"IN MISSOURIA" NEW
WARWICK PICTURE
FOUNDED ON FACTS

Much has been written about realism on the screen, but the whole plot of "In Missouri" the new Paramount-Artcraft picture which will be shown at the Alta Theatre Friday and Saturday is built around a startling incident that happened in that state several years ago. The author, Augustus Thomas, was at that time a reporter on a St. Louis paper. A train robbery took place in which a lone highwayman held up the express messenger and stole several thousands of dollars. Afterwards he turned up in a small town and was captured. Mr. Thomas took this affair and with his dramatic genius, incorporated it into a play, along with an unusually appealing little love story. The late Nat Goodwin used it for several years as a starring vehicle.

HE PICKS 'EM OUT OF THE SKY

PROMISED KISSES COST WOE, $3627

NEW YORK—Non-delivery of 15,000,000 promised kisses may have caused Miss Mary Lillian Phipps, wealthy daughter of George N. Phipps, one of the inventors of the typewriter, to sue William Russell Smith, millionaire Sunday school teacher, for $50,000. She compromised for $3627.

FORD WELFARE WORKER
STUDIES KRUPP HOMES

ESSEN, Germany, Feb. 6.—W. H. Smith social welfare worker of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, has recently been here to inspect the "colony homes" of the Krupp works. Henry Ford is interested in social welfare problems for his workers, and the Smith trip may result in some new Ford ideas as to workers' housing. Smith was deeply interested in the housing system, the sick benefits, the old age pensions, and so on instituted long since in the Krupp works.

About one third of the Krupp workmen are housed in the colony homes in Essen and outside. Many of these homes resemble in some ways a comfortable California bungalow—half cement or brick and half wood. All are clean, and cozy. All have lace curtains at the windows, a bit of vine growing about them, and altogether with an air of "Gemeinschaft"—and convey several ideas, such as comfort, decency, general well-being.

For superannuated workers and their families there is a special colony group. Also there are general hospitals and a lying-in hospital given by Frau Krupp von Bohlen in memory of one of her children who died. Down in the Rhine country is a special recuperation home for injured or sick workmen, which for a time was used by the American army as a hospital but which the American authorities recently agreed to turn back for its original purposes inasmuch as it was no longer needed for the doughboys.

During the war, the company was forced to build many barracks to take care of extra workers. Some of these are still standing, but, all in all, Essen has reeducated itself from the dwelling standpoint to almost the basis of before the war.

The Trouble Is in the Blood. That's why it is so important to treat catarrh with S. S. S. during warm weather.

Just Yellow Mustard for Backache, Lumbago

Grandmother's old musky mustard plaster of yore generally brought relief all right even in the severest cases, but it burned and blistered like blazes.

Heat eases pain" reduces the inflammation and scatters congestion but you'll find that while Beggs' Mustardine, made of true yellow mustard and other pain destroyers is just as hot as the old fashioned plaster it is much quicker, cleaner and more effective and cannot blister.

It's a great external remedy—just rub it on wherever aches, pains, inflammation, congestion or swelling exists and in a very few minutes the relief you have longed for surely arrives because "Heat eases pain." 20 and 40 cents.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c.
