A SOUTHERN BREEZE

A little breeze blew from the south
 And touched my cheek today,
 A swift caress, as though some word 'twould bring;
 A sense of melancholy through the hours which seemed to stay,
 Like a feather dropped from circling aerial wing.

A tender warmth has made a glow
 Within my heart; yet cheer
 Has chilled a little since that breeze went by;
 The call of long-hushed voices I have strangely seemed to hear,
 Though somehow I do not understand just why.
 —Grace E. Hall.

A VERY CLEAR CASE

THOSE who claim President Wilson was to blame for defeat of the treaty do not mean what they say. President Wilson has worn himself out in an earnest effort in behalf of the treaty. He was never over stubborn nor dictatorial. He consulted frankly with the senate and house committees on his first return from Paris and had the league covenant amended in order to comply with requests made by senate leaders at that time. Everything that the republicans led by Lodge asked for was secured by Wilson after he went back to the peace conference. The record shows this.

During the time the senate was haggling over the treaty the president often expressed the view there would be no objections to reservations that would help interpret the treaty and not destroy it. He would not stand for the Lodge resolutions because they would nullify the treaty, not ratify it. The league of nations Lodge would have provided would have been useless to the world. The president was justified in holding out against such a farcical proceeding.

After the Lodge resolutions had been voted down by the senate Wednesday and the Hitchcock resolution of unqualified ratification had been likewise rejected the administration leaders strove to bring about a compromise. But the majority senators voted down their motions, overruled Vice President Marshall three times and refused all efforts at a compromise. They insisted on Lodge's way or nothing. Thereby they forced the defeat of the treaty and they must take the responsibility therefor.

THE WILDCAT FAD.

THE savings division of the United States treasury department is doing its best to keep the "wildcats" from getting all the money in the country, but it has a hard and thankless job. Wildcat speculation is the great national pastime now and nobody thanks the government for interfering with the game. Everybody who has a little money to lose is losing it. All that they get for it is the thrill of a great anticipation and the thud of a great disillusionment.

But disillusionment does not cure. If it did, there would be some hope. The wise wildcatters know that the victim has been stung is the easiest to sting again. He keeps on "investing" so long as he has a dollar or a Liberty bond to lose. It is like playing the lottery, or the races, with this difference: In the lottery and races some win.

"Promoters of phony enterprises and peddlers of worthless stocks seem to vie with each other in the preposterousness of their propositions, with the certainty that the one making the most unbelievable representations will be most believed," says the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

There is no use of trying to propose anything so outlandish that "investors" will not fall for it. It can't be done. It has been tried. The story is that a newspaper in an Eastern city printed a satirical warning against unsafe speculation and included a mock prospectus of "The Munchausen Philosopher's Stone and Gull Creek Oil Co.," with a capital stock of $4,000,000,000 and a working capital of $37, paying dividends semi-daily except on Sundays.

Something about that appealed to speculators. It may have been the $4,000,000,000 or the piety of the outfit implied in the candid announcement that no dividends would be paid on Sundays. Anyway, a lot of people wanted to know where they could get some of the stock.

The government is offering Thrift Stamps, Savings Stamps, "Baby Bonds" and new Treasury Savings Certificates in $100 and $1000 denominations. The only fault that can be found with them is that they are safe. They would sell better if there was a chance to lose something on them.

Senator McNary wanted the treaty ratified but he could not stand the pressure and on the final test lined up with the Lodge forces. Senator Chamberlain stood fast by the president and for the peace treaty. Had the people of Oregon shown the same relative independence that Pendleton did two years ago Oswald West would have been senator and his vote would have been for the treaty.

Any increase in pay granted to the coal miners will be paid by the homeowners of the nation. This is a fundamental fact not to be overlooked and most people are not overlooking the fact.

The president is trying hard to quiet unrest and reduce the living cost but it is a hard thing to do without cooperation from congress.

A fine way to cripple Oregon would be to adopt the initiative law provided for a four per cent interest rate. It would simply mean that the money would be loaned elsewhere in order to obtain a higher rate.

Cleaner streets would do much toward cleaner looking buildings and store fronts in Pendleton.

ABOUT THE STARS

Mars (Continued).
 Considering the probability and the improbability of life on Mars, it may be well to consider some of the difficulties contended with upon our own world.

If, for instance, there was some sort of natural barrier between the more favored portions of the earth and the polar regions, the Eskimos, Esquimaux and Laplanders and kindred people and no one had ever seen them face to face or knew of their existence, what then would we consider of the probability of life in that region? It would doubtless go without saying that life amid perpetual ice and snow would be impossible, and yet, the Eskimau is not worried. He hibernates during the long winter and spends his summer days in fishing and so long as the supply of whale blubber does not become exhausted, seems very well contented.

So it is with the Hottentot living under the blazing sun in the jungles of the equator, he never worries about his income tax nor the problem of the

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Rescipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home though, is troublesome. An easier way to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Back-achy or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feed young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 10c and 25c fourth dimension. His cares are centered upon the coconut crop; all else is an idle dream to him. The inhabitants of Mars, if such there be, live upon a world many times older than ours, and therefore may be much farther advanced in civilization than ourselves. The same feeling of pity that we look down upon the Esquimaux and Hottentots.

Mars is an old world, long since past its prime. This is known by the rarity of its atmosphere, and the scarcity of its water supply. Life if it exists at all is maintained through the operation of scientific appliances greater than any of which we know.

EASES A COLD WITH ONE DOSE

"Pape's Cold Compound" then breaks up a cold in a few hours.

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all the grippe misery.

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages in the head. Stops nose running, relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Clear your congested head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist upon Pape's!
