

ALTA SUNDAY AND MONDAY

MISS FREDERICK PORTRAYS TERROR IN UNUSUAL PACE

Oh! Help! A mouse—oh help!
Is there a woman in the world who has not screamed these words, gathered her skirts about her ankles, and trembled with fear? It is possible there are a few, but to those who know this inevitable fear of a mouse, mouse, will be given a chance to sympathize with a fellow mortal on next Sunday and Monday when Pauline Frederick, the popular Goldwyn star comes to the Alta theatre in her new picture, "The Peace of Roaring River."

Imagine a woman having spent a night alone in a strange cabin far off on a mountain, where the darkness seems visible, and where the sounds of living moving, screaming things surround the lonely hut.

No wonder then, that Miss Frederick, as this woman in trouble, screams out in fright as she is aroused from a snooze on the table, when a mouse starts nibbling at her hand.

In this photoplay, are shown a number of really thrilling events in the life of this woman. She is an ordinary young girl, trying to get ahead in the world. Through the petty meddling of a country postmistress, a young miner is supposed to write to her proposing marriage. The whole affair turns out highly satisfactory after a lot of interesting by-plays, which will delight lovers of good pictures.

ARCADE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

300,000 IN BATTLE TO WIN HUSBAND IN
"THE LOTTERY MAN"

Across the public square shot a torn and bleeding man, five hundred fran-gible women in hot pursuit. His shirt was ripped to shreds, his face cut and in his eyes was the wild look of the hunted creature. He sprang nimbly upon a platform above the heads of his pursuers. They gave an exultant cry as they saw him approach the two cylinders in which his fate was concealed. A husky young female leaped up beside him and started to draw the fatal papers from the glass. With fascinated eyes—

But this isn't one of those French detective stories. It's just to give a fair idea of the wild predicament into which Wallace Reid's rashness precipitated him in his latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Lottery Man," which will be the attraction at the Arcade theatre next Sunday.
The athletic young star has the role of Jack Wright, who, to pay a debt of honor and to make a fortune for his devoted little mother, volunteers to raffle himself off as a husband for a dollar a chance. He repented of his bargain when he fell in love with a pretty girl, but it was too late. The ruffianish crowd had started. To sin the girls and to make a fortune for himself, all of Mr. Reid's quick wit and nimbleness and results in one of the most hilariously entertaining films in which the popular star has yet appeared. Wanda Hawley is the girl, and Harrison Ford and Sylvia Ashton also included in the cast. James Cruze directed the picture.

PASTIME SUNDAY AND MONDAY

FINE CAST-SUPPORTS
BLANCH SWEET IN
"STRONG PHOTOPLAY"

An excellent cast has been assembled by Paramount in that company's picture of the famous stage success "The Warrens of Virginia," which will be presented in released form at the Pastime theatre next Sunday. The play ran for a year in New York and when it was produced by Paramount with Blanch Sweet, House Peters and James Neill in the principal roles, it proved highly successful.

The story has to do with the love affair of a young couple prior to and during the rebellion. Ned Burton, a young man from New York, loves Agatha Warren, daughter of General Warren of Virginia. Their wedding is prevented by the outbreak of the war and while Burton joins the Union forces as Lieutenant, Agatha remains true to the South. Secretly, however, her love for Burton never flags and when he is captured by her father's forces and condemned as a spy, she offers to aid in his escape, but he is too proud and refuses her offer.

Burton is about to be led to execution when news of the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox is received and his life is saved. The picture is filled with thrills from start to finish and some of the battle spectacles are quite pretentious. The story is dramatic and the action never lags.
The various situations are of gripping interest and the photoplay throughout is a delight.

Miss Sweet has an unusually powerful role as Agatha, and House Peters never has been seen to finer advantage. Others in the cast include Mable Van Buren, P. E. Peters, Dick La Reno, Sydney Beane, Raymond La Strange, Lucien Littlefield, Gerald Ward, Mildred Harris and Mrs. Lewis McCord.

BACK HURT
ALL THE TIMEMrs. Hill Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Removed
The Cause.

Knoxville, Tenn.—"My back hurt me all the time, I was all run down, could not eat and my head bothered me, all caused by female trouble. I was three years with these troubles and doctors did me no good. Your medicine helped my sister so she advised me to take it. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's

SAGE TEA DARKENS
HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended on to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.
