

NEWS NOTES OF PENDLETON

Jitney Dance Tonight.

Arrangements are completed for the big Jitney dance tonight at Happy Canyon. The affair will begin at 8 o'clock and will form the climax for the day's festivities. Proceeds from the dance will go to the American Legion and the Red Cross.

Umatilla County Men Honored.

Robert Claude Still, of Milton and Travis Sloan Henderson, also of Milton, who lost their lives during the recent world war, are among the former Whitman college men who are honored by a bronze memorial tablet recently put in place on the wall of the Memorial Building. The tablet contains the names of nine men.

Here To Attend Lodge.

Among the out-of-town members of the Knights of Pythias lodge who attended Pendleton lodge last night were George Root, of Hermiston, Henry Keene, of Athena, and Charles Ashbaugh and W. E. Rose of Athena.

Celebrates One Day Early.

Alexander White Hull, one of the reservation's well known red men, was found so completely inebriated yesterday evening that it required three pale faces to get him to the city jail. He paid a $15 fine for his release this morning.

Pendleton Stores Decorated.

Pendleton stores are decorated with flags and bunting in honor of the day. Pictures of Pershing, President Wilson, Poch and Joffre figure in the decorative scheme. A display of war relics at Bond Brothers store is attracting attention. The relics were collected by Rev. J. M. Cornelison, who returned recently from overseas where he was in the Y. M. C. A. service.

John McMurray Here.

John McMurray, formerly swimming instructor at the Pendleton Natatorium, is in the city today on business. His headquarters are at Spokane, where he is employed by the Vermont Loan and Trust company. McMurray recently received his discharge from the service, after serving as an ensign in the Naval Aviation.

Here From Walla Walla.

Matt Emms, who has farming interests in the Walla Walla region, was a business visitor Monday afternoon to Pendleton.

Is In Portland.

Dan P. Smythe, who is one of the most extensive growers of sheep in Eastern Oregon, is visiting in the city from Pendleton. He is staying at the Benson.—Oregon Journal.

Students Rally for Milton Game.

A final rally before the Milton game was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the high school assembly, under the direction of Yell King Simpson. Faculty members including Principal H. E. Inlow, C. S. Cramer, Miss Johns, and others, spoke concerning today's battle. All were optimistic. Yell practice and a serpentine march around the practice grounds followed.

Many Autos Despite Strikes.

On Saturday when J. E. Elkins, of the Oregon Motor Garage and Barney Oldfield visited the Covey Motor Car Company in Portland, Cadillac distributors for the state of Oregon, they met J. P. Bayliss, Detroit representative for the Cadillac Motor Car Co., of Detroit. In speaking of the Cadillac product, Mr. Bayliss stated that the Cadillac company was running to full capacity and had been all this year, however, strike conditions early in the summer, and the conditions of the material market had at times greatly interfered with production. "In spite of strikes and lack of material," said Mr. Bayliss, "the output has been fairly satisfactory and equals the best we have ever manufactured, however, there will be thousands of orders unfilled for Cadillac motor cars this year, and it is very gratifying to the Cadillac organization, both the factory and distributors, that many of these orders unfilled are being held over until next year."

WOMAN TO ASK COURT TO DELIVER GLANDS OF HUSBAND TO BE HANGED

Nice Question of Whether Interstitial Glands of Criminals Shall Be Sold at San Quentin May Be Settled by Judge.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—The nice question of whether the widow of the criminal hanged recently at San Quentin can demand that his interstitial glands be delivered to her for sale may be decided in the courts. Attorney Nat Coghlan, who defended Anthony Papara, believes the widow has a right to demand the glands when he is hanged December 19.

Prison doctors today announced that they had an offer of $10,000 for the glands which they could not accept, due to the prison rules. Coghlan believes an injunction might be obtained, preventing the agents of the state from using the reproductive glands and ordering physicians to "keep them on ice" until the legal question is settled.

VIRGINIA CITY CELEBRATES PEACE THROUGHOUT WEEK

RICHMOND, Nov. 11.—With thousands of ex-service men here from every section of the state, Virginia's armistice week celebration opened Monday. Six days and nights of varied entertainment and diversified amusements will be provided for the reunion of the men who served the country during the war.

The program includes street carnivals, parades, an indoor circus and countless receptions, dances and balls. To every affair the men who wore the uniform of the country will be admitted free, and these men are promised all the courtesy and hospitality that has made Richmond famous for a hundred years.

Vice-president Marshall will visit Richmond on Wednesday and will make a short speech from the steps of the state capitol, and will participate in flag-raising exercises by United States Marines.

AVIATORS "TAKE AIR" TO ATTEND DINNER

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Prizes won by flyers in the Trans-Continental Air Race will be distributed at the first annual re-union and dinner of aviators—army, navy, postal and civilian—here tonight.

The idea was first suggested by officials of the American Flying Club, under whose auspices the event is to be held, as a get-together celebration of former service flyers on the first anniversary of cessation of hostilities. The proposal drew in favor, however until it now includes birdmen of all branches of the service, those who have been mustered out of the service and have returned to former occupations, and those who have entered the field of commercial aeronautics.

Several flyers were to reach here by airplane from various flying fields to attend the dinner. Major Maurice Connolly, who is in charge of the arrangements, said today he had been advised that a fleet of six ships will fly from Langley Field, Va. Other flyers will come from Boston, Dayton, Chicago, Cleveland, Washington, St. Louis, Detroit and Mineola.

HINES SUMMONS HEADS OF FOUR BROTHERHOODS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Rail Director Hines today summoned the heads of four railroad brotherhoods to meet with him tomorrow to discuss conditions of railway employment.
