SPORTSMEN'S LEAGUE WILL SEEK REPEAL OF FISH AND GAME BILL

Feature Providing Election of Commission Members by Legislature Will be Put Be- fore November Balloters.

SALEM, Jan. 21.—A measure will be initiated by the Oregon Sportsmen league for the November ballot to repeal the new fish and game commission bill passed at the recent special session of the legislature, according to State Senator Thomas of Jackson county. The feature of the bill providing for the election of the members by the legislature has led to this determination, according to Thomas. The form of the commission is not opposed.

A companion measure providing for a new commission to be appointed by the governor will be offered at the same time, Thomas said, but whether any change in its form will be decided upon has not been determined.

In addition he said a measure will be offered similar to that which died in committee at the special session, which was intended to curb commercial fishing interests on the Rogue river. Other legislation in connection with the fish and game interests of the state may form part of the program, he said.

GIRLS WITH CLOTHES IN FLAMES LEAP FROM FOURTH STORY WINDOW

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 21.—With their clothes afire, two girls leaped from the fourth story of Stickle Brothers Furniture company's plant when the building caught fire following an explosion. They probably saved their lives by jumping, but both sustained broken arms and legs. Six girls were injured by jumping from the upper stories of the flaming building.

446 GALLONS SEIZED IN RAID OF PORTLAND CACHE BENEATH BARN

Mammoth Blind Pig is Richest Haul Since Advent of Prohibition and $2000 Stock is Store From Early Summer.

PORTLAND, Jan. 21.—Four hundred and forty-six gallons of ralnish moonshine whiskey, valued at between $17,000 and $20,000, were uncovered by deputies from the office of Sheriff Hubert yesterday afternoon in a cache dug beneath a barn, west of Linnton—the richest haul, say the officers, of home-manufactured contraband made locally since the advent of prohibition. Robert Boovich and Joseph, whose ostensible occupation was the raising of bees, were the owners of this mammoth blind pig, according to the arresting deputies, who also took into custody Sig Burger, a farmer under whose barn the storeroom was found.

The ranch where the liquor was unearthed is about a mile and a half from the Germantown-Springfield road. The booze was within the limits of Multnomah county.

Stock Stored Last Summer

All the stock found has been stored away since last summer and a large amount has been disposed of since October, according to Deputy Sheriff Christoffersen, leader of the raid. At that time an investigation led close to the Boovich place, but without results. Information now in the hands of the sheriff's office is that the still was operated throughout the summer but destroyed about October 1, when the revenue officers and deputy sheriffs began to get "warm."

The Boovich brothers, who are 27 and 28 years of age and natives of Austria, rented five acres of land from Burger, a Hungarian farmer of 54 years, and are said to have arranged for the excavation of a storeroom under his barn. The younger men live nearby on a small hog ranch.

GIRL HURLED TO DEATH WHEN TIRE BLOWS OUT

FOREST GROVE, Or., Jan. 21.—Miss Vranarda Garman, who was riding a motorcycle with Lorraine Barber on the Pacific highway en route to Portland Monday morning, was thrown from the machine and killed almost instantly when a tire blew out. Barber, who was piloting the machine, suffered a broken leg. The accident happened between here and Cornelius. The machine is said to have been going at a high rate of speed when the accident happened and the girl was thrown violently to the pavement, striking on her head. She died before medical assistance could reach her.

Roy Wilson, her fiance, and Charles Cady, a local motorist, were leading the party, but were some distance in advance when the accident happened. It is said Barber had been warned by a local machinist that the machine had a weak tire when she started. The girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Garman, who recently came here from Nebraska. They supposed she was in school but she had played truant to make the trip to Portland and the first the parents knew of her absence was the news of her death. She was 16 years of age. Barber's home is in Tillamook, and he was carrying the girl for Wilson, whose machine had no tandem.

BILL HAYWARD STAYS WITH LEMON YELLOW FOR "REST OF DAYS"

EUGENE, Jan. 21.—"Bill" Hayward, University of Oregon trainer, at a banquet Monday night, officially announced that he expected to stay with the university the rest of his life.

