FORD

The Universal Car

Don't Depend on Spring Deliveries

Spring deliveries of Ford cars have never been certain, and they should not be depended upon. Demand has always been greater for Ford cars than the supply or production. So, if you would be sure of having a Ford car, buy it now while deliveries are possible. Don't wait—even next month is an uncertainty. Only a limited, specific number of cars has been allotted to this territory. That allotment cannot be increased, because the demand all over the country is greater than the supply or production. Get your order in now, and you will be one of those who is sure of a Ford car out of our allotment. It's first come—first served. All orders are filled in rotation. So, if you would be forehanded, if you would be certain of having a Ford car when you want it—then you will buy a Ford now. A signed order with us is your protection. It is the result of the wisdom of looking ahead. If you buy a Ford car now, don't think you have to "store" it. The Ford is a car made to serve its owner for business or pleasure throughout the entire year. Ford owners have long since come to recognize the fact. It is no longer popular to "lay-up" your car for the winter. Buy a Ford car now, and use it now.

Insist on Genuine Ford Parts.

AD PROVES HANDY AND RIGHT HAND FINDS LEFT HAND

The mystery of the missing hand has been solved. Tom Boylen, Sr., on Saturday claimed the artificial hand over which Mr. and Mrs. L. J. McAtee have worried considerably since Mrs. McAtee found it in their store last week. Mr. Boylen does not use the hand, he explained, for he is already a two-fisted man. It belongs, he said, to one of his ranch hands. This is the ranch hand's other hand. The ranch hand handed his hand to Mr. Boylen to have repaired. It was unhandy for Mr. Boylen to be handling an extra hand and when he laid it down and walked away without it, he never noticed the difference. A handy want ad in the East Oregonian Friday night restored the hand to its keeper and both Mr. McAtee and Mr. Boylen declare that one has to hand it to want ads for results.

ALTA SUNDAY AND MONDAY

"THE CRIMSON GARDENIA"
 VIRILE REX BEACH DRAMA

"The Crimson Gardenia" is Rex Beach's newest novel to be given to the cinema by Goldwyn. When it comes to the Alta Theatre for Sunday and Monday, admirers of the American author will be astonished at an unsuspected phase of his story-telling genius.

"The Crimson Gardenia" transpires in New Orleans at the height of the Mardi Gras. Roland Van Dam (Owen Moore) separates himself from his slight-seeing friends, determined to seek adventure. Masked and wearing a domino, he is accosted by Madelon Dorette (Hedda Novak) who is in search of her cousin, who she has never seen. His mark of identification is to be a black domino and a gardenia.

Each unaware of who the other is, the young people fall in love while their meeting is observed by members of a lawless gang. The criminals also think Madelon's companion is her cousin. He is a fugitive from justice and is thought to have betrayed secrets which will lead to the apprehension of the gang. When finally the real cousin appears he is stabbed by his pursuers. Then Madelon knows the truth. Made to believe that the man she loves is an enemy, she betrays him into the hands of the criminals and the succeeding episodes develop a climax no less thrilling than it is unexpected.

ARCADE SUNDAY AND MONDAY
 CELEBRATED NOVEL
 BY ELINOR GLYNN IS ADAPTED TO SCREEN

Mrs. Elinor Glynn, one of the most celebrated novelists in the world, is the author of "The Career of Katherine Bush," a thrilling story of English life and manners, the sale of which in this country and abroad exceeded eleven hundred thousand copies. The book was pictured by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and it will be shown as a Paramount-Artcraft Special picture at the Arcade Theatre with beautiful Catherine Calvert in the stellar role.

Mrs. Glynn's reputation as a writer rests upon her brilliant descriptive powers, her daring conception of characters and her artistic treatment of any theme her facile imagination conceives. Underlying her fiction is a sub-strata of truth which renders her pen portraits highly realistic, comprehensible and natural. Her dramatic faculty is highly developed, the result being that all of her books have thrills and appeal distinctly their own.

In the story of "The Career of Katherine Bush," Mrs. Glynn paints the portrait of a young woman who carves out her own career successfully but before she reaches her goal, that of marriage with a celebrated nobleman, she suffers many a bitter pang occasioned by her recollection of improprieties of her early life. She is a woman of high ideals and she risks the loss of the love of the man she yearns for by telling him of her career but instead of sacrificing her future, he takes her to him forgivingly, and both are rendered happy.

The cast is a large and brilliant one, the principals being Fred Burton, John Goldsworthy, Crauford Kent, Mathilda Brundage and others.

THE FRANKLIN Leads Them All in the Day's Run

How fast you can drive your motor car on a nice smooth straight-away does not mean much when translated into a day's mileage. Most miles per day cannot be obtained by infrequent bursts of speed, but depends rather on how steadily one can travel at a normal rate regardless of road conditions. Slowing up at every turn or rough spot means many miles lost in the day's run.

It is a common experience for Franklin owners to keep their cars at thirty and thirty-five miles per hour and to discover that hour after hour they are passing heavy high-powered cars on the road. The exhilaration and satisfaction derived from finishing the long run several hours ahead of other cars, with a marked absence of fatigue among the passengers, is what gives the Franklin pronounced preference in the motoring world.

Light weight and flexible construction smooth out the rough places and allow the Franklin driver to maintain a steady gait throughout the day. The mileage thus piled up is unexpected and a revelation to the motorist who is making his first acquaintance with a Franklin Car.

A trip in the car will disclose to you its superior roadability.

A WORLD RECORD ON A DIRT ROAD

Just to see how far a Franklin can really go in a day, R. H. Cramer of Waterloo, Iowa, accompanied by four official observers started out over the country roads at midnight Thursday, October 22nd. They drove over dirt roads exclusively, averaging 23.9 M. P. H. for the first twenty hours; then, they battled a heavy rain, averaging 23.7 M. P. H. for four hours more, to all 465.4 miles were covered in twenty-four hours at an average of 27.5 M. P. H.
