$1900 for Sheepherder.
"The other day I paid a sheepherder $1900 for 14 months work, and he had it all—save the expense of three pairs of overalls and a few dollars for tobacco," said J. N. Burgess of Pilot Rock. "But the sheepherder is a man of responsibility." Which brought up the information that in parts of Oregon sheepherders do their herding in an automobile, while they let their dogs do the footwork. "It looks to me," sighed County Judge Marsh of Umatilla, "that some sheepherders are better paid than some county officials." With R. N. Stanfield, Mr. Burgess recently held a conference with Mr. Culbertson of the tariff board at which time the Oregon sheepmen presented statistics showing the increasing costs of producing wool in recent years. Mr. Culbertson has been making a tour of the west conferring with wool producers to gather material for a report.—Oregonian.

Style

Have you ever observed that some women do not look well dressed no matter how expensive their clothes? They seem to lack that something called style.

Style does not come from the clothing one wears, but from the figure that is underneath the clothing.

Some women naturally have a stylish appearance. It is the poise or balance of the figure that gives the easy, graceful movements when walking, stooping, turning, in fact doing anything that calls for the slightest muscular exertion.

The foundation of a correct figure is proper poise of the body maintained by the means of a properly poised corset.

MODART CORSETS

are poised designed. They are designed to bring out the latent beauty of form which is every woman's inheritance, and to add every possible touch of smartness. There is a style in a MODART for each type of figure.

A trial fitting of the MODART Corset, which is free by our corsetiers, will prove to you their comfort and distinctly smart style.