Hayward said he had tried to convince himself he should leave for his own good, but the associations at the university were too dear to be broken. A telegram was received during the speeches from Homer D. Ansell, Portland, president of the university alumni, saying the automobile of Hayward's choice awaited him in Portland if he decided to stay with the university.

"Bill" Steers was unanimously elected captain of next year's varsity team. The banquet was given in honor of the team, "Shy" Huntington and "Bill" Hayward.

MOORE BEQUEST TO GO TO POLITICAL SCIENCE

WHITMAN COLLEGE, Walla Walla, Jan. 21.—The recent bequest of $50,000 by ex-Governor Miles C. Moore will be devoted, according to the instructions of his will, to establishing a professorship of political science. Undoubtedly the trustees will name the professorship in honor of the donor so that his fame and purpose will be handed down to endless generations. Governor Moore felt that the clear and thorough teaching of the principles of political science was indispensable to good citizenship and to the perpetuity of the national life. Deeply interested in matters of statesmanship and politics, he was troubled for the future of his country when he saw such ignorance and narrow-mindedness on all sides and he decided that the best cure for these wide-spread ills was through the slow processes of education. It was characteristic of the man that he wished definite and explicit instruction in the particular field of political science rather than to leave the end which he wished to secure to the vagaries of a general education. The structure of government—the principles of human liberty, and the practical problems which arise in the evolution of the state and nation will henceforth be taught at Whitman new effectiveness, inspired by the generous and abiding interest of a great man who saw the vital importance of political science.

IN CONSTANT USE BY PHYSICIANS EVERY DAY

Medicinal Value of S. S. S. is Fully Recognized.

Almost every human ailment can be traced, one way or another, to impurities in the blood. So you cannot overestimate the importance of keeping your circulation constantly pumping rich, red, life-giving blood to all parts of the system. Any slight disorder or impurity that creeps into the blood is a source of danger, for every vital organ of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions. It is quite true that practically every one is equally exposed to the attacks of disease. You are just as liable to be attacked as the man or woman sitting next to you on the street car. It all depends upon the condition of your blood. If it is thin and impoverished, and has been allowed to reach a low state by the accumulation of impurities, you have not sufficient vitality to resist these germ attacks, and they find a fertile field in your system to spread disease.

Over a hundred years ago the Indians made many excellent remedies and tonic from roots and herbs gathered from the forests. One of these formulas was handed down to the white men and for more than fifty years has been used as S. S. S., which is recognized as the best known blood medicine on the market.

This fine old remedy is still made as of old from roots and herbs of proven medicinal value. In fact, physicians everywhere recognize the wonderful efficiency of these roots, and they are prescribed in some form or other almost daily.

And now after being in constant use for more than half a century, S. S. S. is more popular than ever. It is sold by practically every drug store in the land, and every druggist is well acquainted with its sterling merit, for they have seen its results.

S. S. S. is a very valuable agent in the treatment of Catarrh, Rheumatism, Eczema, Tetter boils, pimples, skin eruptions, malaria, and other disorders that come from blood impurities.

It is also without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. By its efficacy in cleansing the blood of impurities, it builds up the appetite and gives new life and vigor to the entire body.

Light Weight and Durability is the Best Guarantee of Quality

The difference between a Maxwell and a larger car is largely a matter of weight. Each carries the same average passenger weight, travels over the same roads and at the same speeds.

Per pound of metal the cost to make each is about the same. One lasts about as long as the other. The mission of the Maxwell is to carry the same load, over the same roads, and at the same speeds at extremely low costs.

That is highly efficient transportation. It is expensive to build dead weight. Therefore, every superfluous pound has been eliminated.

Light but strong metals have been used. These are the quality metals. They provide the "toughness" they wear, the ability to stand any strain and shock; and yet they are light in weight. This is the secret of the Maxwell. It explains why a Maxwell delivers a mileage—that is inexpensive—that is troubleless—but is almost endless.

The greatest efficiency economy record ever made is held by a Maxwell.

It ran 22,020 miles continuously without one single stop of the engine, carried a full passenger load, averaged 22 miles to the gallon, at a speed of 25 miles per hour.

In five years 300,000 have been built, and these have made many friends. 1920 production increases to 100,000 Maxwells.
