ARE YOU LEGALLY MARRIED?

Following is a fac-simile of what Mr. J. A. Quinn said about the picture and its worth.

Office of J. A. Quinn
QUINN'S RIALTO

812 South Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal.
April 19, 1919.
Mr. L. J. Meyers, Success Picture Company, Culver City, Cal.:

Dear Sir—The production, "Are You Legally Married?" is founded on unquestionably authentic facts that every man, woman and child in the United States should know and in which everyone is vitally interested.

It satisfied my audience during the phenomenal run of four weeks at my theatre in Los Angeles, and I can assure every exhibitor in the United States that it is a positive, sure-fire box office attraction.

If I can be of any assistance to you, or if I can help any exhibitor toward making this production the success it deserves, I will be only too glad to have either you or the exhibitor call upon me.

Very truly yours,
QUINN'S RIALTO THEATRE
By J. A. Quinn.

Verdict of press and public on "Are You Legally Married?" conceded to me: "The picture sensation of the century."

Florence Lawrence, of the Los Angeles Examiner, says: "Has a distinct appeal, packed to the doors at every performance."

Grace Kingsley, Los Angeles Times, says: "Human, poignant and appealing—wholesome and amusing."

Estella Lawton Lindsey, former Los Angeles Councilwoman, says: "A revelation of astonishing legal facts no one can afford to miss."

In discussing "Are You Legally Married?" Dr. Jessie Russell, president of the California Congress of Mother and Parent-Teacher Associations and prominent newspaper writer and author, said for publication: "It is a masterly exposition of the chaos resulting from marriage laws being made by the states. Everybody should see it." William P. Quinn, Rector, St. Andrew's Rectory, Pasadena, Cal., wrote to the author relative to the story: "I wish you every success. I am convinced it is going to accomplish a vast amount of good, bringing out, as it does, so forcibly the necessity of taking a strong stand against the terrible evil that is eating into the very vitals of our American life. You have my best wishes and prayers for its success. Sincerely yours, (Signed) William P. Quinn."

Miss Dell Gray, the young dramatist of New York, gives her impression of "Are You Legally Married?" after seeing it at Quinn's Rialto, Los Angeles, during its phenomenal four weeks' run, wherein it made all Los Angeles gasp. This young writer always sees more in a play than is there, but in this one she declares All there is, is there. Her own words:

"A legal secret has been lifted right out of the Supreme Court of Justice of the United States and laid bare and guilty before the innocent public—a secret that hangs like a poisoned dagger over every man, woman and child in this United States. It sounds like Common Law Marriages. Not it is about an uncommon law that governs marriage and is legally legal. The picture brings out this secret of our Court of Justice like a thunderbolt from a clear sky, and you literally feel batonons on your head and chills down your spine from their icy contact. And, mind you, this 'thunderbolt' is not fiction, but reality! If you are not married, you will think twice before you are—if you are married, you stay married! And if you are divorced—God Help You!"

"The Los Angeles Record speaks of 'Are You Legally Married?' on the front page over the caption and on the right-hand column front page, saying: 'Are You Legally Married?'"

WESTERN HERO IN VULCAN'S ATTIRE

William Desmond has played humorous, cow-punchers, dare-devil adventurers and whimsical characters galore, but he has never appeared quite so funny as he does on "Dangerous Waters," his latest production distributed by Exhibitors Mutual. It was made by Jesse D. Hampton for Robertson-Cole.

In this picture the genial Bill depicts himself as Vulcan, the god of thunder and patron of ironworks, hammer-throaters and other iron-fisted humanity. Clad in an abbreviated costume of cheese-cloth and accompanied by his pal, Dinny O'Moore, who is cast as our old friend Bacchus, god of booze and the grape, Desmond attends a banquet of the gods and goddesses on Mount Olympus (Ritz-Carlton, New York City).

"Vulcan" and "Bacchus" live up to their names. "Bacchus" acquires a beautiful bun by imbibing too much "nectar," and "Vulcan" uses his mallet flat on the skull of "Adonis," who gets too gay with "Venus." This is the aftermath of the orgy, but Desmond proves he's a genuine "Vulcan" by knocking the overlying tar out of "Adonis," who is a social sybarite in disguise trying to lure away "Venus," who happens to be "Vulcan's" sweetheart.

You will get a little of everything in this picture. There is humor, and a lot of it, too. The kind that reaches the vitals. There is a tragedy that isn't a tragedy. What it is, we can't tell you, else we'd give away the big surprise punch in the climax. But it ends with a fast finish—two husky men battling under midday's window, and the best man wins.

SHIRLEY MASON AND NILES WELCH ARE IN "THE WINNING GIRL"

Little Shirley Mason, who has formerly co-starred in Paramount pictures with Ernest Truex, and who is now starring in "The Winning Girl" a Paramount picture, will be seen with Niles Welch in that production at the Alta Theatre today.

Miss Mason is one of the daintiest of screen players, with both talent and beauty of high order, and has a notable record for legitimate stage work in "The Squaw Man," "The Poor Little Rich Girl" and in many other well-known and successful motion pictures.

She is in the five foot class, but when in short dresses, which she wears in many scenes of the new picture, looks even smaller. Miss Mason was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and is privately educated. She made her stage debut when she was four years old.

Keep The System Clean And You'll Be Healthy

Elimination helps to avoid colds, headaches and epidemics

ANYONE who has watched himself know there is nothing so important to health and comfort as regular daily elimination. Half of the minor illnesses of life are due to neglect of this. The five million men who were in our army know the importance the doctor attached to this function.

By all means try to regulate yourself by intelligent diet and exercise, but when these fail you will need a laxative, one as near to nature in its action as skill can make it. In the opinion of many thousands of good Americans such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts promptly, gently and without griping and will with certainty regulate any tendency to constipation that you may have.

Take it when you feel drowsy, dizzy or bilious, when you feel a cold or a fever coming on, when there is an epidemic, when you have eaten anything about which you are in doubt. It is at such times that you need to be free of poisons and of fermenting foods. You can buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. Thousands of families have it constantly in the house against emergencies.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

GEO. WASHINGTON TOO LATE TO ENTER PRESIDENTIAL RACE

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 22.—Among the belated applications to get upon the ballots of different parties of this state as presidential candidates are those of George Washington of Brooklyn, N. Y., who wants a place as candidate of the new American party; Lucy Page Gaston of Chicago, of the Anti-Cigarette league, as republican, and Whitefield Leon Tuck of Winchester, Mass., as a democrat.

As none of these applications was accompanied by petitions and all came in after the filing date they get no place on the ballot.
