

People Here and There

A former captain of the Portland fire department in George W. Stokes, now a member of the state fire marshal's office and active in making fire surveys throughout the state. Mr. Stokes achieved a record for fire prevention while with the Portland department, and his record is that 99 per cent of the fires which occur are preventable. He was in the city yesterday with Gilbert Allen and Horace Swain, going to Milton and Freewater to make surveys. They will be here next week.

When did Billy Dunn sell out? Henry Craig, grain buyer for H. W. Collins, wants to know. According to Mr. Craig, Barney Oldfield has bought out the Pendleton Rubber & Supply Co., for on the window, in plain, large letters, is the name Barney Oldfield, the Pendleton one, gone. Dunn has not sold out, nor has Barney Oldfield, the Pendleton one, gone into the tire business. Barney Oldfield, F. J. McMonies today took over the duties of shipping clerk at Hanley & Co., owing to the illness of Starling Laymore, who regularly holds that place.

field, the racer, recently placed his tire agency with the Pendleton Rubber & Supply Co., however, and there lies the secret of Mr. Craig's query.

A. F. Fenson of Burkburnett, Texas is leaving tonight for Portland after spending a few weeks visiting in Pendleton with Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Wickland. Mr. Fenson is a half brother of Mr. Wickland.

Harry Folsom, formerly of this city may be an oil king in the near future, for word received today by his brother Ralph Folsom says that oil has been struck near Beaumont, California, on land adjoining Mr. Folsom's property. Friction caused the oil to ignite and flames arose 200 feet in the air. Every indication is given that the oil will be plentiful.

Should you feel something tapping, tapping, gently tapping, on your shoulder and a well modulated voice requesting you to come sing for the revival services which will be held jointly beginning Sunday by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, know that the tapper is James M. Cor-nellson. Rev. Cornellson says he is toing the rounds, seeing "people here and there" asking them to swell the choir which will assist Dr. W. J. Macallum in the services. Many who chose to sing in their respective church choirs have gone astray, Rev. Mr. Cornellson says, and he is conducting a preliminary revival of his own to get them back in the fold.

Sylvan G. Cohn does business on a large scale when it comes to wholesale selling of men's furnishings. He is head of the Sylvan G. Cohn Company, recently incorporated for $65,000. Mr. Cohn left this morning for a business visit in Hermiston.

R. Alexander, of Alexander's department store, left this morning for Hermiston where he will visit his daughter, Mrs. E. P. Dodd.

When the city of Helix read that the Pendleton council planned to pay the local city officials a living wage, the wheels were put in motion to take the step ahead of the county seat town. As a result, the salary of the recorder was raised to a point where it might be classed as just. The raise was a 50 per cent one, from $5 a month to $15 a month. Not only that, but the raise was made retroactive to January 1, 1920. The extra remuneration, together with $20 back pay, is said to be responsible for the visit in Pendleton today of Victor Mason, of Helix, who happens to hold the place of city recorder there.

P. T. Idelman, head bookkeeper at the American National Bank, is confined to his home today with a slight illness. Loren Kennedy is handling his books.

JURY COMPLETE FOR TOMBS-TONE.

A small man, whose mouth is hidden beneath a heavy moustache. He is sharp-eyed and quiet. With him patriotism and love of country are almost a fetish. His attitude, often expressed from the bench, has caused the defense to intensify its effort to inject the issue of Americanism as against revolutionary doctrines of the I. W. W.

Called Revolution.
The defense will contend that the Bisbee strikers were starting an incipient revolution to cut off the copper supply necessary for a successful prosecution of the war. The prosecution, on the other hand, has announced no I. W. W. will go on the witness stand and no man will be prosecuted for putting an I. W. W. aboard the "peppercorn special."

The fact that deportations have been taken in Chicago, New York, Seattle and at almost every center of industrial conflict indicates the wide ramifications of the case. "The outstanding point in this trial," said one man, whose neutral position in the case prevents the use of his name, "is that until the case is tried and the people of the county are told the whole story of the deportations, what happened at Bisbee will be an ugly ulcer on the American industrial situation."

From the windows of the court house, looking out across Tough Nut street, the dreary vista takes in a view of Mexico, and closer up one sees abandoned but still yawning shafts of the copper mines. The steady drone of court procedure, like the monotony of the view, is broken only occasionally by flashes of interest.

But underneath the monotony lies all the bitterness engendered by one of the historical episodes of class struggle—done on a gigantic scale as only the west can do it.

Divorce Decree and Little Daughter Are Granted Mr. Hawley.
Court Makes Decision on Ground That Plaintiff's Charges of Unlawful Conduct on Part of Husband Are Unfounded.

OREGON CITY, Or., March 10.—Decree of divorce and the custody of his baby daughter, Eva Adele, was granted to Willard P. Hawley Jr., defendant in the divorce suit instituted by Mrs. Marjorie Hawley, in a decision Tuesday by George R. Bagley, judge of the Washington county circuit court, who officiated as trial judge when the case was tried here two weeks ago.

Judge Bagley awarded the decree to Mr. Hawley upon his supplemental cross-complaint, filed after the trial of the case had progressed for nearly a week, and based upon the plaintiff's charges of unlawful conduct on the part of her husband. The court holds that these charges were not proved.

Mrs. Hawley Gets Child for Time.
The temporary custody of the child is awarded to Mrs. Hawley, subject to the further order of the court, and Mr. Hawley is required to pay $250 a month for its care until the further order of the court, and the court suggests, but does not order, that Mrs. Hawley be permitted to occupy the family residence until the final determination of the case upon appeal, or if not appealed, until the expiration of the 60-day limit for appeal of the case.

SIMPLEX IRONER

Many persons think that an ironing machine is but a form of a mangle, and that as such it is limited to ironing, of the coarser flat work, as sheets, towels, etc. The Simplex Ironer is not a mangle but an ironer. It will iron practically everything except the fancy shirt waists and the more elaborate dresses. It will iron kitchen aprons, night gowns, pajamas, underwear, children's play clothes, hosiery, men's neckties, and silk shirts. It will iron better than the expert laundress can do by hand, both as to the finish and straightness of edges. It irons: napkins, center pieces, dollies, dresser scarfs, sheets, bed spreads, pillow cases, blankets, towels and handkerchiefs. Let us tell you all about this machine.
