SORTER FEELIN' HAPPY.

By Frank L. Stanton.

Sorter feelin' happy on the hilltop an' the plain,
 For we know the sunshine's comin' after every shower of rain:
 An' the flowers'll hold the sweetness for the honey-bees to drain—
 That's why we're feelin' happy in the mornin'!

Sorter feelin' happy when the skies are far from blue,
 For we know the sunshine's comin' when the daisy drinks the dew
 The good Lord made the sunshine an' the daisies all for you—
 That's why we're feelin' happy in the mornin'!

THEY CROW TOO SOON

THE senators so love the league covenant that they want to embrace it if they are first allowed to black its eyes and cut its heart out.

But President Wilson objects. Therefore, according to the Morning Oregonian, he prevents ratification. He becomes the villain in the plot. By standing on his head a man might believe that were it not for the fact authorities differ so widely.

Listen to this: Under the heading "Appertioning the Journalistic Honors in a Patriotic Fight," the New York American quoted recently from the Springfield Union: "Nobody has fought the League of Nations harder than Colonel George Harvey of the weekly that serves as the vehicle for his attacks, but in his joy over the failure of the senate to ratify the treaty he is willing to give others credit for valiant assistance."

"With evident sincerity he extends 'the top o' the mornin' to Frank A. Munsey, of the New York Sun; James T. Williams, Jr., of the Boston Transcript; Edward A. Van Valkenburg, of the Philadelphia North American, and Irwin Kirkwood, of the Kansas City Star. He rejoices with them in the 'victory' of the defeat, and they, of course, rejoice with him."

"But why not a similar salutation to William Randolph Hearst? It would be the very quintessence of generous impulse for the Colonel to make his self-selected quartet a quintet by admitting Mr. Hearst, who should, indeed, have been the very first to receive the brotherly felicitation of the Weekly's distinguished editor."

To which Harvey's Weekly in its issue of January 10 added: "Gladly we comply. Mr. Hearst rendered yeoman's service in the great cause. He may, in fact, have overdone it a bit at times, but that is a fault readily condoned."

"Considering the fact that Mr. Hearst brought a dozen newspapers, half a dozen magazines, his moving picture news service and a few other odds and ends of publicity into the fight" commented the American, "we think we are safe in saying that if Mr. Hearst had not 'overdone it a bit at times' it would not have been done at all."

"However, Mr. Hearst will probably gladly acknowledge Mr. Harvey's glad acknowledgement."

In all sincerity those fellows should likewise give much credit to the bolsheviki and the parlor socialists. They, too, fought the league. So did the Sinn Feiners, the remnants of the German-American Alliance and other hell raisers.

But is it time for them to boast? The play is not yet finished. We have but seen the first three acts, two more are yet to come. The president has been a sick man and not able to fight his best. But he is coming into form again and he has some hard punches left in that other arm. Keep your eyes open and you will see some fun. Before the curtain drops the bolsheviki and the Battalion of Death may think that Sergeant York is loose again.

NO SUGAR EXPORTED

EFFORTS to convince the American people that they are paying high prices for sugar at the expense of huge exports to foreign countries are denounced by Representative Henry T. Rainey, of Illinois, who has made an investigation of the sugar situation and learns that no American sugar is being exported.

The attention of Mr. Rainey was called to this character of propaganda by an Illinois constituent who sent him a newspaper clipping entitled "Americans Pay for Big Export of Cheap Sugar." The story was carried by a news service and was evidently inspired, the purpose being to persuade the American people that foreign buyers have been allowed to come into this country and buy up stocks of sugar for shipment abroad, resulting in exorbitant prices on sugar here while other nations are profiteering.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Rainey, "nothing of the kind has occurred. None of our sugar is being exported. We consume it all at home and the retail price here does not differ materially from the retail price in other countries. The tariff charges we make here, which we have retained for war purposes, account for the difference in retail prices between this country and England."

The monthly summary of foreign commerce of the United States for November, Mr. Rainey advised his constituent, shows that America's sugar exports amounted to 129,149,177 pounds, valued at $10,521,638. Practically none of this was produced in the United States, but came from Cuba or the nearby British Islands in the form of raw sugar and was refined in this country in accordance with the trade custom that has existed for many years. All of it was purchased by contract in those islands and merely stopped here en route to England, France and elsewhere for the purpose of being refined.

There has been mystery about how the man who stole Tom Thompson's car got across the Columbia with it after all the ferrymen had been notified by Sheriff Taylor to be on guard. A young lady suggests that possibly the man crossed the river after dark. The women are natural born detectives.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

Dog Licenses Are Due.

City dog licenses for the current year are now due at the office of the city treasurer and will become delinquent April 1, according to the city ordinance. The license for male dogs is $3 a year and for females $2. This must be paid in addition to the state tax recently collected, it is said. License money is to be paid to Deputy City Treasurer H. W. Dickson at the American National Bank and upon the presentation of his receipt to the city recorder, the license will be issued. Three persons have complied with the law thus far this month, Mr. Dickson said today.
