MOTION PICTURE NEWS

What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

ALTA TODAY.

Charles Ray An Inventor in His New Racing Film.

One of the best comedy dramas in which Charles Ray has appeared for some time, is "Greased Lightning," his latest Thomas H. Ince-Paramount picture which will be shown at the Alta theater today. The photoplay affords Mr. Ray abundant opportunities for the display of his exceptional talents and that it will please the patrons of Manager Matlock's theater, is a foregone conclusion.

The story deals with the trials and tribulations of a small town inventor struggling for fame and the heart of the skittish banker's charming daughter, Andy Fletcher, the character assumed by Mr. Ray, has capped a series of inventions with a potato peeler "Little Giant Potato Peeler." He wants to raise capital to promote it and arranges a big demonstration at which he proudly notes is the banker.

The exhibition starts well but the blamé machine explodes and bombards the entire company with potatoes. And trades his potato peeler for the remnants of a smashed automobile and proceeds to manufacture a joy wagon and enters it in a big auto race. "Greased Lightning," the name he has given his speedster, balks at the start and just as he gets it in working order, word comes that the banker has been assaulted and robbed and the villains are disappearing over the hill in a powerful car. Andy jumps in "Greased Lightning," passes all the races on the track, dashes over the field to the open road and hits a pace that wins.

Pastime Today.

Today the Pastime is showing the sensational and thrilling Ruth Roland serial "The Tiger's Trail," starting climaxes abound in this picture. Jack Perrin, the handsome new star will be seen in a picture of the old west entitled "The Jack Of Hearts" and to round out a big program we offer another startling wild animal comedy called "Lonesome Hearts and Loose Lions." Some comedy, some excitement.

"DUCE DUNCAN" AT THE ARCADE

William Desmond in Cowpuncher Role For Two Days, Beginning Today.

Bill Desmond, the handsome and versatile western role at the Arcade theater today, when he appears in "Duce Duncan," a thrilling Western Triangle feature.

This picture was directed by Thomas E. Heffron, whose brilliant and realistic productions, "Madam Sphinx," "The Painted Lily" and "Pony America," are still fresh in the minds of picture lovers.

As Duce Duncan, Desmond finds himself robbed of his horse and other possessions by the convict brother of the girl whom he later learns to love. A fiery spirit, he is accustomed to shoot first and argue afterwards, but he suddenly finds himself facing a force greater than six-shooters as he gazes into the eyes of the little woman who acts as bar-maid at the "Half Acre of Hell" saloon.

Desmond engages in thrilling man to man battles. Beautiful "shots" of the cattle country, stirring western action and keen emotional situations abound in this picture.

In the cast supporting handsome Bill Desmond are Luella Maxim, his new lady, Ed Brady, George Field, Wm. Ellingsford and Joe Singleton.
