PHOToplay FOR
RED-BLOODED FANS

All the red-blooded film fans will await with interest "Captain Courtesy" which will be shown at the Pastime theatre next Sunday for it stars Dustin Farnum in some daredevil riding which few people have ever seen. Mr. Farnum is glad of this opportunity to show the public that he is actually a rider: for everybody knows that skilled horsemanship cannot be faked—it has to be done. When he plunges through a stained-glass window of the old San Fernando Mission to warn the inmates of an intended attack by the Mexicans, his spirited thoroughbred, with dilated nostrils and head aloft, becomes as much an actor as the rider himself. He sniffs the breeze, then bridges a most dangerous gap with his sleek, supple body, landing in the center of the chapel where the padre is at prayer. This scene is tremendously dramatic, and shows Mr. Farnum to the very best advantage. Herbert Standing, who has established himself in the hearts of photoplay lovers, enacts the role of the padre in a most natural and artistic manner.

ALTA SUNDAY AND MONDAY

MAY ALLISON BECOMES
LEADING COMEDienne

May Allison, the beautiful young Metro star of "Almost Married," to be shown at the Alta theatre on Sunday and Monday, is considered by the keenest critics to be the leading comedienne of the screen. Miss Allison was born in Georgia and came to New York fully determined to conquer the dramatic world. Her youth and beauty won her instant recognition and her talent as displayed in the role of "Vanity" in "Every Woman" showed that she was destined to achieve dramatic honors.

to achieve dramatic honors.

Her rise was rapid and she played in "Caprice" with De Wolf Hopper. Later she alternated in the leading role with Ina Claire in "The Quaker Girl," and was then starred in "Apartment 12-K." Her motion picture debut was made in "David Harum" with William H. Crane but her greatest successes have been with Metro where she was co-starred with Harold Lockwood and then individually, as her popularity increased. Some of her more recent productions are "Social Hypocrites," "The Winning of Beatrice," "A Successful Adventure," "The Return of Mary," "In for Thirty Days," "Peggy Does Her Darndest," "The Island of Intrigue," "Castles in the Air," and others. "Her Father's Wife" gives her the cleverest role of her career.

"NO ADMISSION" SAID

SIGN SO HE WENT IN

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 12.—There is a new sign, "No admission," on the door of one of Portland's most exclusive clubs. Bill Jessup of Seia was in the city. Bill saw the sign and started to enter. "I beg your pardon, sir," said the liveried doorman, "haven't you made a mistake here?" "I reckon I haven't," said Bill of Seia. "The sign says 'No admission,' and if it's free, I want to see it."

AMUSEMENTS

Love, jealousy and humor are the principal ingredients used by Roi Cooper Megrue in putting together the delectable comedy offering "Tea for Three" which is to be served by the Selwyns at the Oregon Theatre, Oct. 14. It might truthfully be added that the greatest of these is humor. "Tea for Three" is a comedy in the best sense of the word. Every line contains a laugh, yet there are many thrills. The plot is based on the triangular domestic love affair and yet its development is decidedly new and surprising. There is nothing sordid or unpleasant. The tone of the piece is smart and audacious yet refreshing and wholesome.

Imagine a wife loyal but lonesome; a husband completely satisfied with himself and his little routine of conventional living; a friend of the family, formerly the husband's rival for the hand of the girl, but who has worked his way through a hopeless love into a happy affection for the wife of the friend. Imagine this wife, endowed with a keen sense of humor and the friend, quick-witted and mischievous, plotting and planning to rescue Carter, the husband from the slough of mediocre middle age into which he perils in falling. Surprising things happen—the husband rouses, but his anger takes an entirely unexpected form and for a moment, the little fun-loving wife is alarmed and remorseful. The denouement is the punch of the play and the end is perfectly satisfactory to the audience as well as to the persons involved and Norman Hackett as the friend, Mildred Evans as the wife, and Hayden Stevenson as the husband are capital. There are three acts and a prologue. The action is modern, the place New York. Smaller parts are taken by Marie Newkirk and S. Sydney Cohn.
