WHEN THE FIRE IS BLAZING

By Frank L. Stanton.

I.
 Still in winter weather's bright,
 So no row we're raisin';
 Old World has enough of light
 When the fire is blazin'!

II.
 Life—it still has honeycomb,
 An' it's sweet—amazin';
 When the heart, it feels at home
 An' the fire is blazin'!

III.
 Never any wish to roam—
 Still the Lord we're praisin';
 For a home that is a home
 Where the fire is blazin'!

MAKE WAR GUILTY PERSONAL

GERMANY does not want the kaiser or any of her other war leaders brought to trial. It is easy to understand the German viewpoint, it is impossible not to sympathize to some extent with the feelings of the German people.

Yet the cold facts are that the German warlords should be brought to trial—not only to inflict upon them the just vengeance of the allied world—but to put the fear of God into the hearts of future criminals of this character.

The world wants warfare ended. Then one of the first steps should be to make war guilty personal. Set up the principle that men who start wars of aggression shall be held personally responsible by civilization and there will be fewer wars of this character.

The German leaders were responsible for a war in which millions of brave men went to untimely deaths and through which cruel hardships, worse than death in many cases, were forced upon countless millions.

Let them pay the price.

THE DAY OF THE ULTIMATE CONSUMER

HE expected European demand did not develop." This is the explanation given for the sudden dumping on the local market of cold storage eggs bought at 50 cents a dozen and now offered wholesale as low as 11 cents.

It is a good enough explanation as far as it goes for other swift downward turns in commodity prices—corn, oats, rye, pork products, butter, cotton. The list is a long one already and is likely to become much longer and deeper in its price-cuts before we are through with the late wild speculative scramble for the utmost individual profits to be exacted from a war-impooverished world.

The foreign-exchange market continues to tell the story of why that European demand "did not develop." It could only have developed on more money borrowed from the United States and when it appeared that the United States itself was so far inflated and extended in credit as to be unable to lend more to Europe the fall to soldier earth begins on both sides of the Atlantic.

It had to come some time, and it might as well come now, and it is coming in the only way which makes it permanently and generally effective as against the cost of living, which had become unbearable to the great masses of the people. Sir Auckland Geddes says that America has too much of the world's gold, which is the fact. A further fact is that we have hypothesized this gold over-much in circulating notes and bank credits. We must contract as Europe is compelled to contract.

The day of the ultimate consumer as against the profiteer on inflated credit at last approaches.—New York World.

A representative of Holland dairy interests is now in Portland trying to arrange for the sale of Holland butter on the Pacific coast, saying that even with the high freight rates prevailing Holland butter can be sold at lower figures than people are paying for northwest butter. It looks like the day the consumer has prayed for is almost at hand.

The league covenant without article 10 would be like a brick house without mortar to hold the bricks in place; why do the Lodge forces insist on wrecking the plan by repudiating this vital part of the treaty?

Two girls are traveling 8000 miles to marry a couple of Walla Walla men; Pendleton boys have more pep and believe in going after the girls.

The railroad men are demanding a wage increase just when there is real evidence of a coming drop in living costs.

Time for some good man to make a noise like a candidate for our lucrative county judgeship.

Dr. Stork is being blamed for the fact census figures do not measure up to expectations.

 Tuesday, Sept. 24.—The cooks were late so Westfield and I got breakfast and surprised all with "hot cakes and syrup." We didn't have any baking powder, but we used lots of eggs. The fellows didn't dare make fun of them or call them "stinkers." No one had

Born in 1839 Dr. Caldwell Still in His Office Daily

Wonderful vigor of the founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
 Millions now use his famous prescription

Physicians know that good health depends largely upon proper digestion and elimination and that much sickness results from constipation. No one knows this better than the "family" doctor, the general practitioner.

Dr. W. B. Caldwell of Monticello, Illinois, was and is a family doctor. The whole human body, not any small part of it, was his practice. More than half his "cases" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

Dr. Caldwell in the course of 40 years' practice, for he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875, had found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year the preparation was first placed on the market. The picture of Dr. Caldwell that appears on the package was taken in that year.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in the doctor's private practice. Today the third generation is using it.

Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it, for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is selling at the rate of over 6 million bottles a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Syrup Pepsin, and the formulator of that prescription is fortunately living to see its wonderful success.

Women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. While it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases, it is mild and gentle in its action and does not cause griping and strain. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby and children like it and take it willingly.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your house. Where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, these being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 521 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.
