

People Here and There

A new concrete lined canal is to be built near Hermiston in the vicinity of the Cold Spring reservoir, says Colonel H. G. Newport, of Hermiston, who is here today. The improvement will remedy the trouble experienced by the reclamation service last year because of sloughing of the embankment. Colonel Newport is head of the Newport Construction Company which has been awarded the contract for building the canal.

F. H. Swayze, Hermiston banker, was in Pendleton yesterday. Mr. Swayze is president of the First National Bank of Hermiston.

It was rather late in life that Allan Fynon discovered how many great men had birthdays in February. That is why, he says, that he just barely got under the tape before March arrived to blight his life. The young lawyer will celebrate one of his quadrennial birthdays tomorrow, having made his debut onto this earth about February 22, 1896.

The young warblers who form the O. A. C. men's glee club passed through Pendleton early this morning on train No. 4. With them was Eugene Hampton, of this city, who is a member of the club. Pendleton heard not a chirp from the boys, for most of them were deep in slumber. They are to sing in Enterprise and La Grande, and also at Echo.

"The best ever," is the way Bob Simpson, of the Simpson Auto Co., characterizes the Portland Auto Show. Mr. Simpson never misses an auto show and last year the fact that he was on crutches did not keep him from attending. Jack Childs and Warren Paul, of the mechanical department of the company, returned yesterday from Portland, making the trip in a new Ford. They say the roads are in fairly good shape.

J. W. Sayres of Portland, arrived here last night to visit at the home of his son, R. D. Sayres. He will remain for a week.

Prominent among the livestock men of the county is H. E. Whitman, of the Pendleton Meat Company. Mr. Whitman owns considerable thoroughbred stock and is head of the livestock project for the Umatilla Farm Bureau. Mr. Whitman left for Baker last night on a business trip.

Now that the republican mass meeting is over, Marion Jack finds time for a business trip to Portland and will leave for the city tonight for a few days' stay.

Joe Stadfelt of Walla Walla, was here yesterday visiting his brother, Chris Stadfelt. Mr. Stadfelt is an ex-service man and was severely wounded while overseas.

When a dog leaves home for its food one of two things is probable. It either gets too little to eat or not the proper diet. Whichever is the case with Kerry, the reader may decide. Kerry, not yet old enough to require a state license, belongs to a young but rising barriester. She has made frequent foraging expeditions to the DeSpain & Lee grocery, so frequent, in fact, that said young barriester wondered what was wrong with the food at home. But it is to be no more. "Kerry came home last night with an awful headache," her young master related today. "There's a sign on DeSpain & Lee's window which says 'Strictly cash after March 1.'"

Seven months in Calgary, Canada, have left John Vert with a vivid memory of 50 below zero weather for Mr. Vert. Both his ears while up north. Mr. Vert, who returned to Pendleton today, left Calgary on Monday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Vert, who is now in Portland but she will return to Pendleton later.

Fred Kiddle, of La Grande, will be here tonight to attend the Legion smoker. He is head of the La Grande Legion, and attended the national Legion convention in Minneapolis. Kiddle is a graduate of the University of Oregon and served overseas as a member of the ordnance corps. He is the son of Ed Kiddle, state highway commissioner.

"He was the best man of all the rest of us," said Rev. Stephen Reuben, Nez Perce Indian minister, of Lapwai, Idaho. He spoke of the late Yumsumkin, who met his death recently in Chicago by asphyxiation. Yumsumkin was a cousin of Rev. Reuben, and the two went to Washington, D. C. together a year ago. Rev. Reuben is in the city today after attending the interdenominational conference at Whitman college. He will remain here until after the funeral of Yumsumkin, whose body is on the way here for burial.

Rev. A. M. Williams, new president of Albany college and formerly pastor of Grace Presbyterian church in Portland, is in the city and will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit tomorrow. Albany college is aiming at an important goal in Oregon educational affairs. Rev. Williams is considered an active leader and the folk of the Presbyterian denomination, under whose auspices the college is conducted, hope to accomplish much in the future.

