

News of Pendleton

John Ogle Home.

John Ogle returned this morning from a holiday visit to Portland. He reports the cold in the metropolis as falling as it is in Pendleton.

Thompson Here Today.

W. L. Thompson, president of the American National Bank, came up from Portland this morning to spend the day on business here. He will return to the Rose City tonight.

Story Hour Held Today.

Despite the vacation, the weekly story hour in the public library room was held with Miss Martha Johnson in charge. Only a small number of children attended, however, because the meeting was not advertised.

Stock Yards Man Here.

William H. Daugherty, of the Portland Union Stock Yards, is in Pendleton today on a business visit. He also has large cattle interests at Starfield and is attending to them on this trip.

Holly People Return.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, of Helix, returned from Portland on No. 6 this morning and went on to their home on the flats this afternoon. They have been in the western part of the state to spend the holidays. Mr. Anderson is manager of the Tum-3 Lumber Co., at Helix.

Stockholders to Meet.

Several Pendletonians who are stockholders in the "Farmers' Mutual Warehouse Co." plan to go to Helix Tuesday for a special meeting of the company. The stockholders of the Bank of Helix also meet on that day and on Thursday have their annual meeting and election.

Departs for Enterprise.

Miss Gladys Redwell departed last night for Enterprise, where she is a teacher in the public schools. She has been spending her vacation in Spokane and Pendleton and was accompanied to Enterprise by her nephew, George Winne, Jr., who will spend a month there.

Feature Jazz Band Coming.

Dancing to the strains of the Belmont Novelty Orchestra, of Portland, is the great attraction for next Wednesday and Thursday nights in Eagle-Woodmen hall. The band is considered one of the best on the coast and is now headed east to fill an engagement, stopping at some of the larger towns en route. "Blues" Elliott, king of saxophonists, and Ray Wilkenson, band "boss" are featured.

Moving to Walla Walla.

H. Parlett, route agent for the American Express Co. is now maintaining headquarters in Walla Walla and will move his family to that city as soon as he finds a house in the Washington town.

Zensko Funeral Tomorrow.

The funeral of the late August Zensko will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Polish chapel, the service being conducted by the Christian Science church. Pallbearers will be W. M. Peterson, E. J. Mackay, H. J. Taylor, M. A. Ferguson, S. H. Forshaw and H. W. Graham.

Bennett at Highway Meeting.

M. O. Bennett, district highway engineer, is at Salem attending the annual convention of the Northwest Society of Highway Engineers, which held its opening session Friday. He was on the program this afternoon for an address on "Field Organization and Field Problems." C. C. Kelley, who is to be transferred to The Dalles as an assistant to Mr. Bennett in charge of work in the western counties of this district, delivered a paper this morning on "Location."

John F. Wheeler Dead.

John F. Wheeler, who formerly resided on a ranch west of the city for many years but has been living at Richland, Wash., for some time past, died at St. Anthony's Hospital last evening. He had been taken ill while in the city on a visit with relatives. He will be buried here the funeral taking place from the Brown chapel, at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. During his residence in Pendleton Mr. Wheeler was a member of the Christian church and the funeral service will be conducted by Rev. E. E. Zinscharter, pastor of the Christian church.

Will Rebuild High Line.

Nearly two miles of high line carrying the Pacific Power & Light Company's power wires, will be rebuilt as soon as possible, according to Dr. P. W. Vincent. The poles now traversing the WHB Horse canyon will be moved to the edge of the hillside for nearly two miles. Locating parties are now at work laying out the line to be used. The company was spared the loss of any poles in the recent flood because the ground was frozen deep, but without that factor, the manager believes severe damage would have resulted. The change in location will preclude the possibility of damage by floods in the future.

McLain Home From Meeting.

Bandy McLain, secretary of the Central Labor Council here, returned this morning from Portland where he has been attending a meeting of the investigating committee of the State Industrial Accident Compensation Board. He is one of the three representatives of labor in the state who are members of the board. These represent the employers and three others the public. The board held a three day meeting for public hearings on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday and Mr. McLain says that all charges which were brought against the workers proved groundless. Similar charges made that of substitution of the law. The board will meet again in Salem next Thursday to draft its final report before submitting it to the special session of the legislature.

PRESIDENT SUZZALLO OF U. OF W. DENIES DEPARTURE RUMOR

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 3.—"I hope to spend the rest of my days in Seattle. I like it here, and I am settled. There is great opportunity here and I have no intention of going to any other university."

Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the University of Washington, made his customary denial this morning when told that latest rumors from the east carry his name as a possibility to fill a vacancy in one of the larger universities as president.

"This has been my attitude consistently," he said, "I shall remain in Seattle and expect to end my days here."

Dr. Suzzallo had been mentioned as possible successor to Dr. Barton of the University of Minnesota.

CARS OWNED BY MOTOR VEHICLE DEALER ARE LIABLE TO ASSESSMENT

SALEM, Jan. 3.—All automobiles owned by motor vehicle dealers on March 1 will be subject to assessment by the county assessor, according to a legal opinion given today by Attorney-General Brown. Should these cars be sold by the dealers, however, between March 1 and the date of making the tax levy in November or December, the assessment will shift from the seller to the purchaser, and the former may escape paying the tax by making a proper showing to the county assessor.

This showing must be made, according to the attorney-general, before the tax levy is finally adopted. The opinion was asked by the state tax commission following receipt of a letter on the subject from M. O. Wilkins, president and manager of the Oregon Motor Car Dealers' association.

MULTNOMAH COUNTY TO WITHHOLD DOG LICENSES PENDING TEST OF LAW

PORTLAND, Jan. 3.—No more state licenses for dogs will be issued in Multnomah county until there has been judicial opinion on the constitutionality of the law requiring a state as well as city license. In accordance with this decision a sign was posted in the county clerk's office yesterday informing dog owners that the county did not want their money at present.

District Attorney Evans is framing a test case to try out the law before further issuance of licenses is made. The state license is $2 for females and $1 for males. With the license the county clerk must furnish a leather collar. The collar costs the county clerk 50 cents and is of utilitarian rather than ornamental nature, wholly unfit for the average pet who craves an ornate collar with polished metal "doornails."

The license number is stamped on the collar, making it almost impossible that the state collar and none other be worn by the licensed dog.

STEERING COMPASS IS BOOZE CONTAINER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Police tonight admitted that they were baffled by what they called a "new one." It was the request of Lieutenant Commander W. H. Waddell, executive officer of the U. S. S. Nebraska, at Mare Island navy yard, that the police locate thieves who broke into the vessel's $5000 main steering compass of the liquid type and drained its bowl of four gallons of alcohol some time Christmas eve.

EUROPE CANNOT COME TO RELIEF OF U. S. IN NEWSPAPER SHORTAGE

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—American can expect no relief from Europe in the shortage of news print paper, according to Philip Dodge, of the International Paper Company, who just returned from an extensive tour of Europe.

The Professional Touch

is one which everyone strives for. It is attained only through years of constant practice.

That is why a "professional" grows your flowers—makes your most attractive hats—cleans your delicate gowns. It requires a master to produce the desired effects.

Through years of handling materials, we have attained the reputation of being "thoroughly professional." This is proven by the fact that the most critical ladies have their charming frocks, blouses and lingerie laundered here.

Are you rushed this week? Is your most compelling raiment soiled and in need of "professional" care? If so, telephone 179.

We guarantee to please.