William P. Sloan, formerly employed at the Hub store in this city, is here today from Caldwell, Idaho. He is in charge of the shoe department of one of the leading stores in Caldwell.

H. E. Bickers left this morning for a business trip in Portland and the Willamette valley.

Albert Minthorn, one of the elders in the Tutuilla Presbyterian Mission and also one of the reservation's best known Indians, arrived in Pendleton this morning from Lewiston where he has been on a visit.

Albert Johnson, who has been to Nez Perce, Idaho, on a visit, returned on the Northern Pacific this morning.

J. C. Hawkins used to hold the northwest conference title in wrestling when he was learning something about farming at the Oregon Agricultural College. Now he is raising wheat on one of the big ranches a few miles north of town. "Curly" as he was known in his college days, recently joined the benedicts and today he was in the city on one of his infrequent trips.

Joe Cunha Jr., who looks after the grinding of wheat into flour and its by-products at the Echo Flouring Mills, is in Pendleton today from Echo. He expects to be away from the home fireside until Sunday. The Echo mill is operating to capacity. Mr. Cunha said today.

O. E. Ferguson is in the city today from Helix. When he is in Helix he busies himself with the operation of a wheat ranch.

W. J. Wattenburger, of Echo, is roadmaster in one of the busiest road districts in the whole country. Around high water time he has to get his men out to repair flood damage. In summer they have to straw the sandy stretches and in the early spring they have to smooth out the rough spots left by the winter. Mr. Wattenburger is in town today, there being nothing about which there can be complaint, so far as the roads in his district go.

The roads in the west end of the county are now in fine shape and the road from Echo to Pendleton is good excepting on the hill near Pendleton, says William Wattenburg, well known Echo rancher and road official. Mr. Wattenburg says that if they had a hill like that near Echo they would kill the superhighway. He is not kidding, however, and says he has noticed that a county official usually grows bald ahead of his years.

Flu and Colds How They Can Be Prevented

Sleep Well—Eat Wisely—Exercise Regularly—Avoid Persons Having Colds—Don't Worry.

KEEP AIR PASSAGES CLEAR
Inflamed Air Passages Make Ideal Breeding Grounds for Flu Germs.

Flu This Year is Milder
While we know very little more about the flu now than we did last year—the germ itself has never been positively identified—still most authorities agree that the flu germs are breathed in. If they system is in good shape and the membrane or lining of the air passages is in healthy condition—these germs are thrown off.

A good plan is to melt a little Vick's VapoRub in a spoon night and morning, and inhale the vapors, also apply a little up the nostrils several times a day, especially just before exposed to crowds.

Treat All Colds Promptly
Above all, keep free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and make them real breeding grounds for germs. Prompt use of Vick's VapoRub aids in preventing colds. For head colds, rub throat or hoarseness, rub Vick's well over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. For deep chest colds, severe sore throat or bronchitis, hot wet towels should first be applied to the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then Vick's should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red—spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck, so the vapors, released by the body heat, may be freely inhaled.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the lungs and air passages. At the same time Vick's is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, thus aiding to relieve the congestion within.

Use of External Treatment for Colds Increasing.

Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist who found how to combine in Salve form, the standard time tested remedies, Camphor—Menthol—Eucalyptus—Thyme, etc.—so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

Vick's is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds since it is externally applied and therefore can be used freely and often without the slightest harmful effects.

The best evidence of the value of Vick's is the steadily increasing number of people who have been converted to the use of this "outside" treatment.

Beginning with the customers of a small retail drug store, the use of Vick's has grown—year by year—state by state—until now more than 15 million jars are used annually. And this is in spite of the fact that Vick's is a new form of treatment to many folks in the North and West. Vick's can be had at all druggists in three sizes—20c, 50c or $1.20.
